In a letter dated Mar. 3 from Pfc. Wm. Marshall to the Chronicle folks he says in part:

"I have now been overseas for six days. It seemed rather far away to be in California but now that distance has been doubled again. We moved from Fort Ord, Cal., by train to Fort Lawton, Wash. On the morning of February 5 we entered a boat, the U. S. S. Scott, and headed for Korea. It took 20 days to get here. It was rather a nice boat ride, except for the first few days when I was seasick.

Farmers Will Receive Higher Returns on Beans

Department of Agriculture to Encourage Greater Production of Dry Beans

In order to encourage greater production of dry beans, U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Office of Price Administration have jointly announced a price support program and ceiling prices on the 1946 crop of dry beans that will yield farmers higher returns than in 1945.

The production goal for 1946 is 17.3 million bags, clean basis, compared with 12.3 million bags produced in 1945. The 1945 crop was the smallest since 1896 because of reduced acreage and unfavorable weather. The department estimates that by the time the 1946 crop is harvested the supply of old crop will be practically nil.

At the same time, the OPA announced the issuance of a notice under which it proposes to establish minimum prices for growers of dry beans beginning with the 1946 crop. When these ceilings for dry beans are established, OPA will announce any changes caused by them in retail prices.

In a display advertisement in this number of the Chronicle, local bean buyers give the prices for the 1946 crop on navy, cranberries, red kidney, and yellow eyes and the price advance on these four varieties of beans.

Farmer-Veterans Eligible for 'On The Job' Training

Can Use Benefits Under the G. I. Bill of Rights to Learn Farming

Whatever a World War II veteran wants to do—to be a tenant, have his own place or hire out—he can use his training benefits under the G. I. Bill of Rights to learn farming. On-the-job training in all phases of agriculture is available to him. He may start out fresh and learn from the bottom up, or he may become a more efficient farmer if he was already established before he left for the armed service. Both these opportunities provided through the Veterans' Administration make him eligible for the monthly subsistence benefits of $65 for single veterans, $90 for those who have dependents.

A certain period of training is offered each year under the requirements of the act; for example—farm shop practice in cleaning and repairing equipment, a "must" in the early spring, can be counted as related training. Or perhaps the experienced veteran needs to learn better methods of farm management—this can be credited to him as a related course, too.

The veterans' counselor can provide the veteran with the steps necessary to determine his eligibility based on his service; the county agricultural agent can answer questions on land, crop yield, average labor income and the farm advisory committee can review the farm and facilities and recommend approval or refuse it as they may see fit. A veterans' institute sponsored by the board of education may provide related training. Community, county, state and nation thus cooperate to insure a fair training program to the veteran.

Veterans interested in qualifying for training should file form 1950 with the veterans' administration. Prospective farm employees should apply directly to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for approval of their planned training programs. Further information is available at the local veterans' counselors' office and from the county agricultural agent.

Bowling

City League.

With two-thirds of the final schedule already history, the race for a crack at the city championship has apparently centered in the three top teams with an outside chance for the Novak and Wilson squads to throw their challenge at the leaders. It's natural for the teams with the better records to pull down most of the publicity and so we trust that our bowling fans will bear with us as we mention a few items regarding the squads who have made the better showing.

The Wooley and Larkin teams both came through their weekly series with three game wins to show their class as champions but both must maintain their present team averages lest they be overtaken by any one of several teams that may make a sensational spurt in the remaining five weeks of the present schedule. One of the main reasons for the extra good showing of the first three high teams in the league is the fact that all team members have been in every game bowled throughout the schedule with but few exceptions, and with a full team on hand each series, it has kept the team spirits high and this has helped much. These two top teams scheduled to meet each other Mar. 25 in what may be a very deciding in either team's chances for first place, has been set over until Friday evening, because of conflicting dates with the American Bowling Congress tourney in Buffalo, where some of our bowlers participate on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The Wooley and Larkin match on Friday should be a good match to see and probably will create as much interest among the bowlers as the final match between the winners of this present schedule and the winners of the first schedule who by the way is the Landon team.

The roster of the league's high ten bowlers keeps changing slightly each week especially among the lower contenders on the list and already waiting to register their names on the high ten are Auten, Wooley, Kirtan and Willy, each with an average of 165. Five bowlers made the honor list for the week with Dillman the top man, when he laid 583 pins low. Auten came up with his best efforts of the season when he collected 577 maps, Landon was next with a 568 count, followed by Ed Fritz's 564, and Kolb's 553. The 200 or better bowlers were Wallace 227, Landon 224, Hoffman 228, E. Fritz 222, Auten 220-200, Croft 211, Dillman 211, Ludlow 202, Juhasz 201, Kolb 201.

POWER and LIGHT

STRENGTH and VISION

For 43 years The Detroit Edison Company has loaded the life lines and the light lines of the communities it serves. Promptly and efficiently it has met the ever-growing demands and desires for the necessities and niceties of modern living.

The Detroit Edison Company has provided, and will provide, POWER and LIGHT, STRENGTH and VISION.

It has brought electricity to hundreds of thousands of families at a steadily decreasing price.

It has produced energy for the growing factories that have won an industrial empire for southeastern Michigan.

It met the challenge of war by pouring each day into the mammoth plants of the Arsenal of Democracy constant, unflinching power equal to the combined strength of more than forty million men.

It is prepared today to meet the pent-up demands of peace and progress.

As a citizen of Michigan, The Detroit Edison Company looks now toward the future with confidence in the experience and knowledge of its engineers, in the energy and loyalty of its 8,000 employees, and in the ability and vision of its management.

The Detroit Edison Company enjoys the opportunities and obligations of citizenship. It is a "private citizen." It has consistently justified that citizenship, and the Company's vital place in the life of the communities it serves, by contributing its utmost to their upbuilding.

For, as a "citizen," The Detroit Edison Company does not regard its obligations as discharged with the manufacture and distribution of light, heat and power. This Company should be—and is—interested in all the things that affect the welfare of the 800,000 Michigan families which it serves.

It must be and IS interested in the broad sweep of all the things that are Michigan.

A Dated Velvet Wrap Can Easily Be Converted into a Brunch Coat

By Etta Haley

ONE of the most surprising results which home sewing produces is the new wardrobe. Ideas plus work plus old clothes can achieve not only one brand new dress or suit, but often a complete set of clothes for a whole season.

Just as sewing circles have been popular in the past, so can "remodeling bees" be just as popular now. There's at least one dress, wrap or piece of material in every home which would welcome remodeling to become a smart, clever addition to your wardrobe for spring or summer.

Velvet evening wraps, for example, are completely dated. They have been replaced by short wraps of all materials, except velvet. The long wraps which are popular even yet are made up in bright-colored wools or similar materials, thus putting velvet wraps to the farthest corner of the closet.

Velvet, however, is being shown in the smart "brunch" coats—those short robes which are so handy to have when you want to slip into something comfortable, and yet be well groomed. A brunch coat, in other words, is a short kimono, and made up in velvet, they can be just about the smartest thing you have in wearables.

To make a velvet evening wrap into a brunch coat, have the wrap cleaned first. Velvet should be dry-cleaned, rather than washed, to protect the color and finish of the material. Then rip the wrap apart completely, removing the lining, too, as it will be easier to cut and sew.

Remodel It Into a Brunch Coat...

collar, a Peter Pan type is very delectable; or, a V collar coming down to the waist will carry out the flowing lines of the brunch coat.

Quilting the Coat.
If the velvet material is not quilted, it may be left plain or quilted after the coat is put together. This is easily done with an inexpensive quilting foot attachment for the sewing machine. It is important to remember always to stitch in the same direction to prevent a pucker. Stitching is started from the bottom of the coat and sleeve, each time, and worked to the top.

When you are ready to stitch across the material, start at the bust-line. Remember the grain of the goods is your best guide to the stitch. Always select a thread which matches the material.

Problem of the Lining.
Many evening wraps have not been worn sufficiently to ruin the lining. In that case, press the lining carefully after it has been ripped from the wrap, and cut it to fit the brunch coat.

If the lining material is still in good condition, but too drab for a snappy brunch coat, then remove the color and re-dye it in a shade either darker or brighter than the velvet itself, or a contrasting shade.

Wide belts are highly favored for brunch coats for their slenderizing effect on the waist line. The belt, of course, can be made from the material left over when the wrap was shortened into the coat, and it too may carry the contrasting lining that the rest of the coat has.

Long, flowing belts are best because they can be tied easily, and they will add long, vertical lines to the garment. It will also give you an opportunity to sport the contrasting color of the lining even though the brunch coat is wrapped around and kept closed.

Patching Pointers

A partially worn garment can be brightened with new collar and cuffs, belt or pockets of contrasting material, plaid or print.

Torn seams may easily be mended if there is enough material from scraps or facings. Make the inset seem as though it were a part of the original pattern of the dress or skirt.

If you are altering a worn garment that is frayed or torn around the waist, try making small tucks which will conceal those parts. The tucks will serve to nip in the waist and add much to the pretty detail of the clothing.

When the fabric beneath a button tears, repair the torn section with a patch before sewing on the button. The patch can be double-stitched, that is, sewed on both sides of the material, because it will not show.

Old sheets can be made into eye-catching bib and tuckers for young fry. Or, they may be used for bonnets, pinafores and blouses. Dye them, if it's color you want, and be generous with the ruffled edging or ric rac for trimming.

To keep clothes looking neat and trim, go over the neckbands with a cleaning fluid after each wearing. It's extravagant to clean a whole dress just because the neckband is soiled, and this simple process will save many cleaning bills.

In pressing pleats, use as cool an iron as possible—excessive heat weakens fabrics. Wrinkles in pile fabrics such as velvet may sometimes be removed by hanging in steam over the bathtub. Small spots may be steamed over the tea kettle.

To make small repairs on a slip, use a double underarm patch. Cut two identical shield-shaped patches. Turn seam allowance around all edges of both patches and baste. Baste one patch in place on the right side, and the other patch directly underneath it, on the wrong side. Machine-stitch all around the patch. For extra strength, use a double row of machine patching.

Fashion Notes

Cap sleeves are still popular for that "bare" look, and will be wonderfully cool as soon as the warm weather turns in.

For spring and summer, you'll want big, bright colorful prints, and sleek cool white in a wrinkleproof fabric. All daytime clothes are fairly simply tailored, but for dress-up gowns you can have all the gaiety you want.

Plaid and plain prints in a coat dress style will please the mature woman because they give smart lines to the figure and are easy to keep neat as a band-box.

Back-to-romance feeling is illustrated by the choice of cotton fabrics, cotton lace and eyelet trims being popular along with plaid and checked gingham, balloon cloth and chambray.

SOUVENIR MACHINE GUN

MUST BE REGISTERED

Machine guns and sub-machine guns brought home as souvenirs from the war fronts are illegal unless they have been registered with the government and made inoperative. James M. Reid, investigator from the Bay City office of the Alcohol Tax Unit, says.

He said that these weapons are to be rendered harmless to prevent their falling into the hands of criminals and other undesirable persons who might use them in an unlawful manner if left in an operating condition.

The National Firearms Act, which requires these registrations, states that all weapons which are capable of firing more than one shot with a single pull of the trigger, weapons having a detachable stock and firearms having a barrel length of less than 18 inches must be registered with the Bureau of Internal Revenue. These weapons are subject to a $200.00 transfer tax when transferred from one person to another, if the guns are in an operating condition. If rendered inoperative they may be transferred tax free.

The government has no intention of confiscating these firearms which the returned soldiers prize as souvenirs. It merely asks that the veterans turn them in to their local police agency, where they will be inspected and if registration is required, they will be held pending such registration by the government. Registration forms will be made and sent to Washington. After the application has been approved, the weapons will be rendered inoperative by welding the firing chamber shut and welding the barrel to the frame. This method does not spoil the appearance of the firearm. When this is done the gun is returned to the owner so that he may keep it as a souvenir.

A penalty of not more than $2,000.00 fine and imprisonment of not more than two years, or both, is provided for willful violation of the National Firearms Act.

Patching Garment

If you wish to patch a foundation garment use a tiny cross stitch around the edges of the patch. The cross stitch makes for elasticity. For a patch on a heavy suit of underwear use light weight knit material. It's less bulky.

Hash Potatoes

To get the best hash brown potatoes, cook over a low heat and do not stir the potatoes, say home economists.

LET'S STOP FEEDING INFLATION

You know what happens...

When you continue to spend more than you make and...

Keep on borrowing to make up the difference!

You know too, that a big chunk of every dollar you earn and every dollar you spend goes to pay the cost of government.

That's why it's important for you to take a good look at the way the government spends your dollars.

Government should begin now to live within its means

During the war government necessarily spent huge sums of money. Yet, with the war over, the government plans to spend four times as much in the coming year as it spent in the highest pre-war year.

Most thoughtful people believe that government expenditures are now far greater than they need be.

They believe that government, like a family, should live within its means... that it should not spend more than it takes in... that it should not keep on going deeper into debt.

Yet that is exactly what's happening today. Our government is spending billions more than it takes in. And it continues to borrow to make up the difference.

This is the kind of money-handling that causes inflation.

Economy in government means money in your pocket

If the American people—through Congress—will reduce government spending and take steps to encourage production, inflation will be stopped... and this is the only way it can be stopped.

Write your representatives in Congress today.

Urge them to cut the cost of government, eliminating all waste... all unnecessary services... and postponing all expenditures that can be put off until our war bills have been paid.

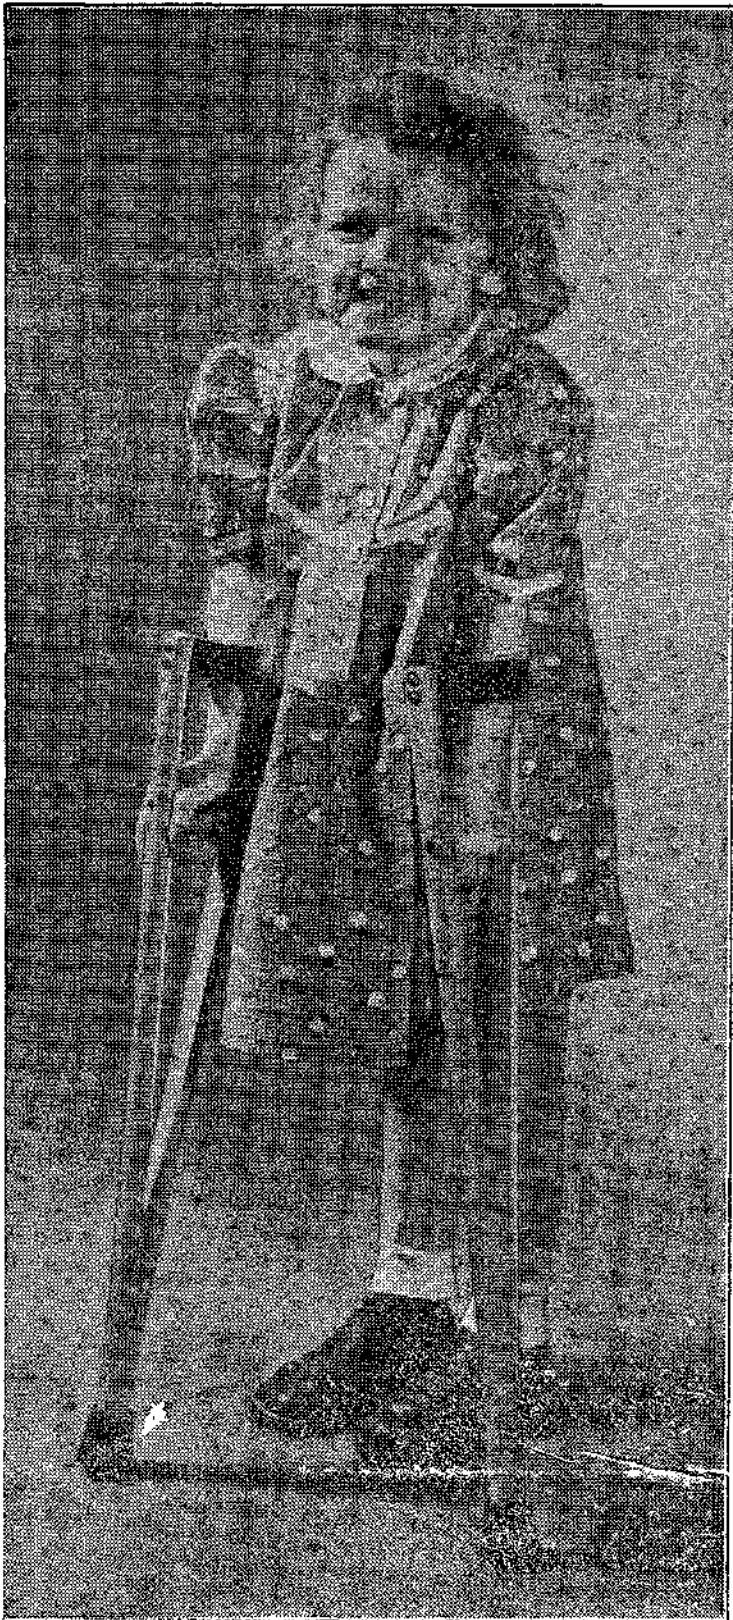

Urge them to make the government start living within its means... at a level that you and your neighbors can afford to pay.

You'll see the results soon in the cost of everything that you buy... food, clothing and everything else. And you'll be doing your country a real service.

YOUR DOLLARS... a postcard to the National Association of Manufacturers, 14 West 49th Street, New York 20, N. Y., will bring your copy of this informative booklet on government spending—a subject which is all-important to you.

O. H. BLAIRS ENTERTAIN FARM BUREAU

The Sheridan Community Farm Bureau met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Blair on Monday night, Mar. 18. In spite of bad road conditions, 28 members and friends were present.

Mrs. John Ramseyer led in group singing with Mrs. Thos. Campbell at the piano. Roll call was answered by a current event.

Mrs. Blair gave a report of the meeting of the Farm Bureau Women's Association held in Elkton. She talked regarding a health program of which the people were asked to give consideration. At present Huron county has no county health nurse. This subject was held over until the next meeting for further consideration.

Joseph Ternis, chairman of the finance committee, gave a splendid report of the party held for the benefit of the local and it was voted that a donation be given to the Red Cross.

Mrs. Dugald Leitch, discussion leader, took as her subject, "The cooperative way of doing business and the long term plan." Cooperatives are private enterprises and therefore are a part of our American system of free enterprises, said the speaker. This resulted in a discussion and it was decided that out of such cooperation would come a better understanding, a closer working relationship and a more unified voice on commodity problems. Mrs. Leitch also stressed a clean-up week to improve gardens and yards and make homes more attractive places to live in.

For recreation, Mrs. Ernest Wills led in a quiz which was educational and entertaining.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ramseyer.

NOT ON MENU

Wally—Do you serve ladies at this counter?
Waitress—Oh, no, you have to bring your own!

Hard to Decide
Jean—I don't know what to do. A dairyman and a butcher have asked me to marry them.
Joan—That's easy. It's just a case of marrying for butter or worst!

His Own Responsibility
Father—Yes, my boy, I'm a self-made man!
Son—Gee, Pop, that's what I admire about you: you always take the blame for everything!

Serious Case
Mr.—I went to a doctor today about my loss of memory.
Mrs.—What did he do?
Mr.—Made me pay him in advance!

Helpless
Hubby—It tells here about a man who stayed home with his wife every night for thirty years.
Wife—Ah! That was true love!
Hubby—No, it wasn't. It was paralysis!

NEW JEEP UNVEILED!

THE postwar Jeep, just unveiled to the public by Willys-Overland Motors, combines the four basic functions of tractor, light truck, mobile power unit and passenger conveyance. Photo at top shows the new Jeep pulling a spring tooth cultivator. Other farm applications include disking, mowing, raking, threshing, baling, shelling and grinding corn, operating manure spreader, filling silo, and sawing wood. Picture at bottom shows the new Jeep performing one of its less arduous tasks: taking the family on a picnic.

Hard Times
Mr.—If things get too bad, we may have to start using our old wood burner.
Mrs.—Oh, well, there's no fuel like an old fuel!

Unsuitable
Bill (on farm)—See if you can dig up some clothes to put on the scarecrow.
Farmer—How about this suit my son wore at college?
Bill—Won't do—I want to scare the crows, not make them laugh!

In Danger
Clancy (on phone)—Hello, Nancy. Is your house on the carline?
Nancy—Yes, of course, why?
Clancy—Well, you'd better hurry up and move it; there's a car coming!

Easy to Get to
Mrs.—If I were to die, would you mourn for me?
Mr.—Of course I would!
And would you visit my grave sometimes?
Mr.—Of course, why ask such a foolish question? You know that the cemetery is right on the way to the golf links!

Like that we left in California. Spring is just starting now.

"The people here are just like I was told many times by missionaries. The women dress in very bright colored clothes while the men dress in very sloppy pants and shirts. They look something like Japs with straight black hair and dark skin.

"We came within 400 miles of the Hawaiian Islands on our trip over here. Coming around the southern part of Japan, up into the Yellow sea, we landed at a small port town named Jinsen. Then we boarded a train and went 25 miles inland. We are now only a short distance from the capital of Korea, Seoul.
