Almost 800 Scouts From Five Counties Are On Register For Training

Camp Rotary, the summer training station of the Valley Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, opened its twenty-first session at the 460-acre Beebe Lake reservation, north of Clare, Sunday afternoon with four Cass City people among the twenty-five serving on the staff. Almost eight hundred scouts from the five counties in the council are already registered for one or more weeks of training in the skills of outdoor life. Members of the local troop 194 are planning to attend the fourth week (July 14) and some will go again the eighth week (August 11), when a special course for boy leaders will be offered.

Harold Oatley, who has been studying at the University of Michigan on leave of absence from the high school faculty, has gone to serve as Deputy Director of the camp after a brief vacation at his home here. His job, besides responsibility for the camp in the director's absence, includes personnel work, staff training, health, sanitation, and safety.

Robert Foy, son of Mrs. R. I. Foy, a 1946 graduate of the Cass City high school, is camp scoutmaster and advancement director. He supervises the patrol and troop organization and the program for advancement in rank of all the scout campers. Bob has just been appointed an assistant scoutmaster of troop 194, and is himself one of the highest ranking scouts in the council.

James Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Wallace, is camp clerk, in charge of the camp store, and with his assistant, responsible for distribution and inventory of equipment, tools, and all supplies except food. Jim is Senior Patrol Leader of troop 194, and an Eagle Scout.

Dale Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reed, is health orderly. He works under the supervision of Earl C. Wilson, M. D., the camp physician, in maintenance of the health lodge and first aid and care for injuries and illnesses. There are also three Red Cross first aid instructors on the staff. Dale is a Patrol Leader in the local troop and with James Baker will be awarded Eagle rank tomorrow (Saturday) evening at the swimming meet announced in another column of this Chronicle.

Before the opening of camp the Order of the Arrow national society of scout honor campers, initiated ten new members. Robert Foy, chief of the Saginaw valley lodge, led the ceremonies. Patrol Leader Larry McGorey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen McGorey, and a member of the order, spent three days at camp last week assisting with the initiation.

Clifford A. Klapp of Mount Pleasant, Harold J. Buchanan of Saginaw, and Louis W. Meyer of Frankenmuth, scouters well known to many in Cass City, are also among the leaders of Camp Rotary this season.

Wholesalers, Retailers Meet Monday

Fifty-five men representing 30 wholesale firms of Saginaw visited Cass City as one of eight stopping places in Tuscola and Huron Counties on a good will tour they made Monday. The big city wholesalers and the small city retailers enjoyed the short visit here and both classes of business men are looking forward to the day not so far distant they hope when goods will flow more freely in merchandising channels.

A vest pocket-sized Saginaw Eddy Band of 10 pieces accompanied the wholesalers and proved a hit here. The leader, Wm. Mertens, played with excellent expression and perfect tones "My Wild Irish Rose" as a trombone solo. The band was most generous with selections in their short stay in Cass City.

The Kinnairs and the Wilsons Have Enjoyable Trip

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kinnaird and Mr. and Mrs. Mason Wilson returned home Tuesday evening from a most enjoyable week's trip. Their first stop after leaving home Wednesday, June 19, was in Detroit to view the destruction caused by the cyclone which struck areas of Detroit.

In the southern states of Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina, they visited many places of interest. The crops, consisting chiefly of corn and tobacco with some other grains, looked good. A few of the outstanding places they visited were the Smoky Mountains in which they saw three black cub bears; the race horse farms near Lexington, Ky., where "Man O War" is kept; the Old Kentucky Home, a memorial to Stephen Foster, which is preserved in its original state, as the place where he wrote, "My Old Kentucky Home" and other songs while visiting his uncle. At Mob Creek, Ky., they visited the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln and at Hodgenville, Ky., his memorial which included the house where he was born. A monastery at Bardonia, Ky., and the Biltmore Estate at Asheville, North Carolina, and the Indian reservations in the Smoky Mountains were also high points of interest.

One fact impressed the Cass City people, when upon questioning, they were told that efforts are being made to educate the children, who live back in the hills of the southern states, by transporting them now to schools by busses. Hospitality and accommodations on the trip were of the very best.

The matron of honor, Mrs. William Kaditch, sister of the bride, was attired in a dress of blue net with a matching halo hat. The two bridesmaids were dressed alike in pink net.

Clarence Dodge, brother of the groom, was best man while Jack Bohlman of Dryden and William Kaditch of Pontiac seated the guests.

Mrs. Bohlman, mother of the bride, wore black with pink accessories and the dress of Mrs. Stephen Dodge, Sr., was of sheer blue print with which she wore white accessories. The corsages of white chrysanthemums and gardenias of the two mothers were identical.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the young couple left for a short wedding trip.

Oak Bluff Breezes

After a somewhat chilly and dismal spring, summer officially "crashed through" this week end and with its 80 degree temperature let it be known that summer weather has finally arrived.

The longest day is just behind us and ahead lies the accumulated heat of July and the bake oven blast that is characteristic of August days, all of which we must endure if we are to have a plentiful fall and winter of grains and fruit.

The woodlands are now loud with the song of birds, daisies are bright in the fields and roses are near the end of their June display, and strawberries, our first of summer fruits, are at their best now. Crops are a trifle late over much of the land but are making up for lost time. Hay will soon be cut, cherries will appear within a few days and gardens will soon be yielding plenty of produce. School is over and the lakes and bays right for swimming. Yes, summer is really here.

Of special interest this week to Oak Bluff visitors is the marriage Saturday, the 22nd, of Miss Jane Walton at Vassar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Walton to Mr. John Amey of Kalamazoo. A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Wellemeyer of Vassar. Only the immediate friends and relatives were in attendance. The bride and groom are spending several days at the Walton Cottage and after Sept. 1st both will teach in the Hastings Schools.

Miss Jennette Tibbitts of Royal Oak came last Thursday to spend two weeks' vacation at the Knapp cottage. Miss Tibbitts has been a summer visitor at the Bluff for the past three or four seasons. During the school season, she is an instructor in the Highland Park schools.

The Stormzand and Crocker families were here over the week end but returned to Mt. Clemens Sunday evening. The Stormzand's will however be back this week end for the balance of the season.

Mrs. Flora Maholland, who has been teaching in the Highland Park schools the past few years, returned this week and has opened her cottage for the season.

The Seguin family were up from Detroit with friends and will return this week to be here over the July 4th holiday. Mr. Seguin is foreman of the composing room of the Detroit News.

Our neighbor on the South, Curtis Hunt, is doing considerable grading and excavating and otherwise improving his property.

Big national and international events this week—Paris conference, atomic bomb demonstration in the Pacific, congressional action on the O. P. A. and extension of the draft act, but the bass season opened the 25th, so why worry—let's go fishing.

Henry Feige of Saginaw was a business caller here Saturday. On Friday, his 50th anniversary as a member of Henry Feige & Son, was celebrated by employees of his furniture business with some 300 telegrams and floral gifts from manufacturers and friends.

Here comes the bride!

JUNE has swung around again, and this month brides by the thousands will start housekeeping—if they can find a house to keep.

In days soon to come, light housekeeping will be even lighter with electrical servants ready to wash and iron, clean and cook at the flip of a switch. And some day there will be many new, electric aids—air conditioners, food freezers, electric blankets, television sets, and all the wonders of the era of electric living which lies ahead.

The electric service which powers these time-and-labor-saving appliances will continue to be inexpensive, friendly, dependable—ready around the clock and calendar—just as in the past.

Maybe 1946 brides will take the advantages of electricity for granted, just as you do. We hope they will. We're glad you just naturally count on the high efficiency and low cost of electric service. The men and women in this company worked hard to make electricity cheap and dependable. They'll work even harder to keep it that way.

Correction of Soil Compaction Urged

Deep Plowing and Fertilization Needed

Heavy farm equipment used in plowing and preparing land for crops and in cultivating and harvesting operations later, is harming the structure of some heavy textured soils and shutting off ventilation needed for the roots of growing crops, according to Dr. George N. Hoffer, agronomist at Purdue university.

Soil, either dry or wet, is compacted by the weight of tractors and other heavy equipment to a depth of 18 to 24 inches, Dr. Hoffer pointed out. Present plowing and cultivation practices are largely limited to 6 or 8 inch depths as originally determined by light weight implements drawn by mules or horses.

"Ventilation requirements of a good soil with a high organic matter content, are based on the escape of approximately 1,000 cubic feet of carbon dioxide gas daily from each acre in a corn or tomato field during the growing season," Dr. Hoffer declared. "At the same time the entry of approximately 4,000 cubic feet of air into the soil daily is necessary to support this combustion of the decomposing organic matter."

Carbon dioxide released daily at the above rates will provide carbon for plants yielding at 80 bushels per acre.

field during the growing season," Dr. Hoffer declared. "At the same time the entry of approximately 4,000 cubic feet of air into the soil daily is necessary to support this combustion of the decomposing organic matter."

"Such changes in the compaction of the soil from 6 to 12 or 18 inches in depth due to heavy equipment, interfere with these gas exchanges, and often contribute to the creation of oxygen deficiencies that result in the suffocation of the roots, or in the possible accumulation of carbon dioxide and other materials toxic to the roots."

Aerosol Bomb Suited For Farm Buildings

DDT aerosol bomb used to kill flies and other insects as well as germs in dairy barn.

Get rid of the flies and your cows will give more milk. Get rid of the flies and your hens will lay more eggs. Two wartime developments will make this possible. DDT, the new insecticide and the aerosol bomb, are the answers.

A small cylindrical metal container with a valve on top, the bomb contains concentrated insecticide dissolved in Freon. Freon is a liquid under pressure; when the valve is opened to release the pressure, the Freon expands, changes to a gas and escapes from the bomb, carrying the insecticide with it.

Hay Waxing Treatment Conserves Carotene

Alfalfa and cereal grass can be stored with little loss of carotene if they are autoclaved, pressed into blocks, and the blocks sealed with flexible wax, according to the University of Wisconsin. While expensive, it offers possibilities for vitamin supplements such as alfalfa leaf meal or dried cereal grass. No other satisfactory method has been found to conserve the carotene in forage.

Starching Shirts To get uniform results in starching shirts, gather all the parts to be starched together and dip them into the starch at the same time. Be careful not to use too much starch, as it will crack the fiber threads and cause the shirt to wear out much faster.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By Gene Alleman

Lansing is still trying this week to catch its breath.

The ballot tornado which swept the Michigan Republican party, putting colorful Kim Sigler into the driver's seat, was not anticipated by the state administration.

The primary election was in an off year. A light vote was expected. Every elective official at Lansing, from Governor Harry F. Kelly down, had gone on record openly and publicly endorsing their fellow colleague, Lieut. Gov. Vernon J. Brown. In fact, their all-out endorsement proved to be a handicap to Mr. Brown instead of a blessing, for it had all the resemblance of a "machine" which selects the anointed.

Having gone out on the end of a limb, the governor's cabinet is now eyeing the approaching state convention in Detroit July 5 with nervous apprehension and wonderment. "What next?" is the question.

The Sigler victory can be interpreted in many ways, for political factors were numerous and varied. Frank Sparks, veteran editor of the Grand Rapids Herald, saw in the returns the fact that Brown "paid the penalty for being a member of an Administration in which there has been corruption in any of its departments."

Howard Nugent, speaker of the house who ran unsuccessfully for lieutenant governor, had a premonition of the voters' unrest. In a conversation with the writer of this column Nugent disclosed that he was gravely disturbed by the wide spread impression, existing in the minds of voters everywhere, that conditions at Lansing were "rotten" and that a drastic clean-up was needed. During his travels Nugent questioned strangers without revealing his own identity. The average voter had never heard of Nugent; he suspected that many legislators were crooked.

Richard Cook, editor of the Hastings Banner which championed the Sigler cause, saw in the results the end of an era.

Unmarketable Material Around 200 million tons of unmarketable farm material are produced annually. Industry expects to convert much of this into usable products.

turns that "the average voter is pretty much of an independent" and hence resents what appears to be a machine attempt to put over one of its own members.

To quote: "The 'regular Republican' party machine did everything possible to defeat Mr. Sigler. In fact, the people of the state in the closing days of the campaign were treated to the unusual spectacle of high elective officials of the state doing a sort of 'trained seal act' in favor of one candidate."

Cook warned, however, that Sigler has a "man-sized job to do to win the election" and will be fought by "many of the influential interests which opposed him in the primary."

Frank Morris, political writer of the Detroit Times, believed that Sigler received votes of many Democrats. To quote: "Having no close fight in their own ranks, a large percentage of Democrats obviously gave their support to Sigler." It is Morris' thesis that Democrats were attracted to Sigler because of his former allegiance to the Democratic party and because of his popular appeal for "clean and honest state government." Sigler in 1928 was the democratic nominee for attorney general. Morris said that Murray D. Van Wagener, the Democratic nominee, "hopes the rancor in the administration machine will split the Republican vote in November and make it possible to break the 30 year rule that no Democrat can be elected in an off year." Another quotation by Morris:

"Sigler is no friend of Attorney General Dethmers and is expected to demand Dethmers' political head. It is likely, too, that he will down the candidacy of Secretary of State Herman Dignan who wants another term."

"Perhaps he may demand a completely new slate of Republican candidates. And usually the candidate for governor gets what he wants from a Republican convention."

The Detroit Free Press, which received a Pulitzer award for its Lansing grand jury crusade, heralded the ballot results as satisfactory evidence that many voters demanded a "house cleaning" at Lansing.

To quote: "The real issue was over Sigler as the symbol of clean government." Sigler made articulate the yearning for a cleansing of the whole state.

Hub M. George, Free Press political writer, said the Sigler victory "brought gloom to the Capitol" for it forewarned of the approaching shadow of a "thorough house-cleaning". George said that Wayne county's 45,000 margin for Sigler was "the decisive factor".

Not to be overlooked is the return of Dr. Eugene C. Keyes to the state political picture. Keyes resembles Sigler in many ways. He is an idealist, a crusader, a reformer. He declined to play along with Governor Kelly in the first term when Kelly sought to make the highway commissioner an appointive office. Keyes' forthright stand caught the public fancy, and the governor went down in defeat on this legislative issue.

This column recently said that Keyes was spending $20,000 in the 1946 primary. The actual figure was less—approximately $18,000, all paid by Keyes from his own pocket.

Governor Kelly never took Keyes into his counsels during a legislative session. Thus indirectly snubbed by the governor, Keyes takes particular delight in the ballot tornado of June 18.

According to Lieut. Governor Brown, his defeat was due in part to his dilemma of being caught between two grand juries. The Macomb grand jury indicted Ivan Johnson, former Macomb county prosecutor who led the state senate committee investigation of Sigler's expenditures at Lansing. This popularized Sigler in the voters' mind.

The other factor, according to Brown, was the "failure" of the Lansing grand jury to bring out the much anticipated bank indictments prior to the election.

Sigler was all ready and primed to release these indictments in mid-January, prior to the Frank McKay trial. Saturday, January 12, was to have been the big day. On reconsideration, however, Sigler decided to wait until after the McKay trial. Then came the Ivan Johnson senatorial investigation, Sigler's ouster as prosecutor, and his bold declaration of candidacy which this column predicted prior to the formal entry.

As we pointed out last week, the primary returns left many deep scars in the Michigan Republican party. If the Sigler clean-up progresses with a second repudiation of the Kelly administration at the July 5 convention, temporary scars could develop into an open break.

The changing picture at Lansing makes one thing sure, at least. Michigan is due to witness a colorful, spectacular, old-fashioned political fight next fall. It should be a honey.

J. M. "Jay" Thomsen

In an announcement made today, the Ashmun Brothers of Caro, owners of the Ashmun Theatres of Michigan, announced that J. M. "Jay" Thomsen, formerly of Marquette, has returned to their employ from military leave and has assumed duties as supervisor of the theatres of the Ashmun circuit with offices in the Strand Theatre building in Caro.

Mr. Thomsen was recently discharged after two years' service in the Navy.

With over nine years' experience in the motion picture theatre business, Mr. Thomsen is well qualified to assume his new duties. He began his theatre career as doorman of the Rialto Theatre at Missouri Valley, Iowa, a unit of Central States Theatres Corp. of Des Moines, Iowa, and later advanced to assistant manager of this theatre.

In January, 1940, after five years with the above company, Mr. Thomsen came to Michigan with the Ashmun Theatre at Marquette, replacing Glenn M. Ashmun who assumed an executive capacity within the company.

Mr. Thomsen is married and has a four year old son, Melvyn. They are residing at 656 West Lincoln Street in Caro.

FACTS ON 1946 FORD DELIVERIES

- Perhaps you are among the thousands who are eagerly awaiting the delivery of your new 1946 Ford. We... the Ford Dealers... know and understand your feelings... your needs. Each day brings us hundreds of letters, telephone calls and personal visits from the folks on our waiting lists.
- Below are some facts which we think will help you realize why your new Ford has not yet arrived... "reasons why" that go beyond the control of the Ford Motor Company and us... its dealers.

HOW DO FORD DELIVERIES TODAY COMPARE WITH 1941?

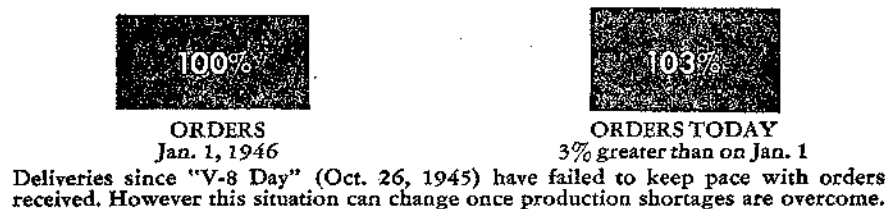

The demand for 1946 Ford Cars is many times greater than in 1941. Yet, through May, dealers had received only 1/4 as many cars. The June delivery schedule is even smaller due to suppliers' labor difficulties.

WHY HAVE DELIVERIES DURING THE 1st 5 MONTHS OF 1946 FALLEN BEHIND DELIVERIES FOR THE SAME PERIOD IN 1941?

HOW DOES THE NUMBER OF ORDERS FOR 1946 FORD CARS ON HAND TODAY COMPARE WITH ORDERS AS OF JANUARY 1st?

IS A "TRADE-IN" NECESSARY FOR THE PURCHASE OF A NEW FORD?

WHAT PER CENT OF NEW 1946 FORDS HAVE BEEN DELIVERED TO VETERANS AND OTHER PRIORITY GROUPS?

BLACK MARKET: Ford Dealers are pledged to resist the "Black Market" and its unscrupulous operators. They are making every possible effort to prevent 1946 Ford cars now being delivered from falling in the hands of people who buy for "resale".
