Inmates Dedicate Hymn to Mrs. Gillies

At 12:30 Easter Sunday the Detroit House of Correction broadcast their Easter service over WJR, on the regular program of "In Our Opinion." George Cushing, Detroit moderator, introduced the members on the program, the first of whom was A. B. Gillies, former resident of Cass City, now warden of this institution.

In answer to Mr. Cushing's questions, Warden Gillies revealed that he has been with the institution for 27 years, nine as warden; also, that the institution had received a rating of 87 from the Federal Government, marking it as one of the best institutions of this kind in the United States.

Miss Grace Travis, supervisor of the women's division, explained certain phases of the work carried on by the inmates and the personnel.

One of the women inmates, who is soon to be released, told the brief story of her experiences there and of her gratitude to the institution and personnel.

The women's choir sang several hymns and a solo was given by another of the women inmates. The last hymn, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," was dedicated to the warden's mother, Mrs. A. D. Gillies, for many years a resident of Cass City.

Republicans Elect All State Officers in Monday's Vote

Tuscola's Citizens Cast Small Vote Except in Precincts with Local Contests

Pluralities for Republican State candidates passed the 100,000 mark as returns were registered early this week. It appeared probable that when final returns are received Republicans would have a 200,000 edge in Monday's election in the state.

Returns from 2,391 precincts of 3,968 in the state for university regents, two to be elected, give: Herbert (R), 191,942; Stevens (R), 190,644; Brumm (D), 117,285; Schermerhorn (D), 119,596.

For superintendent of public instruction, 2,385 precincts: Elliott (R), 201,141; Montgomery, 118,633.

For member state board of education, 2,390 precincts: Durham (R), 198,461; Targonski, 112,518.

For members state board of agriculture (2), 2,391 precincts: Brody (R), 191,618; More (R), 183,434; Lamoreaux (D), 112,302; Stevens (D), 120,824.

From 2,394 precincts for supreme court justices, non-partisan (full term), two to be elected: Butzel, 168,334; Carr, 216,984; Nertney, 55,095; Kane, 85,468.

For supreme court justice, 2,395 precincts, non-partisan (to fill vacancy), one to be elected: Dethmers, 175,411; Tripp, 80,602.

Voting in Tuscola County was light except in a few precincts where there were local contests. The usual percentage of Republican pluralities was registered in the county. B. H. McComb was without opposition for county school commissioner, as was George Desjardins for circuit judge in the Tuscola-Lapeer district on the non-partisan ticket.

Some Answers to Bonus Questions.

Monday saw the beginning of the filing of Michigan Veterans' Bonus applications at counseling centers, at veterans' service organizations, at many other agencies throughout Michigan. There are questions . . . right now to fill out the blanks. Here are answers to some outstanding questions, based on information received from the Adjutant General of Michigan.

From Gogebic County comes the question: In the upper left hand corner of the application blank appears a space for claim numbers. Does this mean the Veterans' Administration claim number?

A. Do not fill in this blank, it is not a federal claim number at all. It is the number the Adjutant General is going to assign to the particular bonus application.

A veteran in Albion asks: I have two honorable discharges for two periods of service. What do I do?

A. If you have two discharges, you will need to file an application for each discharge. There is only one exception to this, and the answer to that comes in a question from a Women's Army Corps veteran.

Q. How can I give evidence of my service in the W. A. C.?

A. It is necessary only to file an affidavit as to this service in the W. A. C. The affidavit must be notarized and it is of course preferable that the WAAC show a copy of orders placing her in the W. A. C. If her period of service was unbroken, that is if she did not accept a discharge from the W. A. C. and then come back in the WAC, she needs to make only one application, accompanied by the affidavit of service in the W. A. C. If her period of service was broken, it will be necessary to make two applications.

This comes from a counselor in Southwestern Michigan. What about an enlisted man who was discharged and accepts a commission?

He fills out an application blank. Concluded on page 9.

R. Vender officiating. Arthur Holmberg sang "O, Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer" as solos, accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Price, who also played the processional and recessional marches.

The church was fittingly decorated with palms, baskets of white flowers and candelabra.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white satin and marquisette and she wore a fingertip veil of net. The full skirt had an overskirt of marquisette, which formed the train. She wore a string of pearls, a gift from the groom, and carried a white orchid on a satin-covered Testament, which the groom carried during his overseas service.

For traveling the bride wore a greige gabardine suit with brown and white accessories.

Michigan Mirror

How the constantly growing financial needs of local governments can be met in the period of inflation is one of the aggravated, acute problems now confronting the Michigan State Legislature in its fourth month of sessions.

There appear to be two ways whereby additional funds could be raised through taxation.

The first would be new taxes, created by the State Legislature and collected by the State of Michigan. This has been the favorite way to finance new public services by local governments. Since the sales tax was adopted, state expenditures have increased $168,000,000, of which $138,000,000 were returned to local units of government and $30,000,000 retained by the state for direct state services to the people.

As these new needs have developed from time to time, the State Legislature has been in the habit of seeking new or added taxes such as the intangible tax, the 10 per cent liquor tax, the tax in horse racing, and other levies whereby substantial revenues could be derived to finance the new public services by local units of government. For every $100 of new taxes collected, the State of Michigan retained $18 and turned over $82 to local governments for their needs.

A second way whereby local public services by home governments are financed in other states is that of special local taxes.

The local collection of local taxes. Concluded on page 9.

Design for Marriage
In some sections of the orient it is customary for a girl to weave a special rug for presentation to her prospective husband. It is said that some young men look over the field of dowry rugs in the village before picking out a prospective bride.

Pays to Be Educated

A certain heedless reporter so far forgot himself recently as to speak very harshly to a big dumb prize-fighter with a hair-trigger temper. "You called me a fool!" yelled the fighter. "And for that I'm going to whale the daylight out of you!" "Yes, I said it," replied the fool-hardy reporter, "and I reiterate it!" "Well," said the boxer, suddenly quite mollified, "that's different. Then I'll overlook it." Then, clauding slightly again, he added, "but don't think an apology will do you any good next time!"

THAT'S WRITE!

Prisoner—But, how can I be a forger, judge? Why, I can't sign my own name.
Judge—You aren't charged with signing your own name.

Modern School Kids

The teacher was giving her kindergarten class a lesson in cubes, and she asked for examples. Each child in turn named something shaped like a cube—a box, a block, a cake of ice—and finally one little boy shouted, "I know—a half pound of butter."

"Yes, that's good," said the teacher. "Now let's have one more." The class was silent, apparently having exhausted its originality, until another little boy raised his hand. "The other half pound of butter," he said.

A Giveaway

"Are you sure, now—are you positive—that this is beefsteak?" demanded the disillusioned diner. "Sure it's beefsteak," replied the waiter, belligerently. "What's the matter?" "Well," was the doubtful reply, "when I find an ordinary housefly buzzing around a steak I think nothing of it, but when I find a horsefly—darned if I don't get suspicious!"

Tied to It

A Negro with an injured hand entered the doctor's office. "Hello, Sam. Got out again, I see."

"Yes sah! Ah done got carved up with a razah, Doc."

"Why don't you keep out of bad company?" asked the physician, after he had dressed the wound. "Deed, y-ah like to Doc, but I ain't got 'nuf money to git a divorce."

Spanish Accent

A woman traveling by train was talking with a man in the next seat. In describing her holiday, she said that she had visited San Jose. "You pronounce that wrong," said the man. "It's San Hosa-y. In California you pronounce all the J's as H's. When were you there?"

The woman thought for a moment, then answered, "In Hume and Huly."

Sterling Fabrics

To store cottons and washable rayons, they should first be washed. Do not starch them as insects are more likely to attack them if starched. Ironing is optional. Fold or roll smoothly and store in a dry place to prevent mildew. Summer clothes which do not wash should be dry cleaned, folded carefully on paper to prevent wrinkling and stored in boxes or bags which close tightly to prevent damage from insects or mice.

"Well, Joe, I'm going on my vacation next week, and I want you boys to stay on your good behavior while I'm away," said Sergeant Stevens with a good natured grin. He was a large, heavy set, genial man, head of the guards at the County Prison.

"Have a good time, sarge," said Joe Walsh, a trusty with six months time standing between himself and freedom. "What are you going to do with yourself?"

When the sergeant let himself out of the cell block, Joe sat thinking, ignoring the other prisoners. He had never thought of escaping the prison while Sergeant Stevens was in charge and responsible for the men, but now Joe began to yearn for his freedom.

Three days after the sergeant left on vacation, Joe was assigned to bean picking crew at the prison farm. That afternoon, while the guards made their rounds lazily in the hot sun, he climbed the fence and cut quickly through the woods. At the first town he passed, some quick thinking and acting rewarded him with a denim shirt, coveralls.

"What's the matter?" Joe asked, trying to collect his senses.

a threadbare overcoat and a peak cap which had been hanging on the clothesline of one of the housewives.

That evening he crawled into an empty coal car on a north-bound freight. As he watched the scenery flow swiftly by the open door and felt the wind in his face he sang a happy song. In a few days he would be several states away from the County Prison. While humming softly to himself, he fell asleep, lulled by the jolting rhythm of the wheels on the tracks.

"Hey you, hobo. C'mon, wake up." A voice, harsh and hard, grated in Joe's ears. A heavy foot tapping his shoulder awakened him more completely. He sat up slowly, blinked and yawned, and saw that the sun was shining brightly in the door of the freight car.

"I'm a railroad detective," the man said. "Get up. I'm going to take you down to the hoosegow. You know you're not allowed to ride the freights."

He pleaded with the detective in his most heart melting voice, begging to be given another chance, swearing he didn't know that he wasn't allowed to ride on the freight trains.

The detective tapped his gun significantly. "I hear that same story from every hobo we pick up," he said. "Now come along without any trouble."

Joe wearily stretched and stood up, while pictures of returning to the jail cell flowed through his mind. Each time he thought of the confinement, he added fresh and convincing pleas to those already submitted to the detective.

When he had given up all hope, and made up his mind that he was hopelessly headed back to County Prison, the man softened. "I guess you're having a pretty hard time of it, traveling around the country this way. I'll let you off this time, but after this stay away from the trains."

Gosh! Thanks, mister," said Joe gratefully, almost crying with relief. "You don't know how much this means to me. I'll stick to the highway after this." He heaved a deep, heartfelt sigh, and almost ran the short distance to the highway, for fear that the detective might change his mind.

The walk made him hungry, and as he realized how long it had been since his last meal he almost wished he was back at the prison, where the boys would be eating breakfast. "Oh well!" he thought. "Pretty soon I'll be far enough away that I can stop and find some food." His thumb flipped at the passing cars, and finally a sedan slowed down and pulled to the side of the road.

Joe opened the door quickly. "Going my way," he asked and relaxed in the comfortable seat.

"Sure, always glad to have good company," said the driver in a voice that seemed familiar to Joe.

"Thanks a lot," Joe said, but as he looked at the man, the smile faded suddenly from his face. He gulped and added sheepishly, "... Sarge!"

A Good Substitute

Waiter—No, sir, but I can give you a plate of salted topioca and some dark glasses—you'll never know the difference.

Total Loss

Jones—Yes; quite penniless. He lost his health trying to get wealthy, then he lost his wealth trying to get healthy.

Beneficial Fungi

Instead of being harmful, the small, raised, reddish bodies found on the undersides of leaves of citrus and ornamentals are highly beneficial in that they (the fruiting bodies of the red aschersonia fungus) attack the larvae of whiteflies and kill them. When a number of these round, velvety red bodies are found on a leaf, it usually means that every whitefly on the leaf has been killed.

Vitamin Stockpile

Vitamin A for winter health is supplied in large quantities through eating fall greens.

Chases Cotton Westward

Weevil damage is partly responsible for the expansion of cotton production in west Texas and Oklahoma where the hot, arid climate prevents the insect from becoming abundant, and in the irrigated sections of New Mexico, Arizona and California, where it has never become established. But there is evidence that it is becoming better acclimated to adverse climatic conditions.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Old People Are a Problem

Bel Syndicate—WNU Features.

She says to the children, when we send them in to call, "Don't bother to come, my dears. Grandma knows you don't want to."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

OLD PEOPLE ought to solve their own problems.

It is a great reflection on your intelligence if you have lived 60 or 70 years in this troubled world, and even now don't know what you want, how you can manage, or how to be happy. Being unhappy is a matter of intelligence, and to be unhappy is to argue yourself stupid.

Naturally there are times in all our lives when bereavement, or money trouble, or the actions of those dear to us cause us deep concern. I'm not talking of that sort of thing. I'm talking of these old people who mourn and fret and complain and generally annoy the younger crowd, and make themselves a burden for the last 20 years of their lives.

Mary Cutter, for example, at 74 is strong as a horse and good for many more years. Mary was a loved wife, raised three sons and a daughter, saw them all nicely married. When she was widowed and found her resources much reduced, she proceeded to make of herself as much of a nuisance as a human being can.

She was stunned with grief when her children married, fainting at the church, hated her son-in-law and daughters-in-law violently. She carried on when she had to sell the old home as if she had been turned into the street. Her stay at a nice quiet family hotel was one long groan.

The girls' husbands got together and bought her a cottage she had loudly coveted for years. They furnished it, moved her in. She thanked them half-heartedly, and began to find things wrong with the furnace, window-screens, neighborhood and the earth in the garden.

Nothing Pleases Her.

Now, five years later, she speaks bitterly of the children "shunting her off" into this dreadful little place, and asserts that she has always hated it.

"She simply is doing everything she can to ruin our lives," writes her daughter. "She criticizes the children's manners and the way we dress them. She says to them, when we send them in to call, 'Don't bother to come, my dears. Grandma knows you don't want to.'"

"The worst of it is," this letter concludes, "my husband's mother is a darling, helpful and cheerful and adored by the children. She and a friend keep a boarding-house, so there's no question of her living here, but if we ask her to dinner once more than we do mother, there is trouble. What can one do with a troublesome, unhappy old lady who still isn't sick enough for a sanitarium or poor enough for a home?"

The answer, is—nothing. If all through the 30s and the 40s your mother wasn't getting ready for this time, finding amusements and interests with which to fill it, looking forward to the delights of grandchildren and to the serene ease from burden and responsibility that old age means, nothing will change her. I would be very careful to put your husband's and your children's interests first and to concede as little as possible to this twisted

CONTENTED YEARS

The last years of life may be the worst, or the best. It depends largely on the individual. Every woman should be preparing herself, says Miss Norris in today's article, for a happy old age. There are many compensations for the loss of vigor and the pleasures of the earlier years. One of these is the freedom from responsibility, the chance to do some of the things that you have always wanted to do.

Some old women are sick, and some poor. Others are saddened by the family troubles of their children. But in most cases there is nothing important wrong, and whether the elderly lady is happy or unhappy is a matter of outlook. It is hard for a while to become adjusted to the limitations of age, but there is a quiet contentment that is worth striving for.

old woman. For no matter what you do she will never be satisfied.

Some years ago I knew a couple who had a charming home down on Long Island. One summer they had an opportunity to go abroad, and offered their home to a business friend.

Two Difficult Old Ladies.

"The only thing," our friend said, in making this offer, "is that my wife's mother lives with us and she wants to stay on in the house during the summer."

The other man's face fell.

"I'm sorry," he said, "it can't be done. You see, we have an old lady of our own."

Both these men knew that there was no chance that the old ladies would get together, work out a congenial and perhaps even pleasant relationship. No such hope! The second family had to forego a chance for a cool beach summer, and the first family had to seek out some other solution for the old tyrant's company.

Why is it old age must be so unreasonable, exacting and unmanageable?

Most old ladies were nice women once, loved wives and good mothers. Why can't they prepare, in their minds, all through the younger years, for the inevitable changes and solitudes that are before them? Whether you marry or whether you don't, you may some day be alone. Why deceive yourself with the idea that the youngsters want you in their lives, that you have peculiar charms, claims and rights that other old ladies haven't?

Remember what you thought, 30 years ago, of your husband's mother. That's what they think of you today. Face it, and if you can, turn yourself into a cheerful, occupied, useful old woman, too busy with her own interests to watch the clock and the calendar to make sure that the children are neglecting her.

The one gift you can give your children now, and it is a great gift, is to let them see that you are happy.

First Shall Be First

If further admissions of women to Carnegie Tech's famed college of engineering and science at Pittsburgh, Penn., depend upon the record of its women students, there will be little difficulty. Julia A. Randall of Mount Lebanon, Penn., who was the first girl to be admitted to the regular day courses of the college, won top honors in this year's graduating class. Many women are now turning to engineering as a result of war plant experiences.

"Let them see you are happy..."

All Given Away

The old man sent for the doctor to have a look at his wife, who had taken to her bed and didn't seem to recognize him.

"How is she, doctor?" he asked anxiously.

"She's all right, physically," was the reply. "But her mind seems completely gone."

"Oh, is that all?" The old man heaved a deep sigh, then added: "It's no surprise to me, doctor. She's been giving me a piece of it every day for over 50 years."

Cooking Broccoli

Cooking broccoli presents the problem of getting the thick stems tender without overcooking the fragile flower tops. This is most successfully done by cutting off the stems, paring off the tough layers and then slicing the stems lengthwise before putting them on to cook. Broccoli should cook tender in 15 minutes. Broccoli should be taken from the cooking water as soon as tender and served immediately.

Egg Grades

Practically the only difference between AA and A grades of eggs, which may sell at a differential of as much as 10 cents a dozen, is that of age, indicated by a slightly larger air cell and a slightly more liquid condition of the white portion of the A grade egg as compared with the AA grade. The larger air cell in the A grade is caused by evaporation, but none of the nutritive value has left the egg and it is just as wholesome.

Good Farm Wiring Is Held Essential

Expensive to Pay for Preventive Power Loss

"Anything less than good wiring on the farmstead is not only a serious bottleneck to successful use of electricity, but usually causes dissatisfaction and needless expense in the use of electricity for anything beyond lighting and minimum power uses," William A. Ritt, Minneapolis, Minn., declared at the national farm electrification conference.

In planning the wiring for a farm, Ritt declared, the average farmer must be considered as an industrial plant, a production and processing plant for products. The greater the degree of processing performed on any farm, the greater is the return in terms of farm income, he explained.

No matter what efficient equipment the farmer may employ to arrive at more complete and profitable electrification, its successful operation depends upon a good wiring installation.

Larger capacity service entrances, heavier conductors to farmstead buildings and also for serving the higher horsepower motors now being used, an increased number of circuits and more attention to balancing loads among the various circuits, are among the outstanding needs of farm wiring systems today, Ritt said.

MISS SLICK CHICK OF 1947

WE ARE RESENTFUL... Hens, resentful and envious of the "Slick Chick" designation, which with utter abandon has been bestowed upon human females, at long last have come to the fore and demanded their equal rights. The Poultry and Egg National board, realizing the justice of their claims, is conducting a nationwide search for the most beautiful hen in all America, who will be crowned "Miss Slick Chick of 1947," and will be guest of honor at world premiere of "The Egg and I."

Planting Trees

Ease in planting trees at uniform distances in straight rows may be secured by the board marker shown in illustration. The length of the board will depend on the type of tree and distance to be spaced.

Home Garden Goals Established for 1947

Six million farm gardens and 12 million urban, suburban, and small-town gardens will be the goal of the 1947 national garden program. The necessity and desirability for the garden program is to insure better nutrition in millions of American homes, to help all families in meeting the cost of living and to provide better qualities of vegetables and fruits, especially for the lower-income families.

Artificial Fiber
An artificial fiber from which brushes can be made is now being manufactured from casein. The bristle is made by forcing a mixture of casein and water through a suitable die, and then subjecting it to finishing operations. It is particularly adapted to construction of paint brushes, since the casein bristle is resistant to oils and organic solvents.

Discovered Insecticide
In the 19th century a farm boy accidentally dropped a bottle of coal oil into a horse tank and noticed that the floating oil killed the mosquito larvae. Grown to manhood, L. O. Howard became an entomologist in the USDA. The discovery of the larvicidal value of kerosene is credited to him, and kerosene has now been one of the insect control standbys for more than 50 years.

PIMPLES
Disappeared Overnight

Blackheads too. No waiting. Yes, it is true, there is a safe, efficient, medicated liquid called KLEEREX that dries up pimples overnight as it acts to loosen and remove ugly blackheads. Those who followed simple directions and applied KLEEREX upon retiring were amazingly surprised when they found their pimples and blackheads had disappeared. Larkin, 177; Landon, 176; McCullough, 173; Parsch, 170; DeFrain, 169; Kolb, 168; Gross, 168; Collins, 168; Reid, 167; Dillman, 167.

The crippled Gremel team, struggling along without a captain, are making the going plenty tough for the league-leading Dillmanites during the closing weeks of this final schedule. The Gremel team's top flight bowler, Howard Wooley, has been hitting the maples at a merry clip to keep his teammates in the running and they were successful in adding a full four points to their previous count to come within one point of the top Dillman Five, and should give a good account of themselves over the remaining weeks of the season. The Parsch squad are but two points back of first place and cannot be counted out as yet and are liable to make trouble for the teams above them.

This week four bowlers managed to accumulate enough wood to get recognition on the honorable mention list. The league's secretary tumbled over 575 pins for the big count, while Howard Wooley's 562 gave him second place, Fred Maier brushed aside 558 pins for his evening's labors, and Buzz Wallace had a total of 552 to his credit.

Just seven 200 games were recorded with Fred Maier's 223 game as high. Larkin followed with 214, A. Frieberger, 213, Milington and Wallace with 211 each, Wooley, 204, Landon, 203.

for his enlisted service and another application for his service as an officer. Both forms should be clipped together and submitted together. The notary public should endorse "Certified for Michigan Veterans' Military Pay" on both discharge certificates and the officer's certificate of service.

From Detroit, this question: A veteran's service was all as an officer, what should he do?

A. He attaches a notarized copy of his Certificate of Service to page 3 of the application blank and fills out the information asked for on page 4 from this data contained on the back of his Certificate of Service.

This is from a counselor in the western part of the state: A veteran submitted a photostat of his discharge certificate and asked me to fill out his application. The answer is this: The counselor must insist that the veteran submit the original discharge certificate so that the words "Certified for Michigan Veterans' Military Pay" can be endorsed upon the discharge by a Notary Public who completes the veterans' bonus application for him.

Here is a question asked frequently. What happens if a veteran lost his discharge and it was not registered?

A. It will be necessary for him to furnish a Certificate in Lieu of Lost Discharge.

There is another part to that question: A lost discharge, but the original discharge was recorded by the County Clerk. The Adjutant general has indicated that he will accept a certificate from the County Clerk in lieu of a lost discharge, but a certified copy or photostatic copy accompanying this certificate must be a copy of the original and so certified by the County Clerk. And, when the bonus application is submitted, the endorsement "Certified for Michigan Veterans' Military Pay" must be endorsed on the certificate from the county clerk.

Here is the answer to another question which has been asked frequently. If you are asked to witness a veteran's application, do not fail to put down your street address as well as the name of your city.

has a peculiar virtue of bringing the taxpayer close to the agency which is expending his tax dollar. Much of the breakdown in tax responsibility has been due to the fact that an increasing large amount of taxes has been received from sources not within the community, either from Lansing or from Washington, and hence had the illusion of being money from someone else's pocketbook and not our own.

This aspect was crystallized recently by Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York who declared: "Without close correlation between the spending of public money and the responsibility for collecting it through taxes, local responsibility for government will degenerate rapidly and we shall have an all-powerful, centralized government. That prospect is a grave threat to free centralized government."

Governor Dewey has had the courage and daring to propose specific new taxes for local units of government whereby these governments might finance the increased cost of public services at the present time.

For example, county governments in New York State would be empowered to levy a retail sales tax of not more than 2 per cent on tangible personal property. Owners of motor vehicles would pay a tax of not more than $5 per passenger vehicle and not more than $10 for a commercial vehicle. Trucks used exclusively for farming would be exempted.

The county government would be authorized to levy a tax of 3 per cent on restaurant meals and drinks over $1. Counties could tax alcoholic beverage licenses at not more than 25 per cent of the amount of the state license fee. Counties could tax admissions to theaters not more than 5 per cent. Vending machines would be licensed by the county at not more than $10 per machine per year.

It is the conviction of Governor Dewey that the above taxes, if levied by county governments in New York State, would realize a total of more than $84,000,000 per year to make possible some of the improvements such as higher salaries for teachers, new or improved school buildings, and other public benefits.

Cities of at least 100,000 population or more would be given new additional tax powers, and New York City would be segregated whereby additional taxes could be levied on meals, admissions to amusement, liquor licenses, ownership of motor vehicles, including commercial trucks.

Governor Dewey summed up the problem of new taxes for local governments by pointing out "there is no magic to the production of government revenue. They arise only from being extracted from the pockets of the taxpayer."

Increase Milk With Electrical Deicers

Higher Production Can Be Secured With Control

Of all the problems which livestock farmers face during the winter, one of the most annoying is the task of preventing ice from coating the surface of their stock tanks.

An adequate year-round water supply is essential to enable dairy cows to continue top milk production and to maintain economical gains on beef cattle and hogs. A pressure water system will do the job most of the year, but what about those freezing months farmers now are facing?

The following results of tests conducted by Purdue university help in approaching the problem: There is no advantage in actually warming water for stock; the maintenance of an ice-free drinking hole is sufficient; water under pressure eliminates the necessity of having large capacity storage tanks.

Given these findings, agricultural engineers have turned to electricity as a means of overcoming winter stock tank worries. Research has shown that electric heaters, with wattages rated as low as 300, are capable of keeping ice-free holes open in small tanks without difficulty. Among newly developed electric stock tank heaters, operating at low cost, is a device which is designed to float on the surface of the water. It consists of a hollow metal disk, encircled by a heating element and containing a thermostat. Tests show that it can keep a recommended drinking hole open in temperatures far below zero.

KNOW YOUR BREED

Texas Longhorns

By W. J. DRYDEN

This ancient breed of cattle, which used to roam in the southwest in vast herds, is being successfully rescued from threatened extinction by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service.

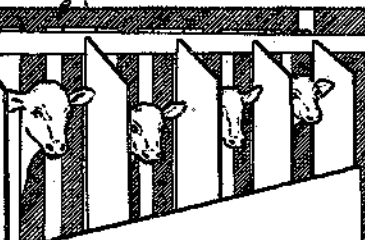

Texas Longhorns first were introduced to this continent in 1521 by

Gregorio Villalobos, a governor-general of "New Spain."

With the introduction of heavier, beefier cattle, the Longhorns began to disappear.

Shelter for Calves

Shelters for calves and heifers should be dry and well-bedded. The Washington State college individual pens about 24 to 30 square feet in area may be used for small calves. They help prevent the calves from sucking each other, make it easier to feed the calves individually and help to prevent spread of disease.

Penicillin Fails at Pear Blight Control

While penicillin has proven the wonder drug of the century, it has proven utterly unsuited to control pear and walnut blights, according to work done by Dr. B. A. Rudolph, University of California deciduous fruit station at San Jose. Large concentrations failed completely to check the disease when injected into the trees. It is believed that excessive dilution of the drug by the sap stream is responsible.

Holding Their Gains

Two men pedaled their tandem bicycle up a very steep hill and stopped to rest at the top.

"Sure," said one, "that was real hard work. I didn't think we'd get here."

"Nor did I," said the other. "I was afraid we'd run backwards—that's why I kept on the brake."

A Great Pity

Rain poured down. Rivers flooded. Houses, animals, even people were being carried away. Caught in the deluge were the Krantzes.

"Help me!" wailed Mrs. Krantz. "I'm being washed downstream!"

"What a pity!" replied Krantz. "And to think you just took a bath this morning!"

Making It Last

John—That's a good looking hat you're wearing, Fred.

Fred—Yes, I bought it six years ago, had it cleaned four times, changed it twice in restaurants and it still looks like new.

More Vitamin C

With tomato or raw turnip, it takes about twice as much to give the same amount of vitamin C as oranges or grapefruit.

Weather Control

Madam—Have you been touching the barometer, Mary?

Maid—Yes'm. It's my night out, so I set it for "fine."

Can't Express Himself

William—What is that deaf and dumb carpenter so frantic about?

Charles—He just hit his thumb with a hammer and he can't find his pad and pencil.

'Knew' Spelling

Joe—There's one trouble I always have with spelling "neuralgia."

Bill—What's the trouble?

Joe—I always forget the "k" in the "knew" part.

Because of poor milling, shipping and cooking practices, Chinese rice is of inferior quality.

Breaking It Gently

Boss (to new secretary)—Take a letter to Smith and Company, asking them to reconsider the offer I made them yesterday . . . and . . . you do the same."

Fast Little Rascal

An old Dutch farmer, seeing an electric fan for the first time, exclaimed, "Py golly dot's a lively squirrel you got in dar, ain'd it?"

Out of Reach

"Ouch! I've been stung by a wasp."

"Here, put some ammonia on it."

"I can't—it flew away."

Better Company

She—Men are contemptible creatures.

He—Yeah, I know, that's why I run around with women.

Naval Science Develops

Warships were not classified to carry out particular functions in battles until the second half of the 17th century, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Before that time naval ships of all types and sizes took part in the action at the same time indiscriminately or when the most suitable opportunity was afforded.

We're Proud To Be On THIS TEAM!

The Ford Motor Company has just announced that the Ford three-window, six-cylinder business coupe is back in production at a price twenty dollars below that which prevailed when this model was temporarily discontinued last fall.

This reduction, plus those announced last January 15th, makes the Ford business coupe and the two-door sedan the lowest priced cars in their field.

We Ford Dealers are proud to be part of the organization that pioneered and is continuing such a clear, realistic and progressive policy.

We consider this newest Ford price reduction still further proof that the Ford Motor Company leads in offering the American Public the most value at the lowest possible price.

And we feel certain that it will play a definite part in speeding the return of sound and sensible prices, and a secure future for consumer, seller and producer alike.

Announces Details of $20,000,000 Price Reductions

Details of the recently announced International Harvester policy of making price reductions to save users of our products approximately $20,000,000 a year have now been worked out.

We have reduced prices on 163 models. These cover 12 basic models of farm tractors, 123 basic models of farm machines, 16 basic models of industrial tractors and engines, and 12 models of motor trucks, as well as certain motor truck attachments. The new lower prices are effective as of March 10, 1947.

These reductions were made not because of any decline in demand, but because we believe nothing is more important to this country than to lower the prices of the goods people buy.

While prices have not been changed on all products, we have made reductions wherever possible, in the amounts possible. Prices of many of our most popular products have been substantially lowered.

Altogether, more than half of the company's customers will be benefited by the reductions, which range from 1% to 23.8% and from $2.50 to $300 per item, based on list prices, F.O.B. Chicago.

Since the people have demanded that the government withdraw from price control in peacetime, the responsibility to keep prices in check is back where it should be—in the hands of business and industry. The business outlook makes it possible for us to move toward the goal of lower prices, and we have felt a duty to act as promptly as possible.

Our ability to maintain these lower prices will depend on the supply and price of materials we buy from others and on uninterrupted production at reasonable wage levels.

The prices listed here carry out our announced policy that "Any price is too high if it can be reduced."

Clancy was out working in the garden, and as he labored he groaned and grumbled. He was starving for meat and for something sweet, but there was nothing in sight.

Suddenly from the kitchen came the voice of his good wife shouting: "Clancy, come in and get your steak and your country butter and your strawberry preserves!"

Clancy dropped his spade in amazement, and hot-footed it into the kitchen.

"Maggie, oh, Maggie!" he cried, "ye're only kiddin' me!"

"No, Clancy, it's not you I'm kiddin'," laughed Maggie. "It's the neighbors!"

Wooden Ships Go Out

By 1900 wooden ships, although still built in large numbers for certain purposes, were on the way out. The building of metal ships, begun roughly 100 years before with the construction of small canal boats and coasting vessels, had become a great industry. Steel bottoms and steel decks were to carry American trade into every corner of the world.

"HEAVENS TO BETSY..."

"HOW CAN INVISIBLE LIGHT MAKE MEAT TASTE BETTER?"

"WHY, IT'S EASY, MA'AM," chorried the butcher. "These new germ-killing lamps in our refrigerator stop bacteria cold—thanks to invisible ultraviolet rays... and that means less waste and more taste for your money!"

For years, you see, butchers have had a difficult problem in keeping meat both pure and fresh. Refrigeration, of course, is partially the answer. Refrigeration will slow up the growth of mold and bacteria to almost nothing—will keep meat practically 100% pure. But refrigeration alone cannot always keep meat from drying out. And when meat does dry out, it loses its natural flavor, juiciness and color.

Now, however, the germ-killing lamp, properly installed, makes it possible to increase the temperature and humidity in butcher shop refrigerators. That's because its invisible ultraviolet rays destroy airborne bacteria before the meat is contaminated.

The result? Sanitary, sweet-smelling meat storage, for one thing. Less chance of meat spoilage in your own refrigerator, too, because your purchases are healthfully pure and—at the same time—juicier, tastier, more flavorful... not shrunken, discolored or dehydrated.

The germ-killing lamp is not brand-new. For some years it has been used—in many ways and with varying results—to fight airborne bacteria.

During these years, scientists and engineers made a thorough study of the lamp to determine exactly how best it could be used. As a result of this research, it is now possible for every meat market in southeastern Michigan to get the maximum benefit from these lamps—easily. A butcher need not know how to compute the required number of lamps—need not be an expert on bacteria counts or ultraviolet radiation. For Edison specialists can study his problem and give him specific recommendations.

There's no charge for this accurate, impartial advice. It's another example of how Edison service can help Edison customers get the most from all the electricity they buy.

BUTCHERS ARE BEAMING!

Naturally. Their new germ-killing lamps save them both meat and money. Less spoilage... no more time and trouble lost in trimming discolored meat!

P.S. The customers like them, too! There's less waste, more taste and more value for them!

Renovate Your Old Accessories
If You Can't Purchase New Ones

By Ertta Haley

A FRIEND of mine who operates on a very limited clothes budget tells me that she spends very little on things such as gloves, purses and belts. Looking at her, however, one finds it hard to believe. What, then, is the secret?

"There's no secret to it at all," she goes on to explain. "I simply make my own or renovate the things I have, copying the new fashions faithfully. You see I like to buy good basic clothes and add new, fashionable touches to them."

Actually it's a very simple matter to do this, particularly if you are a bit thrifty and fashionwise. And, what's more, it takes less time to whip up a belt out of an old piece of felt or grosgrain or a bag, than it does to make a dress.

One of the things I always remember about this particular friend of mine is that her white bags and gloves always appear immaculate even in the warmest, sunniest weather. Her trick? "Well," she explains, "I have one inexpensive pouch bag for which there are three or four covers. I make these at home—they take less than half an hour to sew together, and then I always have a fresh one to slip over the bag itself."

This might suggest that you could make "slipper" covers for some of your other bags as the material or leather on them becomes too frayed to look attractive. Use contrasting colored wools, for example and have both gloves and bag to match.

Bags May be Remodeled
In Different Ways

In addition to sewing different kind of covers for the bags, there are other ways of freshening them. If you have a basically good bag in which the leather or fabric is not worn, then it may need just a little repairing to make it perfect again. Linings have a way of wearing out, but these usually are easily replaced. Select a good type of fabric, one that is dark but matching to the outer covering, one that is closely woven and will not snag easily.

Save on your clothing budget...

It's easy to change coin purses and mirrors when linings and zippers are changed. They add a note of freshness to the bag.

Perhaps you are one of those lucky women who have a good bag with the material worn and shabby. If the frame is good, save it and discard the rest. Then cut new material to fit the frame, using canvas or buckram, and lighter fabric for lining. Stitch these together before attaching them to the frame. Add a smart new touch to the bag with bright new initials, pin or flowers, and you will have an entirely new bag.

Belts Add Much
To Your Costume

Have you been watching the latest fashions? One of the most important style notes is the belt. They may be wide or narrow, but they are definitely planned to give glamour to the costume.

Sometimes it is wise to have several different belts for a dress to give it different moods. Or, perhaps a dress you now have lacks that certain finishing touch because the belt, somehow, just does not go with it, or do anything for it. Some dresses are better with colorful belts that tie and swoop.

By making own accessories.

Fashion Flashes

Several colors are being emphasized for new clothes. One designer stresses all gradations of beige. She likes to use with it yellow and green for contrast.

Another leading designer likes to make use of a misty sea green and a coral red. Clear, vivid shades of these colors are also very popular currently.

All-Purpose Purse

Jenny has designed this bag for every type of woman from college girl to young sophisticate. Made of brown or black plastic patent, it has a zipper opening which is large enough to permit roomy items to go in easily. A gold disk adds a touch of glamour.

Others are still better if they have belts that buckle, either wide or narrow, depending upon the effect you want to create.

Old belts, particularly old leather belts, can be recovered with decorative fabrics to match your dress. Or, if you have material from which the dress was made, consider making a belt from it by covering a strip of buckram.

It's also possible to make the most of your belts by changing buckles on them. Look over old buckles first, and then investigate the possibilities at the stores. Items such as this are inexpensive but often mean the difference between success and failure in your clothes.

Gloves are becoming increasingly important in the wardrobe, and there is much a woman can do to make them outstanding just by little sewing tricks. All manner and means of trimmings may be sewed on the cuffs of worn gloves of fabric to make them new and fashionable. Much is being made of puffs at the wrists of gloves. If, for example, you have taffeta trimming on your dress, you might buy extra taffeta and trim the cuffs of your gloves with it. Small pins and ornaments also may be used.

Be Smart!

That breezy Western look is cropping up in the new season handbags... not only in rich, brown tooled leather but also in the modern version of buckskin—so creamy rich in color. They're ideal matchmates for tweeds and spectator sports.

From the Sewing Bag

Reinforce weak spots on toes, heels and tops of stockings and elbows of shirts and sweaters before the hole actually appears. This will make the garment wear longer as well as enabling you to do a better job.

Rubber and oiled silk garments often are easily mended with adhesive tape.

Buttons stay on better if they are sewed with a thread shank. Never sew buttons on too tight if you really want them to stay on.

Slips that wear out under the arm are easily patched. It also helps to wear shields to prevent rapid wear.

who attended her sister as matron of honor, wore a pink princess style gown of taffeta and net. The bridesmaids, Miss Louise Miller of Britton, and Miss Marian Kapnick of Detroit, wore identical gowns of blue taffeta and net.

All wore halos of net and flowers to match the gowns and carried frilled nosegays of roses.

Herbert Brown of Adrian, was best man, and the ushers were Robert Keating of Ypsilanti, and Ernest Kapnick, brother of the groom, of Palmyra.

The bride's mother was dressed in aqua and wore a corsage of yellow roses and the groom's mother appeared in navy blue with a corsage of gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors.

Assisting at the reception were the Misses Ruth Howard and Edna Hendricks of Ann Arbor, and the Misses Mary Jayne Campbell and Barbara Fort of Cass City.

Janet Biddle, a cousin of the bride, had charge of the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Cass City High School and Cleary College and for the past two and one-half years has been employed by the Automobile Club of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

The groom is a graduate of Adrian High School and Cleary College with a bachelor of science degree. He served three years in the U. S. Army Air Corps with 18 months' duty in the southwestern and western Pacific theater of operations as a lieutenant with the Air Evaluation Board. At present he is employed as accountant with the Streicher Tool and Die Company of Ypsilanti.

NEW OFFICIALS ELECTED AT ANNUAL MEETING

the ensuing church-year. It was announced that beginning January 1, 1948, the church-year will change to conform to the calendar year. This is a nation-wide denominational change. According to the clerk, the communicant membership of the church is 217, and the Sunday School enrollment, 132.

The Ladies' Aid Society's report showed that approximately $1,500 of their funds had been used for the installation of an oil furnace and hot water heater at the manse, a gift to the restoration fund, weekly care of the church and other operating expenditures.

The report of the Women's Missionary Society by Mrs. Alice Nettleton, indicated a splendid year of educational programs and all appointments met, amounting to $191.00.

The Sunday School report of Mrs. Florence Brown, treasurer, read by Mrs. E. G. Golding, indicated all current expenses paid; a $53 gift to benevolences, and a balance in the treasury. (The benevolences did not include special class and department benevolence gifts, such as the "Staking of Claims" in Mission Schools, National and Foreign.) Mrs. Don MacLachlan reported that the Cradle Roll enrollment was seven-teen.

Sally Colbert, secretary, gave an interesting report of the activities of the Westminster Youth Fellowship.

The Young Women's Guild report also indicated a successful year, including a monthly schedule of varied, interesting programs. The Guild members provide flowers for the altar each Sunday; choir financial support; have charge of special day decorating of the church and render other services.

The pastor gave a summary of visitation and other pastoral services, and spoke of his appreciation of the loyalty of the congregation. "The Sunday attendance," he said, "has attained and maintained a steady average increase over that of the past year."

No one was present to report for the deacons, or the Fellowship Club.

Frederick Pinney presented the budget for the ensuing "nine month" church-year of benevolences and current operating expenses and services, which included an increase in the pastor's salary, and an item of $1,500 earmarked for improvements, such as lighting of the auditorium and other changes.

The Rev. M. R. Vender was called upon to preside as moderator during the election of officers. The nominating committee of which Dr. Ivan MacRae was chairman, and Mrs. B. H. Starnmann and Mrs. M. C. McLellan members, presented recommendations as the election proceeded.

Relative to elders: Arthur Holmberg was re-elected, 1947-50. The two terms of office having expired for James A. Milligan, Orion Cardew was elected to succeed him, 1947-50. The session operated on a rotary plan of election and service.

Meredith Auten and Ernest L. Schwaderer, whose terms of office expired as members of the board of trustees, were re-elected, 1947-50.

The board of deacons will have the greatest change of personnel. George Cole, Leslie Townsend and Leonard McLean, whose terms of office expired, were elected to succeed themselves, 1947-50. The new deacons elected are: Clarence Merchant, 1947-48, to fill the unexpired term of William Schram, resigned because of non-residence; James Colbert, 1947-49, to fill the unexpired term of Orion Cardew, resigned to accept the office of elder, and Harry Little, 1947-50, as an added member to the board. Mrs. Ernest Croft was re-elected as treasurer of the church, and James A. Milligan was elected to succeed Dr. Ivan MacRae on the nominating committee. Mrs. B. H. Starnmann, as senior member of the rotation committee, becomes the chairman of said committee for the new year.

The evening was concluded by a social period. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Frederick Pinney and Mrs. Robert Keppen as hostesses.

Representatives elected to the Cass City Council of Churches are: Dr. Ivan MacRae, Horace Pinney, Harry Little, Mrs. Don MacLachlan, Mrs. Dave Ackerman and Edward Golding, Jr.
