

McLellan Sells Creamery Business To Detroit Company

New Owners Plan to Enlarge Building to Cover Entire Village Lot

The Ebling Milk Company of Detroit, on Monday, purchased the creamery and cheese manufacturing business of M. C. McLellan, together with the creamery and egg hatchery buildings of Mr. McLellan on East Main St. The real estate covers a full village lot, 66 by 182 feet.

The Ebling company are extensive manufacturers of ice cream, butter and other dairy products. They plan to dismantle the frame building used by the egg hatchery and enlarge the creamery building to cover the entire lot. This enlargement of the plant together with the installation of ice cream manufacturing and milk bottling equipment will involve an investment of $50,000 to $100,000, it is estimated.

Mr. McLellan, who has been in business in Cass City since January of 1930, will retain the egg hatchery and will move the equipment of that business as soon as a suitable building can be located.

Plans Announced For Emergency Food Collection

Special Offerings to Be Taken in Churches Here on Sunday, May 19

"The fate of the world," Mr. Hoover rightly insists, "depends on what happens during the next few weeks"—by way of voluntary cooperation in food-saving, release and conservation of grains for food, and by contributions to the Emergency Food Collection which is being sponsored on a national scale, and indeed in other countries also. President Truman has termed the situation as "the greatest threat of mass starvation in the history of mankind."

Cass City as usual is organized to cooperate in the national effort of the E. F. C. as was announced in the Chronicle last week.

The local committee of which Mrs. Edward Pinney is chairman, voted to have money contributions rather than a collection of canned goods. The latter would entail considerable detail in collecting, packing and shipping. Furthermore, the UNRRA can purchase the supplies to better advantage—saving money, time and effort, which the national headquarters recommends where possible.

Mrs. E. L. Schwaderer, chairman. Concluded on page 8.

Presbyterians to Honor Service Men on Family Night

At the church family night supper on Wednesday, May 15, at the Presbyterian church, those on the church honor roll now discharged or home from military service will be guests of honor.

The supper (with potluck arranged by families, friends or neighborhood groups, each bringing his or her table service) will be served at 7:00 p. m. by a committee from the Ladies' Aid Society.

The guest speaker of the evening will be the Rev. Joseph Kennedy, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Mt. Clemens. Mr. Kennedy served as pulpit supply of the local church for a short period during his pre-seminary years at Alma College and is graciously remembered by many of the congregation and other acquaintances who are looking forward to meeting and hearing him. "Joe" is a witty and able preacher and after-dinner speaker according to the local pastor who was a college friend and fraternity brother of Mr. Kennedy.

Junior Class Honors 70 Seniors At Banquet Friday

Gym Was Attractively Decorated to Represent Circus "Big Top"

The junior class of Cass City High School honored the 70 members of this year's graduating class with a banquet and prom on Friday evening, May 3. The school gymnasium was decorated to represent a circus "big top." The ceiling was banked in with red and yellow streamers radiating out from a large centerpiece filled with balloons. The sidewalls held a parade of circus clowns with balloons, strings of pennants, and a menagerie wagon with the program theme on its banner. The banquet tables were colorful with their merry-go-round program covers, a trained dog act on its place cards, and crepe paper. A raised orchestra platform was set up in one corner of the gym and decorated.

The juniors gave their guests, the seniors, faculty and board of education, a "stupendous" evening of entertainment and refreshments. The banquet started at 6:30. Vernon Waite led the group in the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and Mrs. Mary Holcomb gave the invocation. The dinner was prepared by the school's cafeteria staff under the direction of Mrs. Hudson and Marjorie Myerholtz. Twenty-four sophomore and freshman girls acted as waitresses and were specially costumed for the occasion. Between courses, singing and "command couples" parades around the tables filled in all unscheduled time.

The after dinner program was. Concluded on page 8.

Tomelonsen, who then romped home on a hard double by Putnam. The game continued on the 1-0 score until the fifth inning when Caro again pushed over a run on two hits. In the bottom half of the fifth, Cass City scored a tally on two singles by Ashcroft and Thane and an error on Caro's part. The sixth inning proved to be. Concluded on page 5.

When you leave your house or retire at night, be sure fires are properly banked and checked for safety.

Thaw Poultry
When thawed before cooking, poultry cooks more evenly and with greater economy of fuel. It may be thawed slowly in a refrigerator. A three or four pound bird will take overnight or longer to thaw completely, or it may be thawed at room temperature, in which case it should be watched closely. Once thawed, cook poultry without delay because thawed meat is more perishable than meat freshly killed. Don't try to hurry thawing by soaking the frozen meat in water, hot or cold. Soaking causes loss of good juices.

La Befana
Christmas in Italy is known as Natale, and is considered a feast, but the real equivalent of Santa Claus there is "La Befana," a legendary old woman of Palestine who brings gifts to the children on January 6, Feast of the Epiphany. According to the legend she would not leave her household duties to see the Three Wise Men as they passed on their way to visit the Christ Child, saying she would see them as they returned. But they returned another way and she is still waiting to see them.

Egypt's Garden
Nine miles below Cairo the Nile divides into the two main branches of its delta. This area is referred to as "the Garden of Egypt" and is a maze of small streams and canals which pierce rich farm land. The Nile enters the Mediterranean, on the west at Rosetta, and on the east at Damietta. Both of these towns were commercially important until the opening of the Suez canal, and the development of Alexandria.

Spinach Nutritious
Spinach is an excellent source of vitamin A for normal growth, good health and good eyesight, and vitamin C for sound bones and teeth. It also has B vitamins, especially thiamin, riboflavin and niacin, important for steady nerves, good appetite, and general well being. Spinach also contains some needed minerals.

Salad Dressing
Cabbage salad may be hot dressed or cold dressed, depending on whether a wilted or a crisp salad is wanted. Hot dressing with shredded cabbage somewhat, and this limpness is preferred by some. For those who want their cabbage crisp, add cold dressing, well seasoned with mustard and celery seed.

DEAD LANGUAGE?

A lady entered a bookshop recently and asked for a Latin-English dictionary. "One of those double-column things," she explained, "so you can learn to order coffee and call a taxi."

The prospect of putting the language of the ancients to such utilitarian purpose rather intrigued the clerk. He made further inquiries and was rewarded by a rather astonishing disclosure. "I need this book," said the prospective patron, "because I am going to Latin America."

Quilted Bedspread Makes Fine Jumper for a Teen-Aged Girl

By Ertta Haley

THOSE lovely quilted bedspreads of which we are so fond for dressing up our bedrooms begin to show wear after a few seasons. Perhaps it is a pity that the lovelier materials do not last longer, but do not despair. There's fine material in these bedspreads for quilted jumpers for the girl in her teens.

Quilted jumpers for the younger set are just the thing to wear for household duties. They keep the dress from getting soiled, and because of their loveliness, they often lend glamour to the menial tasks such as dusting or straightening up to which every girl must devote some of her time.

The principal function of these jumpers is to add a bit of color, gaiety and charm. For this reason, the loveliness of these old, wornout bedspreads are truly ideal. See that the spread is well laundered and pressed before you begin working on it. In many cases, these spreads are just made of cotton, without little or no filler. If you are not certain of material laundering well, then have it dry-cleaned.

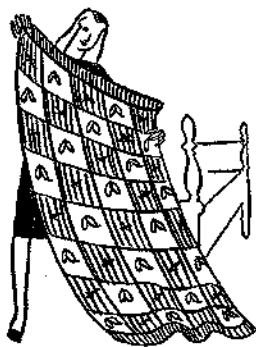

Patterns for jumpers are extremely simple to cut and easy to sew. They consist of a square neck, usually, perhaps a bit of ruffle over the shoulder, a nipped-in waist and seamless skirt.

By the way, if the bedspread has a white background with a print on it, you might like to dye it. Even though the background is an attractive pastel, the print will show through.

Essentials of Laying

Pattern, Cutting

Before you attempt to cut the jumper from the material, make sure that the fabric is straightened out. Stretch and straighten the goods until both lengthwise and crosswise grains line up perfectly. Never pull so hard as to damage or tear the fabric. If necessary, press the fabric if you have a lot of cutting to do.

You will find chalk marks and tailor's tacks of inestimable value as a guide to sewing and fitting the pieces together. These should be made in contrasting color so they will be easy to find. Both sides should be marked in exactly the same way.

Before you start cutting, make sure that the pattern—whether it be a professional or a home-made one—fits. Then there will be no major alterations, once sewing and fittings are started.

It may be necessary to lay the pattern out several times before you can make it fit the material. This is especially true when you are making a garment out of old material, for then pattern layouts, which are made with new material in mind, will be of little help.

For the simple jumper which I have described, you will need only these parts: front bodice (made without sleeves); back bodice; back of skirt and front of skirt—two pieces, since no gored or seam effect is desirable on this quilted type of material and then the two or three-inch band which will circle the waist. If ruffles or capped effect over the shoulders is desired, this will add two more pieces to the pattern.

Sew the shoulders together first, then the side seams. Finish the skirt next, by stitching the side seams, then fit the skirt to the waist band and to the bodice, put in place carefully, baste, and sew. The capped effect over the sleeves may be added after the jumper itself is finished.

In a quilted material of this type, it is best to make the garment three to five inches shorter than the dress. No large turned seam should be used, as this will make the hem too bulky. Rather, it is best to use a narrow binding at the skirt and turn a little of the quilting underneath (so the band will not show on the outside), press carefully, and then hem in place.

Sewing Heavy Fabric Needs Special Care

It's the wise woman who will test her sewing machine on the type of fabric she is using before she attempts to do any sewing on the garment itself. It may be that the needle is too light or too heavy. Special attention should be given to the thread—remember that the bobbin and the needle should have the same type of thread! And last, but not least, check the tension on the machine to make sure you are getting nice stitches without any forcing or pulling. In ideal sewing technique, the tension, stitch and thread work in such accord that they seem to flow out of the machine without any restraint. Every stitch should be straight and perfect.

In learning how to stitch straight, mark pieces of paper with straight lines, squares and triangles. Take the thread out of the machine and the bobbin out of the machine and practice stitching on the marked lines. Turn the corners accurately and keep spaces even.

Pockets may be placed on the jumper if desired, provided the material used is not so heavy as to make the finished garment bulky, appearing or stitching too difficult. The hems at the tops of the pockets must be placed in first before the pockets are placed and sewed onto the garment.

Stain Removal

One of the problems in the up-keep of clothing is the removal of stains. There is no single set of directions that can be given for success every time, because stains and fabrics vary greatly. Some of the general tips for stain removal, however, should be part and parcel of every woman's knowledge.

Stains should always be removed before they set in the fabric. Soap and water make an excellent solvent for many stains but will be harmful if the fabric will not stand water. Ammonia must be used cautiously as it may remove the color from certain fabrics.

Sheer fabrics like crepe and chiffon can stand but little sponging, so place an absorbent pad underneath them and pat the stain lightly with a solvent, following immediately with a dry cloth.

Lipstick, one of the commonest stains, should be removed by washing out, if possible. If the fabric is not washable try a white petroleum jelly and sponge with carbon tetrachloride, available at the drug store.

Spring Fashion Notes

Dresses of pure silk are very stimulating indeed, probably because of the price of the material for one thing; and other, because the lovely designs of the fabric look best in simple classic form. Black crepes are decorated with lace inserts. Chiffon seems to be ready to return to the fabric world, and shantung is being used for dress suits.

White pique is another trimming that is giving that crisp touch to spring and summer ensembles.

Gray and black are two important shades for suits this spring. The jacket usually carries the stripe, the dolman sleeves and a lacy jabot or neckpiece add smart notes to the costume. Hats will pick up the different shades in the suit itself.

Mrs. D. A. Krug visited with friends in Detroit Friday and Saturday.

Rev. S. P. Kim is in Ionia this week in attendance at the annual meeting of the Michigan conference of the Evangelical Church. Miss Helen Hower is attending as the lay delegate from the local Evangelical Church.

At a session of the Administrative Council of the Evangelical Church Friday evening, Lawrence Buehrly was chosen president; U. G. Parker, vice president; Frank Weatherhead, secretary; and Miss Helen Hower, youth counselor.

Horace V. Pinney left Monday in company with Mr. Kent of El Campo, Texas, an army "buddie" on a two weeks' trip to Quebec and some of the New England states. They plan to visit in Pennsylvania some veterans whose friendships they formed overseas.

Mrs. Geo. Mercer and Mrs. Ralph Partridge returned recently from spending nearly a week with relatives at Woodstock, Ont. Their sister, Mrs. Lee Cove, also spent the same time there. Leslie Goodall, father of the ladies, sold his home in Woodstock and his household goods at auction while the women were there. Due to poor health, he has given up his own home and will live with his son, Harry, near Woodstock and visit his daughters here.

Relatives here received word on Tuesday of the death earlier that day in Joliet, Ill., of Mrs. H. S. Lyon (Jennie Burt), formerly a resident of this and the Wickware communities. Her husband preceded her in death and she is survived by two sisters, Miss Ida Burt of Jackson and Mrs. Lewis Alsager of Bison, South Dakota, and one brother, Wm. Burt, of Coronado Beach, Fla. Mrs. Clarence Burt and Miss Mildred Sowden left on Tuesday to attend the funeral. Mrs. Alsager of Bison was also going to Illinois for the service.

Mrs. E. Hunter returned home Wednesday from a six weeks' visit in the home of her son, Caswell Hunter, in Estes Park, Colorado. Mrs. Hunter left Denver Monday morning arriving Tuesday evening in Chicago where she spent the night with her sister, Miss Mary McIntyre. Miss Jacqueline Middleton, daughter of Mrs. B. L. Middleton of Crosswell, formerly of Cass City, was also a guest of Miss McIntyre Tuesday night on her way to California. "Jackie" is a member of the Waves and was returning to her station after a 30-day leave. Mrs. Hunter was met in Inlay City Wednesday afternoon by her niece, Miss Nancy Schwaderer, and Miss June Schwaderer.

Storing Foods Properly
When storing food in the refrigerator remove paper wrapping from all except frozen food, say home economists, explaining that paper acts as insulation and hinders the cold from getting at the food. Instead, use covered containers for all refrigerated food except uncooked meat, and cover that lightly with waxed paper.

the visitors' downfall when Hillaker, first at bat in the inning, pounded out a double, followed by singles by Hartwick, DeLong and Thane, to drive in two runs and take a 3-2 lead which proved to be the winning margin.

Cass City's batters pounded Knowland for seven hits while Strickland and Hartwick held Caro to five safeties. Hartwick who replaced Strickland after 4 1/3 innings was credited with the win. The victory gives the local team four wins in as many starts in league competition.

Dehorning Cows
Dehorning dairy cows no longer needs to be a painful ordeal, according to veterinary authorities. A method has been devised for injecting a local anesthetic into the nerves that supply the horns. The horns can then be removed with no more pain than when the dentist extracts an infected tooth.

Poultry Production
Three of the most important cost items in poultry production are feed, labor and depreciation.

Excess Fat
Some animals take on considerable fat in late fall before they turn in for the winter. Remove all fat from raccoon and beaver meat before cooking because the fat has a strong odor. Excess fat on woodchuck and opossum may be removed to keep the meat from being greasy but is good in flavor.

Poultry Nutrition
Chicken and turkey meat contain protein, riboflavin, iron, thiamine and nicotinic acid.

How Americans Use MILK

Consumed:

TOTAL 373 qts.

Source: U.S.D.A. N.D. 46

Americans consumed more than half of their dairy products as milk and cream in 1945 according to preliminary estimates by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. About 206 quarts of milk were needed to fill the milk and cream requirements of each individual. Butter was next on the list, about 102 quarts of milk being required to make the meager amount of butter the average American got last year. Cheese, ice cream and concentrated milk follow in the order named.

Even the consumption of these quantities of dairy products leaves the average American far short of his nutritional needs, states the National Dairy Council. Such nutritional goals call for an increase of about 40 percent in cheese consumption, 70 percent in ice cream and 50 percent over last year's unusually high milk consumption. In order to equal the amount of butter consumed per capita in normal times in Canada and New Zealand an increase of more than 100 percent is called for in the United States.

DEFORD

Explosion Damages Building—
A large air compressor in the repair room at the R. E. Johnson building exploded on Saturday at 11:30 p. m. The detonation awakened most of the townspeople who were asleep. The concussion rattled windows in nearby homes, and the repair room where it was located, was blown out on all sides. A large hole was made through the roof, a partition was blown out and one side of the building was made into kindling wood, splinters flying for several rods in various directions. Evidently the automatic switch had failed and the motor did not shut off, creating a very heavy air pressure. Fortunately no one was present.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rayl and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Childs near Akron.

George Jacoby is having vast improvements made in the Jacoby building and will soon have a fine suite of rooms above the post office ready for occupancy by the family.

William Zemke has made the sale of the former John Reid farm, 2½ miles west of Deford, to an outside family who will occupy the farm soon.

Mrs. Lloyd Cox of Harbor Beach was a guest on Monday of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Cox.

Rev. W. S. Hubbard of Kingston was a dinner guest on Monday at the H. D. Malcolm home.

Gerald Hicks and Miss Elsie Towsley spent Saturday evening and Sunday as guests of Miss Towsley's cousin and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Metzger, in Port Huron.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Purdy spent the week end and several days of this week on a trip to Chicago.

Wm. Zemke was a visitor at Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stewart were Sunday afternoon visitors in Caro at the John Weiland home.

Mrs. Hubbard, Sr., of near Elsie is visiting relatives and friends in Deford.

Olive Slack of Detroit spent Sunday at the home of her father, John Slack.

Mrs. Lida Ives is getting very weak. She has taken no nourishment of any kind for four weeks, excepting water.

The birthday anniversary of Mrs. Howard Retherford will occur on May 11. The occasion will be observed at a family dinner party in the home of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arleon Retherford. Her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Smith, of Kalamazoo will be in attendance. We cannot tell her age until we see the amount she places in the Sunday school birthday box.

Mrs. Nick Slivar went to Detroit Saturday to spend a week with her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex McCarty and Mr. and Mrs. Allan McCarty and son, A. J., of Tyre, Mrs. Ray McCarty and children, Jim and Deanna, of Gary, Ind., and Jacob Freiburger of Argyle spent Sunday afternoon with Joseph Trudeau and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sefton.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Shingled have been away for some weeks at the Shingled farm near Merrill. They returned home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rayl were Saturday visitors at the home of their son in Avoca, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rayl.

Seven Dollar Beans

THE PRESENT DEMAND FOR MICHIGAN NAVY BEANS IS GREATER THAN EVER BEFORE

To encourage greater Navy bean production to supply domestic needs and to send to famine areas, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that the 1946 market price for Navy beans will be supported at $7.00 per cwt. to the growers, hand picked basis. This is an increase of 75 cents over the 1945 price.

Michigan leads the nation in bean production. Last year's short crop is sending buyers elsewhere for beans. Keep Michigan out in front. Protect your future market by filling the present demand.

MOW HAY CURING

The Proven Way

To Greater Farm Income—

Mow curing of hay is a practical and efficient method of producing more higher-quality hay from the same field. It is a proven method which has been put to use by hundreds of farmers—and the system pays for itself in one season.

Hay is allowed to dry in the field for 4 or 5 hours, during which time the moisture content is reduced from 75% to 45%. The hay is then stored in the mow—on the same day it is cut—and the curing is completed by forcing air through it with an electrically driven fan.

Mow Cured Hay Is the Best Substitute for Fresh Pasture

Forage crops can be cut at the right stage of maturity and cured in a way that conserves the leaves and most of the green color. The result is hay with double the protein and carotene content. In your herd this higher quality hay means better physical condition, longer productive life, greater milk production, and milk of greater vitamin content—all of which means greater profit to you.

Consult our Farm Service Advisor at the nearest Detroit Edison Office. He will be glad to give you detailed advice on a mow hay curing system especially suited to your needs.

Pay Arithmetic Wins Vets Back

Find Army Salary Is Much Higher Than in Jobs In Civilian Life.

NEW YORK.—Sweet smiles, tender sergeants' voices and alluring salary arithmetic are luring thousands of former servicemen back into the army after a quick look at a confused civilian world short on housing but long on income taxes and $30-a-week jobs for ex-majors.

This was clearly evident in a visit to the Second Service command's recruiting headquarters, where veterans are bouncing back into an accustomed life in an atmosphere of warmth and good will reminiscent of college homecoming week.

For most of the re-enlisting veterans interviewed, the return to uniform, after a glimpse of the outside world, was not a difficult choice. George H. Dash, 29, Baldwin, L. I., was one of the set.

A high school graduate, he left the army Oct. 10 after five and a half years service ending as a first lieutenant, including two years in Europe. Back home, he said he found a job paying $75 a week but after paying his rent, providing for income tax and meeting the increased cost of living found he had $3 a week left.

How He Figured It.

"I talked it over one night with my wife, Justine," he said while re-enlisting, "and we decided we'd be a heck of a lot better off if I returned to the army with its offer of a master sergeant's rating for ex-officers."

"The way we figured it with my base pay of $138 a month plus allowances, we'll have $65 a week clear. I won't have any income taxes with the twin boys—who cost us $25 for delivery in an army hospital—and we might get nice quarters on a post instead of paying exorbitant rent."

First Sgt. Victor De Soto, 30, was discharged December 11 but found out from his former employer he could have his old job back as a Spanish interpreter at $40 a week.

A family conference with his wife in their two-room furnished apartment costing $52 a month led the sergeant back to the army at a present salary, while on recruiting duty here, of $250 a month. This includes $105 a month commuted rations allowance to meet metropolitan living costs. If he moves to an army post, he will receive $204 a month, he said. This includes $138 base pay, $38 quarters allowance, $7 longevity (length of service) pay and $21 ration allowance.

Army Better Pay.

First Sgt. William J. Thomas, 29, left the army December 31 and was back January 4. He was offered a $42-a-week salary in his old job.

A computing machine operator in civilian life, with army service from 1934 to 1936 and from 1943 to 1945, he returned to the army on recruiting duty here at $350 a month, including $103 dependency allowance for his mother, wife and daughter and the special living allowance here.

If he is moved to an army post, the sergeant will receive $254. He looks to retirement after 30 years' service at 75 per cent of his base pay which he figured at $155 a month. The sergeant, wounded twice in Pacific fighting, said, "The army is a lot better pay proposition now than it was when I went in the first time in 1934."

Cpl. Wilber Strothers, 23, of Flushing, L. I., a Third Army veteran, said he is going back for travel and education. "I just like to travel around and learn something," he said, adding that he'd like to return to Europe on the first ship.

Gen. Eisenhower Balks At Pay for His Writing

WASHINGTON.—Despite the huge sums being grossed by writing about General Eisenhower—sums of which the general does not and will not receive a penny—no question of money enters into the problems they have raised in the general's mind.

From the start, Eisenhower has refused to touch a cent which might be considered to derive directly or indirectly from his participation in the war. The most flattering offers of every scope and variety have been made to him and all rejected.

The general muses that when he no longer is on active service there are some things he would like to correct, some stories he wants to tell. His ex-aid, Capt. Harry Butcher, USNR, whose "Eisenhower as I Knew Him" has put the general in a dither, explained in his foreword that his chief had reserved for his own use the official part of the diary on which the Butcher story is based.

Anti-Trust Agreement Frees Vitamin D Patents

CHICAGO.—Vitamin D is now public property.

HOLBROOK

The Holbrook Community Farm Bureau met recently at the home of Leverett Barnes. The chairman, Lynn Spicer, started a discussion on the OPA and the group unanimously voted that they would like to see it abolished. The discussion leader, Charles Simkins, introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Don Miller, veterinarian of Cass City, who gave a talk on Bangs disease, discussing at length the types, symptoms, methods spread, treatment and prevention. He mentioned the ways by which people contact undulant fever and made the amazing statement that 15 out of 100 cows in the vicinity were infected with Bangs. Several members agreed to contact persons belonging to neighboring Farm Bureau groups and interest them in trying to bring about governmental control and eventual eradication of the disease. There were 15 members and five guests present. The next meeting will be held at the Holbrook Community Hall with the Don Beckers as hosts.

On May 1, the Stoney Creek Extension Group attended achievement day exhibit and luncheon at Sandusky. The principal speaker was Bud Guest, "Your Reporter at Large" for WJR.

Bath Towels

In buying bath towels, absorbency, softness and strength are the important considerations. The thicker and softer the pile, the greater is the absorbency. Colored towels, by the way, are somewhat less absorbent than white towels. For strength, the "ground" cloth—that part to which the absorbent "pile" loops of the towel are fastened—must be firmly woven. When buying, hold the towel up to a strong light. If tiny points of light show through—good. But if patches of light are disclosed, the ground cloth is poorly woven, and the towel will probably not stand up well in use.

Wrap Trees

Trees not already protected against rabbits can be easily protected by wrapping them. Many different things can be used for wrapping, such as strips of canvas, old screen wire, corn stalks, or anything that will prevent the rabbit getting to the bark.

Experts suggest putting dampened clothes in the icebox over night, before ironing. The theory is that the hot iron on the very cold fabric creates condensation, which gives sufficient steam without the need for a great deal of moisture in the fabric.
