

Tests Show Many Infected Herds

First Month in County Shows 26% Infected with Bang's Disease

The first month's report on Bang's disease tests conducted in Tuscola County show 26 per cent of the herds examined were infected. This report, submitted by Dr. Dorothy Segal, veterinarian in charge of the trailer-laboratory, includes all tests made up to Jan. 19. A summary of the results is as follows:

Total herds bled, 253; total cattle bled, 2,587; total herds negative, 160; total cattle in negative herds, 1,092; total herds infected, 67; total cattle in infected herds, 892; total reactors, 160; total suspects, 101; total herd (suspects only), 26; total cattle in suspects only herd, 301; total suspects in above herds, 41.

The total number of cattle tested in the county to date represents only about 7 per cent of those to be tested. The rate of infection may vary with different sections of the county. Herds tested to date have for the most part been located in Gifford, Denmark and Tuscola Townships.

By order of the county board of supervisors and in conformance with the rules and regulations of the State Veterinarian's Office this Bang's disease test is compulsory for all cattle owners within the county.

Reactor cattle may be kept on the farm under strict quarantine and isolation, but may not be sold for other than slaughter purposes.

The testing program also offers farmers their choice of two optional programs of assistance in eradicating the disease from their herds:

1. Retaining reactors, under quarantine, and giving farmers free vaccination service for calves between four and eight months of age.
2. Disposing of reactors and giving each farmer's herd at least three re-tests or until herd is clean. No indemnity is paid on reactor cattle.

Farmers are accepting the testing program very satisfactorily indicating a desire on their part to be rid of this costly disease.

Dr. Lawrence Segal is in charge of the testing program in the county. Farmers having questions concerning the program may inquire at the county agent office or at the trailer laboratory in front of the jail.

Parrott Twins Have Birthday Party

A pleasant event took place Sunday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Hall entertained a number of guests in observance of the eighth birthday of their older daughters, Jean and Joan Parrott. Tables in a T formation were pretty in silver and white candlelight. Immediate guests of the twins were seated at one table, while adults and the "younger set" (little sisters) occupied the other. Twin cakes in white, adorned with pink rosebuds and bearing eight pink candles each, made an interesting feature of the three-course meal.

A suggestion that pictures should be taken of the twins, looking pretty in their pink ribbons, pink sweaters and white skirts, was carried out to include all present.

Before leaving the guests admired gifts which were opened by the girls in turns.

Improvements at the Dupuis Grocery

IGA Store Has Been Enlarged and New Equipment Is Installed

Removing a partition and making the salesroom 30 feet longer, installing new equipment and redecorating the interior of the store are factors which are making quite a complete and satisfactory transformation of the G. B. Dupuis grocery on East Main St. New fluorescent lights have been placed which make possible pleasant and adequate lighting facilities.

The grocery salesroom was originally 46 feet long and another 30 feet have been added to make it possible to carry a larger stock, better displayed. A walk-in cooler 8 by 10 feet and 7 1/2 feet high provides space for storing meats. An 800-package frozen food locker has been ordered and will be installed soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dupuis entered business circles here 11 years ago and their patronage has grown steadily. In recent years, their store has been affiliated with the Independent Grocers' Alliance.

Red Cross Chapter Year's Activities

Annual Meeting Will Be Held on Wednesday, Jan. 29, at Caro

Maurice C. Ransford, chairman of the Tuscola County Chapter, American Red Cross, has announced the chapter's annual meeting will be held Wednesday, Jan. 29.

In discussing the coming event, Mr. Ransford said: "I can speak proudly of the work our chapter is doing in Tuscola County. I can in no way agree with any one who may think the need for the Red Cross has ceased because American troops are no longer in combat. Only last week our local selective service board reported 464 Tuscola County young men are still in service and that 2,211 have been discharged. Much of our chapter's work is still with these fine young men and their families. "Donald Ellwanger, home service chairman, has just released a report of that department's program for December which seems rather good proof the Red Cross carries on," Mr. Ransford added.

A grand total of 176 individual cases were handled during the month. Of this number 27 were active servicemen or their families, 145 were veterans or their families, and four were cases classed as civilians. The local Red Cross chapter made loans and outright grants totaling $343.75 during December.

The Junior Red Cross department of the local chapter is also again carrying on a fine program under the leadership of Mrs. T. K. Schmidt, her committee, and the many teacher-sponsors.

Mr. Ransford went on to say that considerable credit is due James Gallery, chapter vice chairman, for the fine swimming program conducted by the chapter last summer. The general public is always invited to attend the annual meeting, participate in the election of officers and enter into the discussion of the chapter's activities.

Friend of Court Explains Duties

John F. Humm Says Work Has Increased Nearly Three Times in Three Years

In the three years that John F. Humm has served as friend of the court in Tuscola County, the work of that office has nearly trebled, he told members of the Rotary Club Tuesday. His endeavors to effect reconciliations in possible divorce cases have often been successful and several marriages have been kept from "going on the rocks."

Yet in spite of these friendly gestures of the court, 1946 was a big divorce year in the county with 115 cases filed of which 64 were granted, 17 dismissed and 34 pending. One hundred sixty-two children were involved in the cases filed last year. Probation cases of several classes had increased materially in 1946 over former years, Mr. Humm said, in discussing the duties of the friend of the court.

The speaker was presented by Program Chairman Otto Prieskorn.

Secretary Melvin Vender reported that Cass City Rotary Club stood fourth in the district attendance record in December. The average attendance here was 94.5 per cent that month.

Dr. P. A. Schenck presented Elvin J. Stevens as a luncheon guest.

Vice President A. C. Atwell presided at the business session and Willis Campbell and Guy Landon were song leaders with Mrs. Maurice Joos as piano accompanist. As the club sang "The Old Land Lighter," Frank Reid impersonated that old gentleman with white whiskers and carrying a lighted hand lamp.

Pigeon members applauded Ronald Silvernail when he forgot where his basket was and made a field goal in the Pigeon basket, tallying two points for the opposition.

Pigeon also won the preliminary game by a score of 80 to 22.

TWO TOO MANY LINES

In the Chronicle of Jan. 10, errors were made in the egg price quotations of the Johnson Milk Co. On Jan. 17, two sentences were inserted at the bottom of the company's ad which read: "Through an error, last week's prices were incorrect. They should have read as quoted above." The advertisement this week which was printed on Wednesday's press run, should have had these two sentences eliminated, but by mistake of the Chronicle they were inserted again. In other words, Jan. 10 quotations were wrong, Jan. 17 and Jan. 24 prices are correct. Is that clear?

TEMPERANCE FILMS.

Mrs. Losey of Port Huron will show films on temperance at the Shabbona Methodist Church, Monday evening, Jan. 27, at eight o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend. The picture will be of great benefit to young and old.

Ancient City

Shiraz, the ancient city of Iran, dates back at least 1,500 years, and at one time held more than half a million people, three times its present count. Rugs and carpets, textiles and sugar make it industrially important. Its lasting fame has come from poets and wine. It gave the country Sa'di and Hafiz, perhaps its two greatest poets. Its wines have led some writers, ignoring the Spanish town of Jerez, to contend that Shiraz gave sherry its name.

Supply England

The many small farms on the Channel Islands normally supply England with millions of dollars worth of potatoes, tomatoes, grapes and cut flowers. They also furnished stone that paved the highways through the English countryside.

COLD NO'S

SEE? RIGHT UP CLOSE WE DON'T FEEL THE WIND SO MUCH. AND IF HE STOPS, WE WON'T FEEL A THING!

No, chum—you wouldn't have a chance. If you must follow something closely, follow the safety principle that it takes from 3 to 11 times more distance to stop on snowy or icy roads than it does on dry pavement. You just can't stop on an icy dime. So keep out of trouble by keeping your distance. Give yourself living room.

Right-Sized Blanket

Many blankets wear out before their time because they are too small for the beds they are used on, say the textile specialists. A blanket should tuck in at the foot and still come up well around the neck. Otherwise, the sleeper will tug at it and weaken the fabric. For a double bed, choose a blanket at least 72 by 87 inches; for a single bed, at least 63 by 84 inches.

The discussion for the evening, "What National Legislation Is of Interest to Farmers?" was led by Charles Simkins in the absence of the regular discussion leader. The group favored American cooperation in world affairs.

Members present favored retirement of the government from the AAA, from farm credits, and abolishment of the present policy of creating arbitrary party prices to stabilize prices of farm products for two years after the official end of the war because government support at parity prices tends to stimulate production of commodities already in oversupply, preventing normal recovery of economic balance. A potluck lunch was served after the business meeting. The place of the next meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 11, will be announced later.

All FORD Car Prices Reduced

As Much As $50 On Some Models

Ford Dealers hail the recent announcement of the Ford Motor Company, "We are reducing prices of all Ford cars—as much as $50 on some models," as the most important postwar step taken by the automobile industry.

In making this precedent-shattering move—another "Ford First"—the Company, with which we are proudly associated, is making a "down payment" toward a continued high level of production and employment in the months ahead.

We are proud too, that the Ford Motor Company was the only automobile manufacturer which did not increase prices of cars after decontrol last Fall.

Like the Ford Motor Company we have decided that now is the time for us to make an investment in the future.

As Ford Dealers we pledge ourselves to cooperate with Ford and with our customers to do everything within our power to hasten the return of the economic pattern which has helped to make America great.

Since war's end we have delivered many new Fords to waiting customers. We hope it will not be too long until all who have Fords on order will have their new cars.

Influenza Has Beaten Itself

Scientist Says Disease Not Likely to Return in Force of 1918.

PHILADELPHIA.—Influenza is no longer likely to return to the United States in such lethal force as it did in 1918 when it killed thousands of persons, Dr. Thomas M. Rivers of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research told the fall meeting of the National Academy of Sciences. The disease has whipped itself, he said. Influenza, he said, might come back in "mild and moderate" epidemics, but he expressed belief that the population of the world had built up enough resistance to result in a truce between the virus and human beings.

"In World War I," he told the approximately 100 delegates from 25 nations, "influenza was the major scourge and swept the whole world, killing many millions of people. When World War II broke out, investigators predicted that another awful epidemic of influenza would sweep everything before it."

Cause Is Proven.

"This did not occur, and influenza proved to be of relatively minor importance. Between the two wars, it was shown that influenza can be caused by at least two agents, namely influenza A virus and influenza B virus."

Admitting that vaccines obtained from egg cultures were used to immunize men and women in the American armed forces with good results, he said, however, that "prevention of an epidemic during World War II did not depend on their use."

"Between the two world wars," he continued, "rapid transportation of all kinds developed by leaps and bounds, making the world one community as far as influenza is concerned."

"It has been demonstrated that the two known influenza viruses from time to time produce mild or moderate epidemics here and throughout the world. In view of this, all populations of the world are probably thoroughly seeded with these two viruses and something similar to a truce has been declared between them and human beings."

Scramble for Minerals.

An international scramble is under way for control of the world's mineral resources, Dr. Charles K. Leith, nationally known University of Wisconsin geologist, told the meeting.

The resources include scarce ones, such as are used in atomic bombs, as well as more abundant ones, he said.

The United States and Britain are among nations endowed with good portions of the world's mineral resources, he said, adding that some other nations lacking resources were trying to acquire stock piles.

"This is a prolific source of international friction," Dr. Leith said.

Hope that an international agreement soon will be reached, to conserve dwindling resources, "seems to be wishful thinking," he asserted. Dr. Harlow Shapley, acting president of the American Astronomical society, told the meeting that "international peace is the No. 1 necessity" if science is to progress unhindered.

U. S. Army Chief Relaxes Code Governing German Newspapers

BERLIN.—Brig. Gen. Robert A. McClure, director of the American Military government's office of information control, announced a revised code for the German press which he described as "another step in encouraging freedom of speech and press throughout United States controlled areas of Germany."

The new instructions permit the publication or broadcast by the German press and radio of any material except Nazi and Militarist propaganda and material constituting a malicious attack on the military government or aiming to disrupt unity among the occupying powers.

It also permits German information services to quote from non-German newspapers, magazines and radio stations, subject to copyright restrictions.

Weather Bureau Has Plan To Aid Hay Fever Victims

WASHINGTON.—The weather bureau is working on a "storm warning" system for hay fever and asthma sufferers.

If all goes as planned, the bureau said, it will be able to forecast 24 to 48 hours in advance when a mass of air with a high ragweed pollen content will reach a given area.

Dr. W. C. Jacobs, weather bureau climatologist, explained that the region of greatest ragweed pollen intensity is southern Indiana.

German Miners Granted Raise by Allied Council

BERLIN.—The Allied control council's co-ordinating committee directed that the average wage of German miners be increased up to 20 per cent.

The increase is intended as an incentive to attract apprentices and to keep manpower from turning to better paying industries.

Present average hourly wage for miners is between 75 and 80 pfennigs, or less than 10 cents.

Invigorating Stuff!

A tiny ant stood looking helplessly and longingly at the carcass of a dead horse, wondering if she could nibble some of it to take home. A truck filled with cases of whisky passed by and a bottle fell out near the ant and broke. The ant took a sip and then another and pretty soon began to feel revitalized. Grabbing the horse by the tail, it started shouting, "Come on, big boy, we're going home!"

THE VERY IDEA!

Young Lady—The cheek of that conductor! He glared at me as if I hadn't paid my fare.

Second y. l.—And what did you do?

First y. l.—I glared back at him as if I had.

Not All Alone

A mother was enrolling her 6 year old son in kindergarten. The teacher, following the usual formula, brought out her records and began to ask questions.

"Does the boy have any older brothers?"

"No."

"Younger brothers?"

"No."

"Older sisters?"

"No."

"Younger sisters?"

"No."

At this point the lad, who had grown increasingly unhappy and self-conscious, put in a wistful word.

"But," he said defensively, "I've got friends."

Heart Balm

A wisp of a man bought a ferocious tiger at an auction, outbidding several prominent circus people. "What are you planning to do with that man-eating beast?" he was asked by a wild animal trainer. "Going into competition with us?"

"Oh, no," replied the little man, "not at all. It's only that my wife died last week and I'm lonely."

Slow Payments

"Under our new plan," explained the salesman, "you can get one of these washers very easily. All you have to do is pay a small deposit and then you won't make any more payments for six months." "Oh, izzat sol!" snapped the woman, turning red and making for the door. "And who told you about our credit rating?"

COMING AUCTIONS.

W. Burk will have an auction sale, 3 miles south, 1/4 west and 1/4 north of Cass City on Tuesday, Jan. 28. Full particulars are printed on page 7.

Walter McIntyre will use space in the Chronicle next week to advertise a community sale at Cass City on Saturday, Feb. 1.

Local Association Adds Holstein Breeding Service

Leslie Peasley, Deford, local inseminator-manager, announces that beginning on Tuesday, Jan. 21, Holstein breeding service will be available to dairymen in the Cass City area whose herds are located in any one of the following townships: Elkland, Elmwood, Ellington, or Novesta. This service is available to all dairymen within the prescribed area. Service may be obtained by calling Mr. Peasley, Cass City telephone number 146F22. Initial fees are $5.00 herd membership, plus $1.00 per cow listed for breeding service. Thereafter the breeding fee per cow is $5.00.

There are now 35 herds listed by members of the Cass City Artificial Breeding Association. Over 400 cows are listed in these herds. This association was originally organized to give only Red Dane breeding service. Local demand for Holstein breeding prompted the addition of this breed.

Two Red Dane breeders have recently purchased the first Red Dane cattle to be owned in Tuscola County. Carlton Palmer, Almer Township breeder, has purchased two yearling second-cross Red Dane heifers from the Harry Prowse herd at Marlette. Mr. Prowse is one of the original breeders of Red Dane cattle in America and is a national president of the breed association. Edward Golding, Cass City, purchased two first-cross heifers at the Tosco County Breeders' sale and now has two second-cross calves produced by them. Heifers are not considered purebred Red Danes until they are of the third-cross generation and have produced a minimum of 300 pounds of butterfat in their first lactation.

Actually, the only purebred, registered Red Dane animal in Tuscola County arrived at the Roy Wagg farm, Cass City, last month directly from Beltsville, Maryland, home of the U. S. D. A. Experiment Station. He is a six-month-old bull officially christened D-583, and a direct descendant of the 20 original female Red Danes shipped from Denmark in 1936. He will be used in the Cass City Association for service on the Wagg herd and for a few cows in other members' herds. By use on Red Dane breeders' herds, all of which are on D. H. I. A. production test, such sires may be proven for use in artificial breeding later.

Officers of the Cass City Artificial Breeders' Association are: Edward Golding, Cass City, president; Ottomar Sting, Gagetown, vice president, and Keith Crawford, Caro, secretary-treasurer.

The annual meeting of the association will be held on March 18, at the Cass City High School.

Owendale Barber Died Here Thursday

John T. (Jack) Agar, 60, well known Owendale barber, died Thursday night in the Morris Hospital here a few hours after admittance. He had been ill for more than a year. Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John C. Agar, he was born March 22, 1886, in Evergreen Township. June 9, 1909, he married Miss Patience Kitchen of Evergreen.

Mr. Agar served as justice of the peace of Brookfield Township for 13 years and as a member of the village council at Owendale for more than 20 years. He was the first barber to do permanent waving in the territory between Saginaw and Port Huron. He attended the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his widow; a son, Forrest J. Agar, of Owendale; a brother, David Agar, of Marlette; a sister, Mrs. Francis (Beulah) Kennedy of Unionville, and two grandchildren.

The remains lay in state in the Methodist Church from noon until 2 p. m. on Monday when funeral services were held. Elder Silas Parker of Canboro officiated, assisted by Rev. George Bush, church pastor. Interment was made in Elkland Cemetery.

Damaged Egg

A fertile egg that is allowed to remain exposed to high summer heat in the nest or in the field all day will show definite germ development and damage by nightfall. If left two days, damage can be clearly noted by candling.

Hatching Eggs Hardy
Hatching eggs in laboratory experiments have withstood altitudes of 80,000 feet, but chickens of any age have a tolerance of around 17,000 feet, although no permanent harm will probably result if they are flown as high as 20,000 feet.

Rev. Mel W. Johnson is better known to the nation's youth as "Uncle Mel," having been a weekly visitor into the homes of thousands by radio. He is a young man of 28 and a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago from where he first launched out in the evangelistic field. In 1940, Rev. Johnson joined the late Mel Trotter as director of music, radio and young people in the world famous evangelistic center, "The Mel Trotter Mission." It was during his service there that he organized and directed the city-wide "Christian Boy's Brigade." During the war days, Uncle Mel organized and directed the Servicemen's Center for Army air force men in Grand Rapids. In November, 1942, Rev. Johnson, together with a group of Christian leaders, founded the radio program for kiddies, "The Children's Bible Hour," and directed it for its initial four years. A popular summer camp is operated by Uncle Mel and is a part of the newly formed "Win My Chum" crusades held weekly in churches throughout the country.

The prospect of a multi-million deficit in the state treasury, due to diversion of 76 per cent of the 3-cent sales tax back to home governments, including the public schools, still is the A-1 top problem of the Sigler administration.

"A major part of my day, from early morning to late at night, is being devoted to this matter of finances," said Governor Sigler. "I am now working on the budget message to the legislature. We're going to meet the issue frankly. The people must realize the seriousness of the financial situation which today confronts the State of Michigan."

The governor said he was concerned over the impression, still prevalent in the minds of many citizens, that the sales tax amendment diverted one cent of the three-cent tax back to local governments. The loss of 33 per cent of the state's major source of revenue is one thing; the loss of 76 per cent is something else. Simple arithmetic will reveal that the difference is 43 per cent which on an annual collection of $100,000,000 would involve a cool $43,000,000 of additional revenue diverted from the state treasury.

A variety of solutions have been advanced by members of the legislature.

Senator Haskell L. Nichols of Jackson proposes a referendum in April on whether a state constitutional convention should be called. Nichols feels that the present constitution has been amended to the point where a brand new charter should be adopted. The need for such revision has been recognized at Lansing for many years, but state officials have been reluctant to risk such a convention at a time when the voters' tempers was subject to drastic fluctuation.

Economic stress in Michigan, coupled with other reasons, contributed to a change in the governorship every two years from 1930 to 1942. Prior to the adoption of the civil service amendment, this brought a biennial turnover of department heads and thousands of employees. The commissioner of agriculture, for example, was an appointee of the governor; he barely got acquainted with the office staff and became accustomed to where he was to hang his hat before a new appointee was announced.

This fluctuation at Lansing did not make for intelligent and orderly thinking on the problem of the state constitution. Perhaps the 1947 financial crisis at Lansing may overcome the usual objections.

Representative Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth has introduced a resolution proposing that the sales tax issue be re-submitted to the voters at the coming April election. Eaton was named chairman of the house taxation committee, and he is fully convinced that many citizens were unaware of the consequences of the sales tax amendment when they voted in favor of it last November.

Senator G. Elwood Bonine of Vandalia has introduced a bill which would solve the problem of how to finance the $270,000,000 veterans' bonus. Bonine's measure would earmark three mills of the 15-mill property tax for the bonus. It would introduce around $22,000,000 each year, based on present valuations. This is about enough to cover the cost of interest and bond retirement.

Senator Harold D. Tripp of Allegan would whittle down the prospective deficit by returning to the state the liquor license fee rebates which are now given to cities and villages for enforcement of liquor laws.

Other schemes to whittle down the deficit would put the state-supported colleges into one school district and thereby make them eligible for state school aid; would dip into the $50,000,000 veterans' trust fund to help finance the $270,000,000 veterans' bonus. All these have the weakness in that they only alleviate the problem; they do not solve it.

It is likely that the financial problem will come to a head soon and that legislative leaders, together with the governor and state officials, may arrive at some conclusion.

With the financial problem at the top of his list, Governor Sigler has been disturbed by recent developments which have focused public attention on the personal needs of the governor and his family.

We refer to the so-called "governor's mansion," a high-faluting title for what would be an official "white house" in Ferris Park for the governor, his family, and a staff of servants including the governor's bodyguard who is assigned annually by the Michigan State Police.

The "mansion" idea is not Sigler's creation. It popped up in 1946 when the state legislature decided that the State of Michigan should provide suitable housing facilities and business offices for the governor and his family and others who are needed to maintain the building.

The state board of auditors in 1946 engaged Alden Dow, famous Midland architect. Designs were submitted to the board shortly after Jan. 1, thereby focusing public's attention on the whole matter.

The governor is a public figure of major importance; his job does not end daily at 5 p. m.; the office imposes upon him unusual responsibilities and duties.

The proposed official "white house" at Lansing would include business offices where the governor could attend the official business in evening hours; several apartments to house the governor's bodyguard, members of the staff and their families — all of whom are needed to prepare meals, tidy up the rooms, tend to the fire, and otherwise be on hand for a variety of needs including state official functions.

We recall hearing Mrs. Harry F. Kelly tell about the 32-person staff which the State of New York provides at the residence of Governor Thomas E. Dewey — who incidentally, was re-elected in November by a smashing majority. Mrs. Kelly felt that such a staff should be under civil service and that the wife of the governor should be relieved of the chores of presiding over brooms and pans.

By contrast to the New York official residence, the Michigan plan is fairly modest. It is extremely unlikely that more than $150,000 (even at today's high inflated costs) would be needed.

When we asked Governor Sigler about the "mansion," he expressed himself with considerable feeling. He didn't approve of the idea of a "mansion." He was living in a small apartment at a Lansing hotel and the governor's term, as everyone knows, is for two years only. "There are many important things before me," he said, wearily. It was already six o'clock then, and many members of the executive staff had left for the day.

All of which brings us right back to where we started. How can the State of Michigan avert new taxes or a whopping big deficit? That is the top issue.

Child Labor

Though the 40 hour week has become a reality for many adult workers, the legal working hours for the great majority of young workers under 18 continue to be 48 or more hours a week, since most of these young workers are in local industries where they do not have the benefit of the federal wage and hour law. Also the shorter hours gained by unions through collective bargaining often do not apply to workers under 18 because so many of them work in miscellaneous, unorganized jobs.

"2½ Tons of Milk

Don't Take Much Muscle..."

Says Carl Leiterwitz who owns a herd of 140 fine Guernseys and Holsteins. Below is the rest of the family—Carl's only helpers.

Yes, some days those beautiful cows put out a whopping 2½ tons of milk. And they average over 4000 pounds every day in the year. Only five people—Carl, his wife, daughter, two sons—tend the cows, do the milking and all the other chores. Five people!

Of course, he's got costs. He uses two electric milking machines, electric grain elevator, hay hoist, water pump, two dairy water heaters. Counting his all-electric workshop and his house lighting, refrigerators, radios and so on, he uses about $2.83 worth of electricity a day. Does it sound like a lot?

It's darn little compared to his daily income. Fact is, electricity is costing Carl Leiterwitz less than 2% of his gross receipts. And he says that before he put in electricity he was milking fewer cows—getting less milk—doing everything the hard way. Electricity has helped him increase production the easy way—and make more money (Incidentally, Carl has bought another farm and twenty Jerseys since this was written.)

Next time you are in town why not call on your Detroit Edison farm man? There's no obligation, of course—your Edison farm man has no equipment to sell. His job is to help you make the most efficient use of all the electricity you buy.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE.

Jan. 20, 1922.

Included in the cancellation of 18 passenger trains on the Grand Trunk Railway system are two trains on the P. O. & N. division—No. 50 which arrives at Cass City from the north at 6:57 a. m., and No. 51, which arrives at Cass City from the south at 7:58 p. m. William McComb passed away at his home in Novesta Township on Jan. 16, just 15 days after celebrating his golden wedding anniversary.

In one of the strongest debates ever held at the local schools, Cass City defeated the Crosswell High School debaters last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Chauncey Campbell, a resident of Cass City six years ago, died in Detroit on Saturday night.

The schoolhouse at Argyle burned to the ground early Sunday night. A few cases of scarlet fever in that community made it advisable to fumigate the school building, which was done Sunday. It is thought that possibly the fire originated during the time of fumigation.

A double wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. O. R. Grattan in the St. Mark's Church, Detroit, on Jan. 11, when Miss Lillian Daphne Rogers was united in marriage with Mr. Carl Franklin Brouckner, and Mrs. Kathryn Belle Ottaway was united in marriage with Mr. Myles Alfred Frink. The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers of Cass City, while both grooms are citizens of Azalia.

P. S. Rice purchased the grocery stock of T. J. Auten last week and took possession of the store located in the Lamont Block, Friday.

Miss Horr, county Red Cross nurse, spent Monday among the grades in the Cass City schools, weighing and measuring the pupils to determine those underweight. Nearly 100 pupils in the kindergarten and first six grades were found to be eight to 10 per cent underweight.

A. Fort has doubled the size of his fruit store since the Pastime Theater has been moved from his building and is arranging in rear of the store for residence rooms.

John A. Sandham is attending a section meeting of the Lincoln Life Insurance Co. at Fort Wayne, Ind., this week.

Neil Kennedy of Deford spent last week at Chicago attending a road convention. Many countries had representatives present, even far away Japan.

Poultry Brooder House

By W. J. Dryden, WNU Farm Editor.

The ideal type of poultry brooder house for the average farm or acreage will be of a portable type. The size is limited largely by the ease with which it can be moved to fresh ground from time to time. Regardless of type, the brooder house should contain 50 square feet for 100 baby chicks if best results are to be expected.

New building materials have brought about changes in brooder house construction. Moisture-proof insulation board adapted to outside exposure, plywood, and the use of short length material for building up rafters have made it possible to considerably reduce the cost of ma-

Where electricity is not available for brooding purposes, hard coal or pearl oil-burning brooder stoves will prove entirely satisfactory. While it is important that good types of brooders be installed, the management and operation is of even greater importance. The size of the brooder and fuel capacity is also important. The size of the stove should be large enough to hold sufficient fuel to last all night. If kerosene is used as fuel supply, it might be well to connect stove with large outdoor drum.

It is usually advisable to have the brooder house near the dwelling while the chicks are small and re-terial and labor for the laminated rafter type of brooder house.

The skids may be six-inch hardwood poles or four-inch by six-inch timber. The gambrel type of house may have installed hardware cloth wire floors under the brooder and feeding and watering equipment as a sanitary measure. When wire floors are used under the brooder, the temperature will need to be raised about five degrees.

In selecting material, size and type of brooder house, careful consideration must be given to the needs of the chicks and the convenience of the operator, as well as to the simplicity and economy of construction.

U. S. Plane Industry Loses Leadership

Is Now 16th in Importance in American Business.

WASHINGTON. — America's aircraft industry, world's largest business slightly more than a year ago, has been reduced to a place of 16th importance in the nation.

The companies which turned out 9,117 military planes in March, 1944, will be fortunate to deliver 1,600 for the whole of 1946. Employment has dropped from 2,000,000 at the war's peak to 200,000 now.

But the picture is by no means unrelieved by optimistic trends. Aircraft Industries association said in summarizing postwar developments to date.

Of main significance, perhaps, is the fact that all the major aircraft companies still are functioning and many have introduced new military and civil planes, despite contract cancellations which amounted to upward of 27 billion dollars between V-J Day and January 1, 1946.

Thus, the nucleus of an industry capable of expansion in time of emergency is available, although it is not up to minimum specifications set by the government's air co-ordinating committee. ACC says we must produce 3,000 military planes a year.

Within a year, 27 new military types and 16 commercial transport models have been announced.

Most urgent need now is for greatly expanded research programs, according to the industry organization. This has been so emphasized by rocket and jet propulsion discoveries that congress will be asked to provide funds for research facilities costing "hundreds of millions."

Among top items on the agenda is development of an atomic aircraft engine, for which an army contract has been awarded the Fairchild Co.

The boom in civil aviation is reflected in a backlog of orders for about 50,000 personal and transport planes. Indicated production of private planes for this year is 35,000, compared with 6,597, a record in 1941.

Obeys Mother's Last Wish, Boy Sees Again

NEW YORK. — Sixteen-year-old Jack Wisnowski, his sight fully restored by an operation at Columbia Presbyterian medical center, returned to his Verona, Pa., home to re-enter school and prepare for a career as a mechanical engineer.

Blind for four years, Jack recovered his sight partially after an operation in April, 1945. When his mother died last July, doctors feared the second necessary operation might be delayed, but he obeyed his mother's last instruction: "Be sure you have your operation, no matter what happens."

The second successful operation was performed last month. "It's a wonderful feeling, because when you've had sight and lost it things fade in your mind and you forget how they looked," Jack said. "The most wonderful thing I've seen is faces. I love to watch somebody talk or smile."

Government Figures Profit On Potatoes; Tax Gain Told

WASHINGTON. — The government figures to make a profit of more than 200 million dollars on 42 million spent so far this year supporting producer prices of potatoes. The profit prospect was outlined by agriculture department officials who explained:

The agency has purchased 32 million bushels of surplus potatoes at a cost of 42 million dollars, including handling and transportation charges.

The potatoes were sold to starch makers and liquor distillers for about 10 million dollars—a loss of 32 million dollars.

But the whisky produced from the potatoes will bring in at least 240 million dollars in liquor taxes, turning the loss into a 208 million dollar government profit.

Finds Right Ammunition For Too Vocal Tomcat

CUMBERLAND, MD.—The right kind of ammunition for the very vocal tomcat who regularly spoiled his sleep was found and used by Deputy Sheriff Grad Wilson.

When the tomcat started his nightly vocalizing, Wilson groped in the dark for something to throw. He chanced on a burned-out light bulb. His aim was good. The cat took off in a hurry and hasn't been seen yet.

But then the neighbors made a complaint. Wilson laughed so loud he woke them up.

Chef Reports Deluge of Fish After Heavy Thunder Storm

KANSAS CITY.—It rained fish—well, maybe—in a parking lot here. Clifford Neece, a chef, reported he found 60 little fish in the lot back of a restaurant after a thunderstorm.

The weather bureau said a "fish deluge" was unlikely in this area. One theory was that a fisherman had dumped his minnow bucket in the lot.

CHANGE OF COLOR

Down in a small southern town lived a doctor named Brown who adored a local belle named White. He paid ardent court to the young woman, but she did not seem to return his affection.

One night he took the girl to a banquet, where wine flowed freely and joy was unconfined. Presently a gallant gentleman felt impelled to offer a toast to the doctor's fair companion.

"What you say, doc," he proposed, "to our giving a toast to your Miss White?"

"By all means," replied the medico. "I've been toasting her for months myself, but she hasn't shown the least sign of turning Brown."

After the banquet she did.

IT WAS MOONSHINE

Two slightly tipsy gentlemen were staggering home at an early hour of the morning when they got in an argument about the sun and the moon.

"I'll betcha $10 thash the moon," said the first.

"And I'll jush cover that bet," said the other. "Thash the sun."

They stopped a man who came along and asked him to settle the argument for them.

"Shorry, fellash," he apologized, "but I'm a shtranger in theshes parthsh, myshelf."

Snappy Retort

The proofreader on a certain small southern newspaper happened to be a woman of great precision and extreme propriety. One day a reporter succeeded in getting into type an item about "Willie Brown, the boy who was burned in the West End by a live wire."

On the following day he found on his desk a frigid note from the proofreader asking, "Which is the West End of a boy?"

It took him only an instant to reply: "The end the son sets on, of course."

Missing the Vitamins

A man went to the bar and ordered a martini, drank it, chewed up the bowl of the glass, and threw the stem over his shoulder. He continued this for about six martinis, when he noticed that the bartender was staring at him.

"I guess you think I'm crazy, don't you?" he asked.

"I sure do," the bartender replied. "The stems are the best part."

Reversing Charges

"Why, judge," the autoist charged with speeding said, "I wasn't going 60 miles an hour. In fact, I wasn't even going 30. I had slowed down to—"

His honor raised a silencing hand. Then he remarked dryly, "We'd better close out this case before you back up and hit somebody. Ten dollars."

Better Sue

"You're very interested in that stuffed bird," said the ornithologist.

"Yes," said the aviation expert. "I think its steering gear infringes one of my patents."

Lowell Sickler, the newly elected president, was in charge of the meeting, and William D'Arcy was program chairman. The program included vocal numbers by Mrs. Elton Lyons, Rev. Walter Hubbard, Rev. Herbert Watkins and Mrs. Arleone Retherford. A representative of the Caro plant of the Michigan Sugar Co., gave the leading address, speaking of the new machinery being used for harvesting; method of securing field workers from Mexico and Jamaica, and of the amount of sugar manufactured in the Caro plant in the fall of 1946, also scale of wages paid field labor, and price paid for the beet crop to growers. BANQUET FOR SUGAR BEET GROWERS

He is an 8th year member of the Fairgrove 4-H club. Elmer Osestoski, Tyre, Sanilac County, had a yield of 16.5 tons per acre. Alan Latimer, Akron, 15.11 tons per acre. Robert Zmich, Tyre, 14.67 tons per acre. Harvey Hecht, Vassar, 14.52 tons per acre.

Then upon completion of the project with complete cost records and stories of work done, the Caro Sugar Beet Grower's Association agreed to pay for fertilizer used on the crop. Cost of seed was borne by the sugar company. An additional premium of $5.00 each was also presented each member at the banquet Saturday by the Caro Beet Grower's Association.

Four-H members whose beets were contracted with the Sebewaing plant were guests along with several of the Sebewaing Beet Grower's Association. These members received like consideration from the Sebewaing growers.

Seven 4-H members whose beets were grown for the Monitor plant at Bay City will be feted at a later date by Monitor Grower's Association and the Monitor Sugar Co.
