

National Honor Society Inducts New Members; Nine Seniors Recognized at Honors Assembly

Sixteen new members were added to the roster of the Cass City Chapter of the National Honor Society in an induction ceremony held at the high school Thursday morning, April 17. Election to membership in this national organization is the reward for outstanding achievement and contribution in the four-fold field of character, scholarship, leadership and service. Members are elected by a faculty council which bases its decisions on scholarship and citizenship records as well as ratings given all candidates by both their teachers and fellow students.

This year's induction service was under the leadership of Florence Hillman, president of the local chapter. Members of the society assisted, as did also Mrs. Holcomb, Harold Oatley and Arthur Holmberg of the faculty, and Mrs. B. H. Starman, representing the board of education. Pins and certificates were presented to the new members as the gift of the Cass City Community Club, which has now for three years made this contribution to the society.

As a part of the induction service, senior members were given special citations in recognition of the part they have played in the four years of their high school careers. These were read by Mr. Holmberg, who, after calling attention to the fact that the class of 1947 presented an unusually large number of eligible candidates, making it difficult for the council to limit its elections to 15 per cent of the class membership, spoke in part as follows: "Florence Hillman, present president of the honor society, has been active musically as a member of the band, the glee club, and special ensembles. She has taken a leading part in the student council and in the affairs of her class. In

The Dillman team, composed of the following members, Knoblet, Croft, Wetters, Maharg and Captain Dillman, won the second schedule in the Cass City Bowling League when they came through to win their final and deciding series against the Gross keglers in the closing week of the season. The Gremel team, who were on equal terms with the Dillman squad last week, were able to salvage but one point when they lost their closing series to the Murray DeFrain team by rolling their lowest totals of the whole schedule.

Johnnie Juhasz's team produced the best exhibition of bowling during the closing week and totaled 2485 actual pins to humble the Kolb pinsters. Captain Johnnie helped his team by rolling the only 600 series of the week. His 605 count with a big game of 237 was his best effort of the season. Other high games were rolled by Reid, 284; Geiger, 223; Atwell, 222, and DeFrain, 203. Juhasz's 605 pins, Dillman's 564, and DeFrain's 555 series were the only three individuals to hit the week's honorable mention list.

To Cecil Larkin goes the honor of being the outstanding individual bowler for the season in the City League and his 177 average won

DEFORD DIARY

Death of Mrs. Norman Martin—

Rosa A. Martin died at her home in Deford at 6:30 o'clock Monday morning, April 21. Mrs. Martin has been in very poor health for several years with bronchial trouble, and a weak heart, but the immediate cause of death was pneumonia, contracted some time ago, and she has been confined to her bed for five weeks.

Rosa, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Spencer, was born in Gifford, Mich., April 10, 1868. In 1884, she was married to Norman Martin, and in 1888 Mr. and Mrs. Martin moved to Ellington Township, four and one-half miles from Deford, coming to Deford later. Mrs. Martin had lived there 24 years when she passed away. In her younger years she was a member of the Methodist Protestant Church, and held to her Christian principles through all of her life.

As a pioneer when neighbors were few, her's was a ready hand to help when need required.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin were the parents of one daughter (Edith), Mrs. Arthur Stephens, who died quite young, leaving three small children, for whom Mrs. Martin cared for in her home until they were grown.

In 1939, Mr. Martin passed on, and since that time her home was with her granddaughter, Mrs. Herbert Phillips. During these latter years, as a neighbor having the daily privilege of observation, we can say that the deceased was splendidly paid in full, for any loving care given to her granddaughter when a child.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in the Methodist Church by the pastor, Rev. Walter Mollan. Burial was made in Novesta Cemetery.

Near relatives who survive are: Two brothers, Harvey Spencer of Sterling, Mich., and David Spencer, Saskatchewan; three grandchildren, Azell Stephens of Caro, Floyd Stephens of Flint, and Mrs. Herbert Phillips of Deford; and several great-grandchildren.

Glenn Towsley, and Mrs. Walter Kelley were the singers, and Mrs. Howard Malcolm, pianist. Pallbearers were: Herman Rock, Ray Kilbourn, Fred Purdy, James Jacoby, Horace Murry and Norman Bentley.

W. C. T. U. to Meet—

The local W. C. T. U. May session will meet at the home of Mrs. Earl Rayl, at two o'clock, May 1, and a welcome is extended to all who care to attend. Mrs. Lillie Bruce, leader; devotions, Mrs. Carrie Retherford.

W. C. T. U. Family Night—

All are invited to attend this annual meeting, evening of May 2, at eight o'clock at the Harley Kelley home, when the honorary members will have charge of the program. Walter Kelley is leader of topic, Rev. Herbert Watkins, devotional leader. Special musical numbers will be presented and potluck lunch served. Bring tables and table service.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson have bought of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Quick, the old homestead of Mr. and Mrs. Michael H. Quick.

Ollie Spencer has received from the conservation department the appointment as game and fire warden for the Deford conservation area.

The Farmers' Club held their April session on Friday evening in the Deford Church dining room. Sixty were present, and enjoyed a chicken dinner. Local talent furnished a very pleasing program. Keith Little briefly told his method used in feeding and raising his pigs shown at the National Stock Show in Chicago. Several vocal and instrumental numbers were much enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kilbourn will entertain the club in their home in May.

Mrs. May Sherk, Mrs. Althea Kelley, Mrs. Blanche Kelley, and Mrs. Edna Malcolm were visitors on Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Bruce at Oxford.

Poker Aftermath

"Is this the Band-Aid cleaners?" Inquired a frantic voice on the other end of the line.

The proprietor of the dry cleaning establishment affirmed that it was. Whereupon the feminine voice said, "Please let me speak to my husband. He told me he was going to play cards, and he hasn't been home all night."

"But why call here?" asked the dry cleaner.

"I had to. My husband said his friends would probably take him to the cleaner's, but he didn't say which one, so I'm calling them all."

Hard to Address

The governor of the state one day appeared before the convicts at the state prison to make a speech. Forgetting his audience, he began in the usual manner:

"Fellow Citizens"—a murmur of laughter ran about the hall. The governor became confused, and began: "Fellow Convicts"—the laughter increased. "Oh, you know what I mean," he stammered. "I mean I'm glad to see so many of you here." Up roar.

Could Be

A friend noticed that Harry always carried a loaded revolver in his trunk, and made bold to reproach him for following such a dangerous practice, saying, "Harry, don't you realize that that revolver may go off sometime?"

"Yes," was the philosophical rejoinder. "Providence moves in mysterious ways. How do we know but what it will pick off a baggage-smasher one day?"

To which the other replied: "Nice irk if you can get it."

Fruit Stains

Try sponging with cold water first and gentle rubbing on cranberry or other cooked fruit stains. Boiling water poured on the stain also may be effective. If the stain does not come out entirely, try a drop of lemon juice followed by a thorough rinsing in cool water.

Strength of Joist

Good flooring, whether of oak or other hardwood, must have sturdy joists as foundation. Other factors being equal, the strength of a floor joist varies according to the square of the depth. Stiffness, or resistance to sag, varies according to the cube of the depth. Thus a joist 10 inches deep will be about 1 1/2 times as strong and nearly twice as stiff as a joist 8 inches deep.

Gypsy Gold

By Lillface M. Mitchell

WNU Features.
"Gosh, Julie! You are easy—giving that gypsy gal a five dollar bill for that! Gypsy gold! If that's gold, I'm a busy blonde. But if it should turn the trick, let me have it next, eh?"

Julie Davis nodded. "I didn't buy it from the gypsy. I just crossed her palm with 'gold'—and that in the old days would have been five dollars. But it won't do all the work. She said to do all I could myself and then leave the rest to gypsy gold. Well, me, I'm going downstairs to the drug store and buy a big bottle of perfume and Anthony—he does like fragrance, Cordelia."

"Sure. Men do. Even rich fellows like Anthony who waste three years of a gal's time. I give up. He likes you. He has plenty to marry on. But maybe you've let things drag. A girl has to help some, you know."

At five that night Julie was prompt in leaving the office. Because it was raining, the other girls all stayed at their desks a few minutes to put everything in order. Julie, though, tripped gaily out of the elevator and towards the magazine

"What you need Baby is someone to take care of you."

counter of the office building entirely aware of her new coat and shoes and gloves, her nose well aware of the expensive perfume that surrounded her like an aura.

"You don't look as if the weather had you 'downed', Julie," Anthony greeted her in amazement. "Yours has been the only smiling face to come out of any elevator in the ten minutes I've been waiting. Kind of doped up, aren't you? Want a cab?"

But as usual on rainy nights, no cab was to be had and so, shoulder to shoulder, they walked along cheerily until they came to a sidewalk grating that permitted a basement fan to get air. The heels of the new shoes slid unexpectedly between two of the metal strips.

"Ooo-o-oh!" screamed Julie. Anthony, both arms about her firmly, held her upright. "I have you, Julie. You're not hurt, are you? You didn't turn your ankle?"

Julie shook her head and stood her ground firmly, her eyes searching down in that dark space beneath the sidewalk grating. "I'm all right but I lost my gypsy gold piece," she said disconsolately.

He laughed. "Well, if that's all you lost, that's nothing!" "Nothing?" she eyed him wide-eyed. "Nothing? Why, Tony, it's everything, that gold piece. It's gypsy gold, Tony."

Obviously he got down on all fours and peered down into the dark hole. He borrowed an umbrella from a passerby and poked the glittering gold piece this way and that fruitlessly. Then the passerby with a glance at his watch said he must get along and Anthony returned the umbrella.

"Come on, Julie," he said coaxingly. "We can't get the thing out. It's in there for keeps. Come on, dear."

Julie only shook her head. "I—I paid five dollars for it, Tony. That is, I didn't really pay five dollars but I crossed the gypsy's hand with gold before she gave it to me."

"Mister, we'll get the thing if you'll give us a half dollar for the job," said two newsboys.

"Go to it, kids," said Anthony heartily. "I'll make it a dollar if you're done in five minutes."

Speedily the boys thrust chewing gum into their mouths; grinning at each other they put the damp gum on the end of a long stick and poked.

"Gee, you're a honey," Anthony told her. "You smell so sweet and fragrant and you're such a little useless—losing that gold piece like that! What you need, Baby, is someone to look after you and your possessions. Suppose I hadn't been along now? Julie, Baby, are you going to give me the job?"

"What job?" she asked him gently. "Of being your husband and looking after everything for you," he murmured.

And Julie, blissfully unaware that the new coat was damp and the pretty collar set already crumpled, looked up at him, the fragrant odor of the perfume still clinging to her as if its work was yet to be done instead of already accomplished.

"Keith Little earned valedictorian honors in a class of unusual academic prowess by attaining a four year average of 2.96, one of the highest ratings of recent years. His greatest laurels outside the scholarship field have been in agriculture where he has been continuously active and this year won the F. F. A. election as State Farmer, Star Farmer, and state secretary of that organization.

helping hand wherever help is needed.

Tuscola County residents certainly have been hearing over the radio and reading in the newspapers of how the Red Cross has rushed aid to two recent scenes of great disaster—the tornado which struck in Texas and Oklahoma on April 9 and the great explosions and fires at Texas City, Texas, April 16.

There will be no separate appeal made to the American people to finance these and other extensive disaster operations. All funds will be taken from the Red Cross national disaster budget to which Tuscola County Chapter will contribute its share at the conclusion of the present fund campaign.

Red Cross assistance is given from the national budget when a disaster involves five families or more. The local chapter furnishes all the Red Cross assistance for disasters involving less than five families. Such assistance has been required in Tuscola County twice within the past 60 days.

Mr. Willis urges Tuscola County citizens to give to the Red Cross as generously as the Red Cross gives to those who need its help.

Herd Improvement by Artificial Breeding

Co-Ops Can Lower Cost By Proper Management

By W. J. DRYDEN

An increasing number of farmers use artificial insemination in order to speed up dairy herd improvement and increase their income.

In the urge to expand rapidly, many farmers sometimes have overlooked the importance of technical problems in dairy husbandry, genetics and veterinary medicine.

By joining together within a certain zone, farmers may cooperate in forming an artificial breeding association. This has decided advantages, chief among which is the financial one. To be successful the bulls purchased by the group must be outstanding—better than any one of the individual farmers could afford to maintain.

To properly conduct the insemination, the group should have available a qualified veterinarian. He need not be on a full time basis, but should devote sufficient time to check on all breeders as well as perform the actual insemination. If the organization is sufficiently large he could be engaged on a full time basis, devoting part of his time to disease control and preventative work.

Anchored Soil Will Defeat Dust Storms

Farmers in the Great Plains states are heeding a warning that another cycle of dry years may bring back the disastrous dust storms of the early "thirties," Paul T. Scott, South Dakota State college, writes in Capper's Farmer.

The farmers propose to beat nature to the draw by anchoring at least a portion of the susceptible acreage with hardy grasses.

Most important discoveries made in the fight against erosion were the adaptation of certain tame grasses and new methods of seed harvest for the Plains natives. Brome grass now has spread over the eastern portion of the Plains states and into the Corn Belt. Crested wheatgrass is proving a near-miracle as a land cover and pasture in the northern part. Mechanical processes have been developed for harvesting and seeding buffalo grass, the grammas and wheat grasses.

Backyard Brooder

Small Brooder For Backyard Poultrymen

This brooder, large enough for 25 to 50 chicks, is recommended by University of Maine. It can be made of wood or corrugated box the size indicated in the illustration, or slightly larger. Chicks can be brooded in the basement up to six or eight weeks.

Home, Farm Lead in National Accidents

With the accident rate skyrocketing and the home and farm leading over air, rail and highway as the scene of most accidents, it is time we settled down to some constructive thinking and acting along safety lines. Most of these accidents would not have happened if someone had been a little more careful, thoughtful or alert, or if the farmer would inspect his equipment before using it.

How many electric motors are there in your home? And how many electric heating appliances do you have?

When you check the list below, perhaps you'll find that you've underestimated the electrical equipment that keeps your home pleasant and comfortable.

Our records show that customers are using more and more current in their homes—our production of electricity is at record-breaking heights, far greater even than when war plants worked round the clock. But that increased use of current means that—for a few more pennies a week—you get household tasks done in less time—with less effort—and for less money than in any other way.

Check your electrical equipment against this list...

Motors: Sewing machine, refrigerator, washing machine, clock, razor, record player, furnace fan, electric tools, ventilating fan, iron, vacuum cleaner, kitchen mixer, dishwasher, vibrator, stoker or oil burner, electrical toys, home freezer.

Heating Appliances: Toaster, heating pad, electric blanket, range, water heater, roaster, space heater, bottle warmer, hand iron, mangle, coffee maker, waffle iron, bun warmer, curling iron, grill, tea kettle, heat lamp.

(Figures show that the average Edison customer has more than five of these.)

for him the 1946-47 championship.

On Monday, April 28, the championship match series between the Dillman team, the present schedule winners, and the Landon team, winners of the first schedule, will be rolled and the team taking two out of the three game series will be declared the champion team for the season. The Landon team is made up of the following bowlers: Dr. Miller, Hugh Bogart, Fred Steinman, Robert Hunter and Captain Landon. Either team has an equal chance for victory and the match should prove an interesting one to witness.

The City League tournament is now in progress, having opened on Monday evening, April 21, and most of the entries will be rolled off during the week. Team, double and single events make up classes in the tournament and bowlers from both the City League and the Merchants' League are out to make records and win a portion of the prizes offered.

The likely date for the annual bowlers' banquet and business meeting is May 15, but not yet definite.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. George Seeley, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Evans and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwell Kelly and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kelly and family, A. S. Setting Strawberries

In setting out strawberry plants it is important that the bud and crown be entirely above ground and the whole root system is below the surface. If set too high, the roots are exposed and the plant will dry out; if set too low, the bud will be covered with soil and will rot.

Air Shipment for Fish

Live fish in water may be carried as high as 20,000 feet if the fish population per gallon is reduced to one-half the number suitable at sea level.

ALL-CROP HARVESTER
"SUCCESSOR TO THE BINDER"

Risking your whole year's work and investment in a single crop is no longer necessary.

The All-Crop Harvester handles a wide variety of crops that mature at intervals from spring till snow flies. You have money coming in during three seasons instead of one.

Early clovers and grasses open the harvest season in late spring and early summer... followed by summer-ripening grains... then fall seed crops, sorghums and soybeans.

This one home-owned machine harvests them all.

The All-Crop Harvester's wide, rubber-faced bar cylinder with its finger-tip speed control gives you a choice of over 100 crops. Crops that not only diversify your income but improve the fertility and productivity of your entire farm.

Many legume and grass seeds qualify for the 1947 conservation payments of $3.50 per acre. Market prices per bushel are also excellent for most seeds.

Alaska Offers Land To More Families

Matanuska Project Suggested Near Anchorage.

WASHINGTON.—At least 640 new farm families could make a go of it "right now" in Alaska, bureau of land management estimates.

Almost half of them—310 families—could establish a sort of little Matanuska project on Kenai peninsula, southwest of Anchorage, the bureau reported.

Simultaneously, the bureau of mines estimated that Alaska had added two billion dollars to national wealth in 80 years as a United States possession, and still contained vast unexploited resources.

Oscar L. Chapman, acting secretary of the interior, said that Alaska's mineral resources were sufficiently varied to form the basis for a much more general industrialization than had yet taken place.

The land management bureau, in a listing of Alaskan areas suitable for agricultural settlement, said that Alaska had less than 650 farms.

The bureau estimated that the 640 proposed new families would have "reasonable expectation of establishing successful farm enterprises" in specified localities. It said that 640 was a "conservative minimum" which under favorable conditions in several areas might be doubled, and added:

"Assuming that each new farm family would cultivate the minimum acreage required by the homestead law—20 acres of each 160 acre tract—a total of 12,800 additional acres would be brought into production."

"This would mean at least a doubling of the present cultivated acreage, reported to be about 11,000 acres, of which less than 7,500 acres were harvested."

Of 310 families which the report estimated could be established on Kenai peninsula farms, 100 would settle in the vicinity of Homer, 100 at Kenai, 75 at Kaslof, 20 at Ninilchik and 15 in the Anchor Point area. The report said "there is much more good agricultural land" on Kenai peninsula.

Other proposed settlement areas include Matanuska valley, 75 families; Tanana valley, except the upper part; Kodiak island and southeastern Alaska.

Average American Has

$2,140 Saved for Storm

CHICAGO.—A research organization reported that Americans have saved away an average of $2,140 a person in various kinds of savings for a rainy day.

The research council for economic security, supported by many large business firms, credited the nation with a "nest egg" of 300 billion dollars in bank savings, investments and insurance.

A breakdown of the "nest egg" showed the following:

Savings (cash, deposits, government bonds) 175 billion dollars; privately owned real estate, 60 billion dollars; investments (stocks, bonds, etc.), 30 billion dollars; life insurance (actual cash value), 40 billion dollars.

London 'Bobbies' Ask for Caps And a New Style of Uniform

LONDON.—London's "bobbies" may lose their tall helmets, a characteristic of the London scene since 1864 when they replaced the old beaver top hat. The helmet was chosen as ideally combining a double function, covering the head and providing protection against blows and missiles.

For some time there has been a feeling among the police that changes should be made in the design and quality of their uniform.

An open-neck tunic worn with collar and tie, and with a flat cap instead of a helmet, was recently demonstrated in Wiltshire and met with great approval. There is also a general desire for summer and winter-weight trousers.

Mercy Slayer Is Given Death

Sentence on Murder Charge

MAIDSTONE, ENG. — Gordon Richard Long, 46, pleaded guilty to a murder charge for the mercy slaying of his 7-year-old deformed and imbecile daughter, Jessie. He received quietly a sentence to death on the gallows.

Eric Neve, his lawyer, said that Long had told the police:

"I loved my daughter very much—more so than if she had been normal—and bringing about her death in this way was the hardest thing I have ever done."

He had asphyxiated her with gas while he lay beside her with his gas mask on.

Metal Stockpiles Reported

Falling; Government Warned

WASHINGTON.—Elmer W. Pehrson of the bureau of mines warned congress that the nation's stockpiles of strategic metals and minerals were dwindling so rapidly that "it would be very difficult to mobilize industry for another war."

Testifying before a house public lands subcommittee, he said the United States was "very vulnerable" on that score.

Dangerous Desire

A group of married men were discussing automobile accidents recently, and counseling one another on the various safety measures to observe while driving, when someone introduced the query: "What tendency do you find hardest to overcome while driving your car?"

Answers to this important question were vouchsafed by every man present save mousy little Hector Jones.

"Give us the lowdown, Hector," someone demanded. "What's your most troublesome tendency while driving?"

Hector blushed and hung his head.

"Well, if you must know," he stammered; "it's the desire to talk back to my wife."

REVENGE AT LAST

The scientist had perfected a process to bring inanimate objects to life. He decided to try it out on the statue of a Minute Man of '76 in a nearby park. It worked and after some minutes of creaking, the Minute Man stepped down from his pedestal. As he hit the ground, he cocked his long rifle and turned to the scientist.

"One side, Bud, I'm going to shoot about two million pigeons."

Filled a Need
Sometimes the most amazing philosophy can come out of a bar-room. Last week I overheard two pleasantly glowing gentlemen quietly reviewing their respective marital problems.

The oldest one was approaching the saturation point. Gulping down his shot of rye, then clanging the empty glass on the mahogany, he growled: "Well, George, of fellow, look at it this way—if m'wife didn't drive me 'd'rink, what th' heck good would she be?"

Kitty, Kitty!
Then there was the pompous looking woman who was holding forth at a club meeting and telling of the dream she had had the night before. "It was terrible," she explained. "I dreamed that all the animals that went to make up my furs were standing right there at the foot of my bed."

One of her listeners turned to another woman and said, "How silly of her to let a few alley cats frighten her."

Expert Knowledge
A thrifty man went to a lawyer for advice. After the interview the man ran into an acquaintance and told him about it.

"But why spend money on a lawyer?" asked the other. "When you sat in his office, did you see all the law books there? Well, what he told you you could read in those law books."

"You're right," admitted the advice seeker, "but that lawyer—he knows what page it's on."

NO HAT NEEDED

A crowd of admiring friends had gathered around the owner of a horse who had come in first at Santa Anita, Belmont and Jamaica race tracks.

"Will you race him in the derby?" asked one.

"No," was the reply. "He'll run bareheaded like the rest of them."

Why Complain?
Pat and Mike were having dinner together. Pat helped himself to the larger fish and Mike said:

"Mike—Fine manners, ye have, Pat. If I reached out first, I'd take the smaller fish."

Pat—Well, ye've got it, haven't ye?

Get a Nail
Visitor—Hey, look, the thermometer's falling!

Native—Tsk, tsk, probably wasn't nailed up right.

Sheridan Community Farm Bureau

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Blair entertained members and visitors of the Sheridan Community Farm Bureau at their home on Monday night, April 21. President Alma Davis called the meeting to order. Mrs. Angus Sweeney led in reading the Farm Bureau creed and several old time songs were sung, led by Mrs. John Ramseyer.

The local went on record as being in favor of punishing the soldier boy of Owosso, who is sentenced to death in Japan, according to his crime, but sparing his life. The secretary was instructed to send a letter to the United States Secretary of War asking that his life be spared.

O. H. Blair, discussion leader, gave the lesson on accidents in the home, how accidents are caused and how a great many accidents could be prevented. Taxes and the increase of insurance were discussed.

A social hour and potluck lunch followed the program. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walker will entertain the next meeting at their home on May 19.

S. Popham Funeral Saturday Afternoon

Funeral services for Samuel Popham of Novesta Township, whose death was briefly mentioned in the Chronicle last week, were held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Douglas Funeral Home. The Rev. M. R. Vender officiated and burial was made in Elkland cemetery.

Mr. Popham passed away at his home Wednesday night a few hours after he suffered a stroke.

He was born July 19, 1892, at Kinde. In September, 1916, at Detroit, he married Miss Cora Seeger. Surviving are his widow; a son, Arthur, of Cass City; his father, Richard Popham, and two brothers, Gordon of Kinde, and Charles, of Lansing.

WELL, DOGGONE!

At a certain western mountain resort they still talk about a fabulous foursome playing poker and golf and imbibing good Scotch whisky.

One morning after three days and nights of poker playing and drinking the four pleasure-seeking gentlemen trickled out onto the golf course.

The eldest of the foursome, a spent old gentleman of 70, laid fumbling hands on a club and stepped forward to address the ball. As his blood-shot eyes came to focus on the woefully tiny pellet and his arms, shaking like aspen leaves, drew back to deliver the stroke, a dreadful thing occurred—a big shaggy brown dog dashed from behind the clubhouse, shot across the green and streaked between his legs.

Without batting an eye—calm, careful, calculating—the old boy smacked the ball far and straight down the fairway, a phenomenal shot.

"What a shot!" his companions yelled. "And with that dog running between your legs, too!"

The Scotch-soaked old gentleman gasped, dropped his club and shrieked, "Lord Almighty! Don't tell me that was a real dog!"

EASY CHORE

Farmer (to friend)—I hear, Bert, that while you were in the city you took up this here golf. How'd you like it?

Bert—Well, it ain't bad. It's a bit harder than hoin' turnips and a bit easier than diggin' potatoes.

To Demonstrate New Hog Management Practices Here

Any farmers that are interested are cordially invited to be present at the Little farm either or both of the above mentioned hours.
