

Local School Board Favors Proposed Consolidation

Resolve that Local District and 8 or 10 Rural Schools Be United in One Area

The board of education of the Cass City Public School, in a special session Tuesday morning, resolved that consolidation of the local district be made with eight rural schools now transporting their pupils to Cass City. These rural districts include the Heron, Dickhout, Winton, Wright, Bird, Paul, Quick and Brown schools.

The Dillman and Cedar Run schools have opportunities to engage teachers for the coming year and they have the choice of continuing their schools as at present or entering the consolidation area and having school conducted in the two rural school buildings temporarily under the supervision of the larger school district unit.

All changes outlined above are subject to the approval of the rural district patrons and of the voters of the present Cass City district.

The local school board also expressed themselves as favoring the transportation of pupils of the Hillside and McConnell schools to Cass City as at present. The two rural school districts are not eligible to enter the proposed consolidated district, not being contiguous to the planned consolidation area.

Coach Arthur Paddy was engaged by the local board on a 12-month basis. He will manage the swimming pool at Recreation Park this summer.

Local Pastor Speaks on Civic Pride

Talking on the subject of "Civic Pride" at the Rotary Club luncheon, Rev. S. P. Kirm spoke of the fine spirit of friendliness that existed between the people of Cass City and its trading area. The community has a right to be proud of the village's wide streets, the splendid cooperation of its churches, the willingness of citizens to serve in positions of responsibility, its fine hospitals, its school and the spacious auditorium as a social center, the provisions for the entertainment of youth made possible by the swimming pool and playground. These and the efficient and social organizations such as the Community Club and local service clubs, together with Scout organization were presented as the fine assets of the community by the speaker.

"Not the buildings and not the homes, but what takes place in them are the great unseen values of a community," said Mr. Kirm. He made a plea for citizens to cooperate in lending their influence in reducing juvenile delinquency.

Dr. P. A. Schenck was program chairman and visitors at Tuesday's luncheon were A. D. and George McIntyre of Saginaw, and A. W. Winter.

Keith Little Given Many Honors

Keith Little returned home early Monday from an interesting three days spent in Chicago where he and other F. F. A. members from four states were guests of W. L. S., the Prairie Farmer radio station. Highlights of the trip were a visit to the Swift Meat Packing plant, luncheon in the Stevens, the world's largest hotel, and an interview on the radio Saturday night when Keith was chosen as the Michigan boy to be interviewed. The trip was made by train.

Keith received another gold medal on Monday. This represents the Thomas E. Wilson award and came to him through Norris Wilbur, county agriculture agent, and recognizes Keith as the champion 4-H club member in the county.

Coming Auctions

Having sold his farm, Frank Cranick will have a farm sale, 4 1/2 miles south of Gaytown, on Saturday, May 3. Particulars are on page 7.

In a future number of the Chronicle will appear an auction ad of household goods of the late Jennet Messner which will be held in Cass City, Saturday, May 17.

Last week's Chronicle contained an auction ad for Roland H. Hartwell which will be held today (Friday), 2 miles south, 2 1/2 miles east and 1/2 mile south of Owendale.

Chinese Medical Officer to Address Local Church Group

MAJOR MING-SENG LI

An unusual opportunity will be afforded members and friends of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, and citizens of this community, in the coming of Major Ming-Seng Li, chief of the administrative department of the Wu-Han Army General Hospital, located in Hankow, Hupeh, China.

Major Li is a product of Evangelical missions in his native home of Shenchowfu (Yuanling) Hunan, China. He was graduated from the schools of the Evangelical and Reformed Church missions, and took advanced work at Huping College, Yochow, and at the Central University in Nanking. He taught in mission schools for a period of 10 years, in three of which he was associated with the Rev. S. P. Kirm, of Cass City, who is arranging the tour which brings him to the Evangelical United Brethren Church of Cass City, for an address on the evening of May 8, at 8:15, following a Mother-Daughter banquet at 7 p. m., at which he will also speak. He will bring the morning message at this church on May 11, at 11 a. m. also.

In 1931 Major Li entered the medical division of the Chinese Nationalist forces, and became administrator of the Wu-Han Hospital. In the summer of 1946, he passed an examination permitting him to come to the United States with a company of 120 medical doctors and nurses, on a government tour.

Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom Friday, May 9

The junior class of Cass City High School is busy with its banquet and prom preparations for Friday evening, May 9. Their honored guests, the senior class, will be entertained with a "Dutch Treat" banquet and later in the evening a "Windmill Frolic." The faculty and board of education will also be guests of the juniors.

The six junior committees have announced their plans for their school's leading social event of the year. The gym and tables will be decorated in keeping with the Dutch theme. The dinner will be served at 6:30 by the cafeteria staff and a group of sophomore girls. An after-dinner program with Gene Sickler as toastmaster will follow.

The prom will get underway at 9 p. m. with "Chuck" Henning's orchestra of Saginaw furnishing the music. Dancing will continue until 1:00 a. m. The public will be welcome at the prom.

Mrs. Brooker Comes from Florida by Plane

Thrilled at the short period of time consumed during her trip from Miami, Fla., to Detroit Saturday by plane, Mrs. J. D. Brooker arrived at her home in Cass City Sunday. The trip to Detroit was made in a little over seven hours. The plane, "Great Silver Fleet," is one of the four largest passenger planes in existence, Mrs. Brooker was told by the stewardess. Fifty-six people were aboard and eight states were crossed in the space of three hours. Only two stops were made en route—one at Jacksonville, Fla., and the other at Cleveland, Ohio. This was Mrs. Brooker's first plane ride.

Mrs. Brooker was met in Detroit by her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Brooker, of Bay City, who brought her to her home in Cass City Sunday afternoon. She had spent the winter months at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Burke, expect to leave Fort Lauderdale for Cass City the latter part of May.

Newlyweds Honored by Reception Friday

One hundred and sixty-five guests attended the wedding reception honoring Pfc. and Mrs. William A. Philip, Jr., on Friday evening, April 25, at the town hall in Cass City. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. James Pethers, William A. Philip, Sr., Pfc. and Mrs. William A. Philip, Jr.

Dancing was enjoyed by the guests, after which lunch was served. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a bride and groom, graced the center of the lace covered table which occupied the center of the platform. The cake was served by Mrs. George W. Philip of Mt. Clemens together with chocolate and cherry cakes, ice cream and coffee.

Mrs. Ella Vance entertained the guests with four original poems which brought cheers from the audience. The many and beautiful gifts were opened by the newlyweds after which dancing was resumed.

Guests present were from Mt. Clemens, Detroit, Van Dyke, Ann Arbor, Pontiac, Harbor Beach and Cass City. Pfc. and Mrs. William A. Philip, Jr., left on Saturday for Biloxi, Miss., after spending a 15-day furlough with Mr. and Mrs. James Pethers.

Auxiliary Contest Closes on May 26

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Tri-County Post, No. 507, of the American Legion, at their regular meeting Monday accepted the invitation of the Legion post to join them in a dancing party to be given May 8 at post headquarters.

In the business meeting, the president appointed Mrs. Dorus Klinkman and Mrs. Harve Klinkman as members of a flower committee. Following the business session, games were enjoyed and lunch served. One new member was admitted to the organization that evening.

There will be no meeting of the Auxiliary on May 12. The membership contest will close with the next regular meeting on May 26.

The want ads are newsy, too.

President Pinney Makes Appointments

Village President Frederick H. Pinney and members of the village council have set May 7 and 8 as "Clean Up" days for Cass City.

Erection of "Stop" signs was authorized by the council Monday evening for all streets crossing or running into Main Street inside the village limits.

Mr. Pinney announced the following appointments: Members of board of trustees of Cass City Community Hospital: Mrs. E. B. Schwaderer, W. C. Downing and H. F. Lenzner. The three trustees were named for three-year terms. Mrs. Schwaderer and Mr. Downing were re-appointed and the last named succeeds Mr. Pinney. Other members of the board are Archie McLachlan, M. B. Auten, Rev. John J. Bozek, John McLeellan, N. Karr and Mrs. Edwin Fritz.

Playground and Hospital Funds Are Given Boosts

Amateur Boxing Bouts and Souvenir Program Bring in Good Returns

Those who enjoy amateur boxing exhibitions saw plenty of action in the one conducted at the school gym here Tuesday night sponsored by the Rotary Club and Gavel Club for the benefit of the Cass City Community Hospital and the Cass City Recreation Park. The crowd filled the large room, which was well suited for such an occasion and from the first to the twelfth bout much interest was manifested in the performances of the youthful contestants.

Admirers of local boxers found much satisfaction in the success of the four youngsters. Gerald Prieskorn, 135, defeated Larry Larson, a 134-pounder of Roscommon in 1:54 of the first round, while Duane Kettiewell, 126, outpointed Rudy Wendt, 127, of Bay City. Keith Willerton, 177, another local boxer, was matched against Fred Sharpsteen, 220, of Sebawaing, and won the decision from the Huron County athlete, while Fred Maciejewski, 133, bagged a technical knockout over Bob Dewitt of Roscommon when the latter suffered an ear injury in the first round.

Benny Steinhoff, 95, and Mike Pelon, 106, both of Bay City, went both two rounds, when Pelon complained of stomach pains and the honors were awarded to Steinhoff. Isaac Kequom, 145, of Roscommon, stopped Ken Ansel, 147, of Bay City when the latter was exhausted at the end of the first round.

Junior High Banquet Held Friday Evening

Friday evening, April 25, the members of Cass City junior high held their annual spring banquet.

Among the 165 present were the members of the board of education and the entire junior high faculty. The auditorium was appropriately decorated with bluebirds and spring flowers. The table was adorned with a centerpiece of stocks and irises and pink candles. Lovely pink and yellow roses with streamers furnished an artistic finish for the ends of the tables.

After a delicious meal, the program began with the presentation of a corsage of red roses to Mrs. Mary Holcomb, the junior high principal, who supervised all the activities.

Miss Nancy Meier, as toastmistress, handled the situation in a very capable manner.

The year's work and play were reviewed in an interesting manner by the class presidents, Melva McConnell and Tommy Schwaderer.

Arthur Holmberg responded to the address of welcome given by Lota Little.

Home Economics Achievement Day at Mayville May 6

The annual Achievement Day for all the Home Economics Extension groups in Tuscola County will be held at Mayville High School on Tuesday, May 6, with an all-day program. This is an annual affair for all groups and the day is devoted to viewing the exhibits which show the work and projects done by each group during the year and to an afternoon program of interest to all homemakers completing the year's work. Dinner will be served at 11:30 by the band mothers of Mayville and all local arrangements are being handled by the Mayville Extension Group with Mrs. John Lynch as chairman.

Over 800 are expected to attend this year as the groups are greater in number and have an increased membership. Included in the displays this year, which will feature special interest lessons, will be exhibits of leather glove making, dress forms, cotton dresses, millinery, knitting, crocheting, landscaping, good grooming, slip covers, rettying spring unit cushions, flower arrangement, pressing and conservation of clothing and homemade Christmas toys. A short business meeting will be held at which time announcement will be made of a summer project for Extension group members and of a change in the yearly program and plans for the year by Miss Mildred M. Onlor, home demonstration agent for Tuscola County.

Tuscola County Health Committee to Continue

Members of the Tuscola County Health Committee, representing the townships of the county, met at the court house in Caro Monday, April 28, for the purpose of discussing future plans for continuing the effort to secure a full time health department in operation in Tuscola County.

Chairman Clarence Bougher reviewed with the committee the work that has been done, expressed himself as being more confident that the county should have a working health department than ever and felt that all possible effort should be put forth to continue the educational process among people of the county.

He expressed full confidence in the action of the board of supervisors, feeling that they could not have taken any other action considering the financial condition and the question brought about because of the sales tax distribution. He also pointed out that the decision to have an operating health department rested entirely with the board of supervisors, that no additional action was needed.

May 7 and 8 Are Clean-up Days

Wednesday and Thursday, May 7 and 8, have been designated as clean-up days for Cass City by Village President Frederick Pinney. At that time, all citizens are urged to do what is necessary to make Cass City a place more beautiful and at the same time more healthful.

Following the custom of former years, the village truck will haul away tin cans and other rubbish at the expense of the village. All debris should be placed in barrels, boxes or other containers in a convenient place for loading on the truck. All persons are requested to cooperate in this spring cleaning campaign.

Convention Reports Given at W. S. C. Meeting Tuesday

At the meeting of the Woman's Study Club Tuesday afternoon, April 29, at the home of Mrs. Floyd Reid, it was voted to make a donation to the Cass City playground fund.

A report of the annual meeting of the Tuscola County Federation of Women's Clubs, held in the Methodist Church in Millington on Friday, April 18, was given by Mrs. Fred Maier. About 15 women from Cass City were in attendance and Mrs. Grant Patterson of Cass City, county president, was in charge of the meeting.

New county officers for the ensuing year are: President, Mrs. M. S. Simpson, Vassar; first vice president, Mrs. J. Meacham, Millington; second vice president, Mrs. Talbert Fritz, Akron; treasurer, Mrs. C. L. Bougher, Caro; secretary, Mrs. L. C. Purdy, Gaytown.

Mrs. M. C. McLellan, Cass City, delegate to the state federation meeting at the Book-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit, April 8, 9 and 10, presented her report of the convention. She mentioned especially the fine music which was given. Mrs. Fred Cross of Bad Axe, who has completed a two-year term as state president, was succeeded in that office by Mrs. A. W. Bruce of Traverse City.

The next meeting of the local club will be held with Mrs. McLellan, May 13, when a musical program will be given.

H. H. Koffman Co. Expands Business

The H. H. Koffman Co. have expanded their wholesale business at Cass City by the purchase of the stock and business of the Hoover Tobacco Co. of Uby. The territory covered by the Uby company will be supplied by the H. H. Koffman Co. from their Cass City warehouse.

Landon's Team Wins City League Championship

Defeated Dillman Group in Three Games in Hotly Contested Match

The Monday evening bowling match between the Landon and Dillman teams, winners of the first and second schedules in the City League, turned out to be a very hotly contested series with both squads rolling over their averages. Each team picked up 40 marks in its first game, but the margin of victory went to the Landon team when they collected 17 strikes to their opponents' 13, to win the game by just 26 pins. The second and deciding game was also won by the Landonites by 17 pins, with each team registering 14 strikes. The match was for the best two games out of three and so with the Landon team already the champs, the play was eased up somewhat in the third game and both teams tallied their lowest scores. However, the Landon team picked up the last game by 63 pins to sweep the series and tuck away the team honors for the 1946-47 season. The scores printed below tell the tale of the match as tabulated by the official scorer, Frank Reid:

Michigan Mirror

The idea of May are here, and the state legislature in its fifth month of deliberations is still floundering on the rocks of financial confusion.

It's anybody's guess what the outcome will be.

Governor Kim Sigler, ambitious politically, believes it would be better to meet realities of the tax situation in 1947 than in 1948, a presidential and state campaign year. If new taxes were enacted this spring, the voters would have a year to forget them. And possibly by 1948 something could be done to clear up the "considerable misunderstanding concerning the present financial condition of the State of Michigan," to quote the governor's own words to the legislature.

Several legislative leaders have warned the governor that deferring of new taxes until 1948 would be political suicide for him.

The "unpleasant realities," according to Sigler, should be faced now, not in 1948.

Hence legislative committees are concluded on page 7.

Spring Wedding in Berkley

Saturday morning, April 26, at the Berkley Community parsonage, Miss Beverly Marlowe, and Leslie Steward, both of Detroit, were united in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, witnessed the ceremony, performed by Rev. Orrin VanLoon.

A wedding luncheon was served at the home of a sister of the bride, following the rites, after which the couple came to Cass City to visit in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Steward.

Sunday a family dinner was prepared in the Steward home at which 21 relatives were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Aldrich and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Aldrich and family, all of Cass City. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Steward returned to Detroit Sunday evening.

Meat for Menus

Low-priced lamb shoulder may be used for these lamb pieces prepared on skewers. They broil quickly and make a palatable dinner when you want to cook in a jiffy.

Recent visits to the market have convinced me that most education about meat cooking was forgotten during rationing and shortages. Most of us worked ourselves into a sort of rut about meats and now find that we need a brush-up course on meat cooking.

Meat should satisfy and to do so it must be properly prepared. If broiling is what the cut needs, make sure your temperature is high enough to do the job decently. But if it's braising, make sure the heat is slow and steady and the cooking moist.

Here are a few of the things you ought to remember when buying meat: First of all, become acquainted with a variety of cuts so that you can better manage your budget and give the family much-needed menu variety. Ask the market man for advice. He can give you tips on specials and help you get more for your money.

If you have meats boned at the market, always ask for the bones to take home. They're wonderful for flavoring soups, sauces and vegetables. When you purchase large cuts, have some steaks or chops removed for another meal. There won't be so many leftovers, and you will be able to get more variety from the large cuts.

Spicy Pot Roast.
(Serves 8 to 10)
3-pound pot roast (neck, chuck, brisket, heel of round or rump)
2 cups canned tomatoes
3 onions, sliced
Salt and pepper
1/2 teaspoon whole cloves
1 stick cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon marjoram
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup vinegar

Brown pot roast on all sides. Add tomatoes, onions and seasonings. Pour vinegar over all. Cover closely and simmer 3 to 4 hours, or until tender. When meat is tender, place on hot platter. Strain liquid which was around the meat and thicken for gravy.

Pork or Veal Chops.
(Serves 6)
1 1/2 pounds chops
1 tablespoon salt
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/2 teaspoon red pepper
1 clove garlic
Lard for browning

Have chops cut 1/2 to 3/4 inches thick. Salt each chop. Dredge chops in flour which has been mixed with thyme and red pepper. Rub frying pan with clove of garlic; add lard and brown chops on both sides.

Lamb Curry.
(Serves 6)
1 1/2 cups cubed cooked lamb
Lard or drippings for browning
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 clove garlic, finely chopped
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups lamb broth (made from bones of roast)
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
3 cups rice

Cut meat in 1/2-inch cubes. Brown

LYNN SAYS:
Cook Meats Correctly
For Palatability
If you are making hamburgers, remember that loosely put together patties will be much more tender than those which are patted tightly. If hamburgers contain only beef, they may be cooked rare; if they have any pork in them, cook them well done.

Canned meats and ready-to-eat meats are a supper saver. They may be pan-fried or broiled for added relish.

onion, pepper and celery lightly in drippings, then add garlic, curry powder, sauce, broth and meat. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes. Mix flour and salt with 1/4 cup cold water and stir mixture to thicken. Serve curry in boiled rice ring, which has been prepared meanwhile in double boiler.

A well prepared beef or veal tongue is delightful. Those who have learned to eat it reserve it for special occasions. Long slow cooking such as is received in braising is designated for preparing this delectable dish.

Braised Tongue, Vegetable Gravy.
(Serves 12)
1 4-pound tongue, fresh
• Water
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup diced onions
1 cup diced carrots
3/4 cup diced celery
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups liquid in which tongue was cooked
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Wash tongue and cover with water. Add salt, cover and simmer until tender, allowing 4 hours. Trim and remove skin. Slice tongue and place in pan with vegetables. Make a smooth paste of flour and water, adding liquid and seasonings. Pour sauce over tongue and vegetables. Simmer for 1 hour. Serve with potatoes boiled in their jackets.

An interesting variation to the meat course comes in the way of lamb en brochette, pieces of inexpensive meat placed on skewers. These are broiled and go beautifully with a dinner of baked, whipped potatoes, buttered lima beans, a vegetable salad and fruit whip for dessert.

Lamb en Brochette.
(Serves 6)
2 pounds lamb shoulder, cut in 1-inch cubes
1 cup vinegar
1 teaspoon celery salt
1 tablespoon mustard
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
Salt and pepper

Cover lamb with vinegar, seasoned with celery salt, mustard, brown sugar and poultry seasoning. Let stand 1 hour. Thread onto skewers and place on a rack in a pre-heated broiler oven. Brown well on all sides and broil. Season with salt and pepper.

For something a little different, try this stuffed shoulder of lamb:

Fruit-Stuffed Shoulder of Lamb.
1 lamb shoulder, boned
2 cups bread crumbs
6 cooked apricots, diced
6 cooked prunes, diced
1 small orange, chopped
1 beaten egg
Salt and pepper

Have butcher remove bone from lamb shoulder and sew it on three sides, leaving the fourth open for dressing. Make a dressing of the bread crumbs, fruits and beaten egg. Pile this into cavity. Skewer or sew the edges together. Place the lamb shoulder on a rack in an open roasting pan and roast in a 300-degree oven, allowing 30 to 35 minutes to the pound.

Never throw away shank ends of ham or bones from the roast. Use these for making soup, a cupful of which is very good for dinner beginners on cool nights. Broth made from these may also be used for gravies and sauces.

Never throw out meat leftovers. They may be combined with gravy, bread crumbs, noodles or rice and used for stuffing green peppers.

Bacon leftover from breakfast is too good to discard. Break it into bits and pieces and use for flavoring the dinner vegetable, soup or salad.

Common Ground

By Mildred Kelso

THERE was a strange ache/deep within Martha Morrison as she followed David out of the real estate office building where they had waited most of the afternoon. It wasn't, she told herself sternly, regret. It was, rather, the pain in David's eyes as he answered the agent's questions. To be so close to David and to know that she herself had caused that pain—

Wind struck them as they stepped out into the street. Swirling eddies of sand stung their cheeks, and the roar of pounding water filled their ears. "The lake," Martha cried. "There must be a gale out home." Blindly she started to run towards their pick-up.

Slowly and with leaden feet, David followed. "No need to hurry now," he said, climbing in beside her. "It will be dark when we get home, and by morning the pears will all be on the ground." Martha threw him a frightened look. They had counted so on those pears. The pears were to have paid off the last of the mortgage.

It was at breakfast that she had told David of her decision. "I can't live here any longer," she had said. "Without neighbors it isn't home any more."

It was at breakfast that she told David of her decision.

"Well," David assented, "I suppose we don't have much in common. They don't farm nor raise fruit."

Martha's heart ached even then for David as he went into the yard. She knew how close to his heart was this small tract of land. David had taken the rocky hillside which sloped down to the lake and upon it he had built an orchard.

It had been a long pull, waiting for the trees to bear, but the loving concern of their neighbors had made it easy. That was the way it had been, before the rich people had discovered the neighborhood and it had become "stylish." Since then, one by one, their old friends and neighbors had dwindled away. "Better sell too, David," they had urged. But David had been stubborn.

Things had been harder then for Martha. She missed her friends with an aching loneliness that could not be quieted. Until today she had told David that she could stand it no longer. And so they had driven into town to the real estate office.

THERE was a truck in their orchard — no, it was a station wagon. And there were figures moving about in the gathering dusk.

A woman was kneeling beside the station wagon carefully emptying pears out of a picking bag. "There," she said, "that's the last of them."

Men, loading boxes of pears into the station wagon, turned to greet them. "Guess we're trespassing," one of them said. "But you folks weren't home and this gale came up. We decided we'd better get your pears picked before it got dark."

"We found all the equipment in your fruit shed," another man explained. "Guess it was noisy, but we couldn't see you lose this swell crop. Most of us didn't know much about picking fruit, but Sue here bossed the job. She saw that we did it right."

They could only stare then at Sue Streeter, who lived in the big house up the hill. Sue, her face streaked and dirty. "You bet I made them do it right," she said. "I wasn't raised on a fruit ranch for nothing."

She walked over to where Martha stood goggling. "The others are down at the house," she said. "Your house. We took the liberty of going in to make some coffee. We knew you wouldn't mind. After all," she said matter-of-factly, "we are all neighbors."

For a moment Martha stared, then understanding washed over her like a wave. That was the answer, stated so simply by this woman with the tired face. "We are all neighbors," she had said. And that, Martha realized, was their common ground.

"Oh," she cried, "hurry. I must call Mr. McLean right away. We nearly made a terrible mistake."

Milk Made from Water
About 87 per cent of the milk a cow gives is made from water.

Port, was declared winner over Art Ervish of Sebawaing, in a close match.

Jerry Gallagher, 143, of Bay City, and Vern Bates, 144, of Sebawaing, boxed but 55 seconds when Gallagher captured first place.

Bob Walsh, 150, of Bad Axe, was declared first man against Steve Lickfeldt, 150, of Bay City, in 1:38 of the second stanza when Lickfeldt injured his hand.

After one minute in the first period, Bernard Phillips, 149, took the honors from Bill Whear, 146, of Bay City.

Ralph Myers, 156, of Roscommon, defeated George Middleton, 161, of Bay City, in the eleventh bout of the evening, and in the twelfth contest Harold Vandenberg, 173, of Bay City, showed a slight advantage over Floyd Schneider, 172, of Midland, state novice lightweight champion, in the Golden Gloves bout at Grand Rapids.

A desire to boost the playground project influenced the sale of tickets numbering in the neighborhood of 700, for Tuesday night's performance. To help swell the funds for the community hospital business and professional people subscribed liberally towards a souvenir program in which their business announcements were cleverly written in "take-off" style. With space "selling" at $200 a page, the contributions were around $2,200.

Harry Little was an efficient general chairman for the exhibition and was ably assisted by a group of capable local helpers. Officials included John Sermon, Bay City, matchmaker; Perry Shad, Flint, referee; Arthur Paddy, Cass City, timekeeper; Lester Ross, Cass City, announcer; Joseph Hirschfield of the State Athletic Board of Controls, Bay City; J. H. Kraft and Ray Kuehn of Bay City, judges. Bill Knott, Jr., sports editor of the Bay City Times, gave valuable assistance in promoting the event.

Petroleum Distillates

Distillation products of petroleum form the base for contact sprays applied to dairies and other food processing plants, warehouses, public buildings and residences, for controlling flies, cockroaches, bedbugs and other pests. Large quantities of petroleum products are also applied to plant life in the form of emulsions for the control of such pests as scale insects. Petroleum sulfonates are used as emulsifying and wetting agents.

Sparkling Bough

Brushing white paint on evergreen boughs will make them glisten and sparkle as if they were covered with frost or snow.

OPA in B. C.

The first recorded use of ration books dates back to about 1,000 B. C. when rice was rationed in China after a flood.

Meat From Cattle

A 750-pound beef will yield about 200 pounds in hindquarters and 220 pounds in forequarters—a total of 420 pounds.

Class at Manse Dinner Party

The Young Adults' Class of the Presbyterian Church met at the manse for a potluck dinner at 7:00 p. m. on Monday. The schedule had been postponed because of blocked roads a month ago so that all members might attend, but now with the land workable at last, a few members could not attend. Sixteen, however, were present.

Following the dinner, Miss Betty Agar, on behalf of the group, presented Mrs. M. R. Vender, teacher of the class, with a lovely "Elgin American" gold compact.

To add an educational touch to the gathering, as is the class custom on such occasions, the members adjourned to the living room where Mrs. Ivan MacRae gave a resume of Dr. Ralph Sockman's journalistic report of his recent tour in Russia.

The noted radio-preacher and others of the party visiting Russia are not so apprehensive as the news headlines would have us believe about the American-Russian situation. There is much lack of understanding of one another on the part of both nations, as stated by the article in review.

Rev. M. R. Vender followed with a review of "Our Ailing Diplomacy," by R. T. Oliver, formerly in the Federal Service. Mr. Oliver had just returned from an eleven week tour of inspection in our zone of occupation in Korea. His article from the Christian Century, according to the pastor, was summarized thus:

"The chief virtue of the average career man is austere caution. As a party man he soon learns that the best way to hold his job and secure advancement is to 'conform,' 'make no decisions,' unless taken jointly with other overlapping departments, thus to spread responsibility; to keep problems 'under study'; 'report progress' from time to time and ask occasionally for added funds to carry on, protesting that the work is being handicapped if Congress does not grant the requested funds; wait for some other national or international crisis to divert public attention. This is the office holder's success formula," says Mr. Oliver. (This is collectively known by the citizenry as "Red Tape.")

With reference to conditions hindering progress in Korea, the fault is not all with Russia as military and political leaders, news and radio commentators would like to have us believe, the writer pointed out. General John R. Hodge is seriously handicapped by the confusion caused by the overlapping departments; State, Executive, War, Agriculture, Treasury and Commerce, as well as the Far Eastern Division of the State Department through which he must clear, and whose policies at times are conflicting, and their responsibilities and authority ill-defined. "With so many hands trying to spin the wheel, only confusion and stagnation result."

"The situation caused by such muddling is costing us dearly," says Mr. Oliver, "by way of loss of respect, lack of confidence and growing unrest on the part of peoples of the total Far East. The people are saying, 'If that is Democracy, we don't want it.' We are making peoples under our military occupation receptive to Communism as the only alternative and hope," he states.

"The only hope lies in drastic reorganization, defining and allocating authority, and hence accountability; better trained and more able leaders are needed, and better pay may attract such men," he concludes.

The evening was concluded with games. "Sippa Fish" proved a breath-taking game and drew much laughter between moments of serious and feverish efforts to win. Lloyd Bartley and Mrs. Geo. Cook excelled in hauling out the "Rainbow trout" (186 official count as against a catch of 179 by their opponents, Mrs. Ivan MacRae and Mrs. Royce Russell). Dr. Ivan MacRae and Royce Russell hauled in a catch of 165 against their opponents, Mrs. Harry Little and Betty Agar, who had a draft of 115. A little less draft might have helped, or more concentration. The count at table three was 151 for John Bayley and Marjorie Milligan and 189 for Edith Decker and Mrs. Lloyd Bartley.

The tables were turned; that is, Edith and Betty were too much for Dr. Ivan and Royce when it came to "Winko Baseball," winning in an over-time 10-inning game by a score of 8 to 7.

Edwin Karr was the only bowler and excused himself at about 9:00 p. m., and Harry Little, with an engagement at Caro, made his exit after the dinner.

The "Sippa Relay" perhaps proved most fun and most relaxing while the Bible Travel-log was a test of memory and afforded competition in a race for "Journey's End." There is a question about who got there first, but John Bayley at table three was leading the race. Mrs. MacRae and Lloyd Bartley made rapid progress at table two.

The party adjourned at 11:00

p. m. with only the dishes to be washed. This was a race for time by the host and hostess, ending at midnight.—Contributed.

Near Enough for Him

As we entered the war, a luxury liner was hurrying to port. Among its passengers were two notorious gamblers. During a lull in plying their nefarious trade, as they stood at the rail, gazing out to sea, one remarked to the other, "Bill, what would you do if a torpedo were to strike this ship and we started to sink?" The one addressed as Bill looked thoughtful for a moment, then he answered: "I think I'd say a prayer." Came a sarcastic laugh from his companion followed by: "Bill, I'll bet a dollar you don't know a prayer." Quickly came the answer "You're on. I'll say the Lord's prayer," and he began: "Now, I Lay Me Down To Sleep." His companion threw up his hands. "Take the money," he said, "I didn't think you knew it."

Effective Anesthetic

Curare, produced by South American Indians from native plants, has proved to be an extremely effective anesthetic with pentothal in surgical operations on the head and neck when it is essential that the muscles remain relaxed. Certain substances in native curare cause convulsions, and so, although curare was used in clinical experiments in England during the 1920s, its use was discontinued because it was thought too dangerous.

J. J. Kennedy Funeral—

John Joseph Kennedy, 74, died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Bay City, on April 22, after a week's illness with pneumonia. Funeral services were conducted in Gagetown on Friday by Rt. Rev. Msgr. John G. McCullough.

He was born December 4, 1872, at Wingham, Canada, and came to Tuscola County at the age of six years. He followed the vocation of farming, held the office of road commissioner and was a member of the Catholic Church and the Holy Name Society.

On November 19, 1901, he was united in marriage with Nellie Morse, who survives with several children.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaRouche of Detroit, Luciel, Joseph and Wilfred Repshinska of New Baltimore, and Miss Theresa Beauvais of Anchorville, were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Repshinska.

Born Sunday, April 27, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard

Loomis to Mr. and Mrs. Donald DeLong (Lucile Loomis), an eight and one-half pound baby boy.

Frank Faulmann, 90, former resident here, was buried in the Gagetown Cemetery Monday afternoon. Mr. Faulmann recently lived in Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Weiler and son, Vincent, were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. C. P. Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hunter and family spent Sunday in Bad Axe with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laughlin.

Elmwood Center

Miss Naoma Evans of Bay City spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Robinson of Mayville spent Saturday at the George Seeley home.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Evans visited Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Vilas McNeil. Mr. and Mrs. McNeil have named their new baby Gwendolyn Kay.

Sunday dinner guests at the LeRoy Evans home were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Waggoner and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Livingston and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Tuckey were Sunday visitors in Kingston of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ozonowich.

Mrs. Jesse McNeil went to Saginaw on Friday for hospital treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bigelow and family and Mrs. Robert Kasovich and son, Bobby, spent Friday and Saturday with Mrs. J. E. Morse and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joiner (Pauline Livingston) of Bay City, are happy over the arrival of a new daughter on Friday morning, April 25. The little miss will be called Phyllis Ruth. Her brother, Bobby, is spending a few days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Livingston.

Ice Cream Course

The first ice cream manufacturing course in this country was taught at Penn State in 1892—more than 50 years ago.

Concluded from page 1. reporting out an assortment of tax levies with the hope that some new sources of revenue may be tapped to prevent or reduce the threatened $66 million dollar deficit in the coming fiscal year beginning July 1, 1947.

For example, the governor recommended pre-empting two mills of the local property tax, a device which would finance the veterans' bonus annually—$18,000,000. The senate taxation committee recommends a one mill levy which would raise one-half of that amount.

A six cent levy on each gallon of soft drink is advocated by the senate taxation committee which estimates receipts at $6,000,000 a year. The Michigan Bottlers of Carbonated Beverage Association is opposing the tax vigorously, claiming it would force many firms out of business. A five cent drink would go to six cents, it is said.

The state tax on beer would be doubled. This would net $6,000,000. A 2-cent tax on each package of cigarettes, another proposal, would raise $7,000,000.

Add these all up, and you get $27,500,000. Subtract this from the prospective deficit ($66,000,000), and you find that $38,500,000 more taxes are needed.

If the legislature heeds the governor's recommendations and makes the state government the beneficiary of around $20,000,000 in special revenues which were earmarked in 1946 for aid to cities, then the tax deficit would be cut to around $18,500,000.

These special revenues include extra liquor taxes, intangible taxes and liquor license fees. They were granted to cities by the Kelly administration in the spirit of appeasement.

Other new taxes proposed and still in committee include a three mill tax on Michigan manufacturers ($18,000,000); 1 per cent tax on wholesale transactions ($18,000,000), and a 1 per cent tax on net incomes ($28,000,000).

The legislature has been showing more zeal in saving taxes for Michigan taxpayers than in increasing them.

A measure sponsored by Senator Harry F. Hittle, Lansing, would save Michigan taxpayers a sum each year estimated at from $100,000,000 to $207,000,000 in Federal income taxes. Here is how the thrift would be achieved.

All income of a husband or wife would become "community income," whereby the husband would report one-half to the federal government and the wife would report the other one-half. A husband's annual earning of $3,000, taxed thus in two bills, would result in a saving of $19. For a $5,000 income the saving would be $76.

The prospect of saving $100 to $200 millions for the taxpayers has been greeted with cheers.

Little is said about the logic of diverting some of these savings to the state treasury through adoption of a state income tax.

A state income tax bill, already introduced, would raise an estimated $28,000,000 annually through a flat 1 per cent levy on net incomes as reported by Michigan taxpayers to the federal government for federal income tax purposes. Such a levy, if adopted, would still permit substantial savings to the taxpayers under the Hittle bill.

Another remedy which is being considered seriously in some quarters of the legislature is to ignore the constitutional diversion of tax funds to the public schools. Rep. John Espies, chairman of the house ways and means committee, reports that the idea is receiving widespread support in both the house and senate. This inaction would remove $25,000,000 in tax needs, and it might permit the state to finish construction of buildings at colleges and institutions.

Underlying cause of the financial problem is the current post-war inflation which has been mounting recently with new acceleration. Retail prices of consumers' goods, rents and services rose 2 per cent between mid-February and mid-March. The consumers' price index hit a new high above 156.

In the past 10 months wholesale prices have soared 81 per cent—almost as much as in the previous seven years. Meat prices have climbed 60 per cent since the end of OPA; soap, 62 per cent; drug products, 67 per cent; cotton goods, 89 per cent; leather goods, 63 per cent; and so on.

Inflation is a hidden tax. It lowers the purchasing power, of every family.

New taxes will reduce this purchasing power still more.

Kept Under His Hat

The traditionally absent-minded professor entered the barber shop and seated himself in the barber's chair.

"A haircut," he requested mildly. The barber looked perplexed.

"Sir, your hat. You haven't removed your hat."

Instantly the professor was all apologies.

"I'm so sorry, I didn't know there were ladies present."

Speeding Things Up

A number of years ago an entertainment was being held in a Western mining town. A young fellow sang an endless song of which the chorus was "I'm going home, I'm going home, I'm going home to-morrow." Mark Twain who was outside, stuck his head in the window and drawled, "For goodness sake, couldn't you go tonight?"

FOOTPRINTS

Spike—What's the matter with you? Are you crazy? Let's open this safe and get out of here. Gyp—Now, it'll only take a minute longer this way and we'll drive them fingerprint experts nuts.

Needed Company

A little man came into the office of a psychiatrist.

"Come in," boomed the doctor. "What seems to be the trouble?"

"I was wondering," the little man offered timidly, "if you couldn't split my personality for me."

The doctor looked puzzled. "Split your personality? Why goodness gracious, my man, why would you want that done?"

Tears tumbled down the little man's face. "Oh, Doctor," he wailed, "I'm so lonesome!"

Border Ancient Decoration
The border is one of the earliest elements found in decorative arts. In primitive drawings it was a simple line which marked the edge of the decorative area. It becomes ornate, as seen in Egyptian and Greek art. In tapestries, rugs and textiles it became a part of the design.

Big Labor Savings By Modern Methods

Improved Machinery Results in Profit Gain

The modern wheat farmer's labor is 14 times as productive as that of his great-grandfather.

Figures presented in the new Encyclopaedia Britannica reveal that the hand methods of 1830 required 57.7 man-hours of labor to produce 20 bushels of wheat on one acre of land.

By 1896, machine methods had cut the time to a little under nine man-hours. In 1940, using tractor power, gang plow, tandem disc, harrow, drill, combine and truck, the amount of labor to produce 20 bushels of wheat was only slightly more than four man-hours.

We have come a long way since the "good old days."

The more machines are used for farming, the more skilled the workers become and the higher the wages that can be paid them. A demand for skill and a desire to acquire it tend to improve the quality of the rural population.

Farm machinery also has improved product quality. Better yield results from precise planting, proper placing of fertilizer and more thorough harvesting, and in addition, there is less waste through weathering and rotting.

Adapting plants to machines, breeders have produced hybrid corn bearing ears at a uniform height, wheat with stronger stalks and grain sorghums with upright seed heads to speed harvesting.

NOSE-PRINTS, TATTOO

The tattoo system of equine identification, to prevent substituting ringers in races, is generally advocated.

As early as 1921 it was found that animals could be identified by nose-prints, using a system similar to that used with finger-prints by police authorities. A combination of the two systems should be fool-proof. First, the horse or cattle would be tattooed, then nose-print taken to include the tattoo. This double protection would make an alteration impossible.

Cow Mine Detector

Metal objects often pierce the cow's stomach, then enter the heart and cause severe inflammation and sometimes almost instant death.

With the bovine "mine detector," the veterinarian passes the instrument over the cow, and if she has any metal objects inside her, it produces a ringing sound in the earphones. Then by surgery, the nails and other objects can be removed.

Hexachloro Cyclohexane Finding Many New Uses

A new insecticide now appears containing 50 per cent hexachloro cyclohexane in a wettable powder formulation suitable for application in a water spray and for further dilution for dust application.

It shows promise for control of cattle lice, many insects of cotton, including aphids, and for certain insects that heretofore have been difficult or impossible to control, including locusts and hoppers.

Newcastle Disease Control Progresses
Vaccination Now Gives Promise of Real Aid
 By W. J. DRYDEN

New vaccine developed by the U.
 S. department of agriculture gives a chicken immunity to Newcastle disease for several months. This is good news to the poultry industry which had cause to fear this new killer.

 Poultrymen in about 30 states have suffered from costly inroads made by the disease.

The new vaccine is not the last word. Specialists of the various states and federal department of agriculture are still at work to devise a "fool proof" vaccine. The achievement of the federal specialists in developing the vaccine that would last even several months is a big step forward.

Newcastle disease is a virus which attacks chickens of all ages, from baby chicks to laying hens. It also is known to attack pigeons, ducks, turkeys, geese and pheasants.

Until the vaccine has been placed on the market in an improved state, the prevention and spread of the disease must be controlled by sanitary procedures, use of disinfectants, proper feeding, housing and management.

HOW LIMESTONE ACTS

Applications of limestone at the rate called for by a soil test will correct the acidity of surface soils.
 Lime, however, should be applied from six months to a year before legume seeding to allow time to sweeten the soil.

Disking or harrowing scatters limestone particles through the top two or three inches of surface soils.
 Then each particle starts correcting acidity in its immediate area. Within a year it may materialize an area of from one-half to an inch in diameter.

In the beginning, acid soil zones considerably outnumber non-acid areas around the limestone particles. However, if sufficient limestone has been applied and thoroughly mixed with the soil and if lime particles are allowed several months to establish areas of sweet soil, clover will be able to secure lime from the sweet areas. Tests should be made before, not after, liming.

New Utility Cart

This cart may be used for garden or barn. It is made from an old hood, doll carriage wheels and three pieces of tubing for the handle. This cart disposes of leaves, weeds, etc., from the garden and even takes the ash can to the dump.
 It was designed and welded by Fred
 W. H. Spear, Natick, Mass.

New Enzyme May Have Affect Upon All Life

The new enzyme found in the eggs of frogs, by University of California scientists, called phosphoprotein phosphatase may have counterpart in all forms of life. This enzyme separates phosphorus from proteins in the ovum, making it available for use by the developing embryo. Phosphorus is essential to the normal growth and development of all living tissue, and development of embryo.

Bowling

progress and will not be completed until next week. The top score was rolled by the Parsch City League team and their totals of 3004 pins was high in the tournament as all team events have already been bowled. The doubles and singles still have entries to be bowled, but the holder of the highest score in the doubles is Shorty
 Greenleaf and Art Paddy with 1281 totals. The single event is topped by Walter Mann's 607 pin count, but this score is expected to be beaten before the tournament comes to a close. The date of the bowlers' banquet has been definitely set for Thursday evening, May 15, in the local high school.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Does Your Family Go to Church?

Bell Syndicate—WNU Features.

"I don't know why God is so good to us," certain obscure mothers say, their faces radiant as they contemplate the safe arrival of Tom's son, the happy marriage of lonely 30-year-old Sister Annie.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

THE beauty of the old days when everyone went to church was that religion gives people a code—a rule by which to live and by which to judge their own actions and those of others.

Without religion it is hard to hold young persons to moral law. Their natural question "Why?" has no answer.

Some years ago, the 17-year-old daughter of a friend of mine secretly rented a small Park avenue apartment and entertained her friends there while her mother thought she was merely dining and visiting with perfectly nice school fellows. Her expenses and the apartment were shared by a boy of 18. To all of her heartbroken parents subsequent reproaches she only pithily answered why "why?"

Why shouldn't girls and boys live together if they wanted to? Why should she tell her father and mother anything? What was there to be ashamed of? She really did not know the answers.

At first glance youngsters do not see the connection between decency and religion. Religion itself—as demonstrated by many of its exponents—has done little to connect the two. Rituals, long sermons, incomprehensible formulas, greedy concern for interest, capital, bequests, collections, money-making schemes have clouded the light. Our children see only these, and they decline to believe the great mystical and unproven truths upon which all real religion is based. If the lives of the teachers were different, then their effect upon our children's lives would be different.

Greedy Stupidity Hide Glory. As it is, they are too often cheated out of their birthright of belief, partly because the blinding glory of faith is dimmed by so much human stupidity, partly because their parents have gone that same road before them and have decided that religion is merely a profitable business into which certain men enter; a "good thing," if you happen to be that unthinking, hypocritical sort of man, willing to fool along murmuring things you don't believe or practice to women who don't believe or practice them either.

But, thank God, under this heavy crust of age-old accumulated human stupidity, there works continually the yeast of saintliness. The world is full of unseen, unrecognized saints, who have probed further than this mere outer seeming, who have discovered the magic of the word, and who are quietly spreading it with every word they speak and every contact they make.

Such persons may be the humblest of mothers and fathers, working all their lives for food and shelter for those they love, but their boys and girls will grow up strong in true morality, believing that they must keep their hearts and their lips clean, that they must pay what they owe, that they must keep their word, and give to those in need, comfort the sorrowing, forget self in service.

There is no more to it than that. Only—somehow we don't find that unless we find God. It is belief in God, in our service to God, in the

FORCE OF RELIGION

Religion used to be a much stronger force in American life than it is today. Too many people, particularly the young, see no reason why they can't do what they please. They see older people getting away with all sorts of crooked business deals, with deceit, with infidelity. What is the use of clinging to outmoded dogmas and restrictive moral codes, they ask.

As Miss Norris says in today's article, the young people are deceived by the surface of things, where they see so much of greed, stupidity and sin. Much of it is alluring and apparently satisfying. What they don't see, Miss Norris points out, is the thousands and millions of humble people who obey the laws of God and find their greatest happiness in following His Word.

These humble people know that faith and the Holy Law will save young lives from ruin. They realize that doing the generous, forgiving thing is worthwhile, that it brings peace and quiet happiness. It is the only power that can save the modern world from self-destruction.

shortness of our term here and the necessity of making every moment of it valuable, that inspires this sort of teaching and this sort of conduct. American children have not been deprived of moral teaching; it floods over them all during their home and school years. They have been deprived of the one thing that makes that teaching valuable.

Will be a Settlement.

They are like busy workers who have no employer. The humble true believer learns of God through the life of his expiating son, believes that it matters whether he is honest or not, truthful or lying, cruel or kind. There is a great employer, and eventually there will be a settlement.

And acting blindly on this belief for a few years he begins to see that it works. Problems in his outer life smooth out; the generous thing, the forgiving thing, the self-immolating thing is suddenly and surprisingly the happiest possible thing.

"I don't know why God is so good to us," certain obscure mothers say, their faces radiant as they contemplate the safe arrival of Tom's son, the happy marriage of lonely, 30-year-old sister Annie.

You never hear that phrase except from believers. They see the surface-scum of human frailty in their leaders; they know of the wars, the slums, the selfishness and dishonesty of the so-called "Christian civilization." Everyone sees that.

But they see further, too. They see that faith and the rule save young lives. The very leaders themselves may be lost. But the children to whom they taught love of God, and love of neighbor, are the only safe children in the world. Rob your children of everything else for which you are working and straining, but give them faith.

Potatoes for Breakfast

From a caloric standpoint, potatoes make an excellent substitute for bread. In addition, they contain many valuable vitamins and minerals. Fresh from the garden as they are at this time of year, they have a high vitamin C content and they are a good source of vitamins B and G. Farm families have served potatoes boiled or fried for breakfast for a long time, but few urban homes have adopted the practice. Potato pancakes make a good breakfast dish.

Man of My Dreams

A little old lady went to a doctor. She expounded all her ailments, real and imaginary, but seemed most concerned about a recurring dream in which she was diligently pursued by a young man who wanted to flirt with her. The doctor was sympathetic, and advised her how she might sleep more soundly. In a few days she returned, still woeful.

"Don't tell me you aren't sleeping better nowadays," said the doctor. "Oh, I'm sleeping fine," the patient replied, "but to tell the truth, I miss that young man!"

EVEN THEM UP

Barber—You want your hair parted exactly in the middle, sir?
Customer—That's what I said, didn't I?
Barber—Then I'll have to pull out one sir. You only have five hairs.

Blunt Rejoinder

A man in Atlanta took four friends to visit a farm he owned. The visitors entered the tenant farmer's house and were a little embarrassed when they discovered he had only two chairs. They stood around awkwardly and finally the owner said, "I don't believe you have enough chairs here."

The old farmer took a tip of snuff, muttered, "I got plenty of chairs—just too darn much company."

Described Papa Right

It was her first silk dress and little Alice was simply overwhelmed. Her mother marked the occasion with an impromptu lecture on textiles.

"You know, dear," she began, "this beautiful dress was given us by a poor little worm."

"I know, mother," Alice replied. "Daddy's awful generous, isn't he?"

Better Part of Valor

A candidate for the police force was being verbally examined.

"If you were by yourself in a police car, and were being pursued by a desperate gang of criminals in another car doing forty miles an hour on a lonely road, what would you do?"

The candidate promptly replied, "Fifty."

New Supplies

A ship dropped anchor off a small island in the South Pacific, and immediately its crew began hauling cases of coconuts ashore.

"What's going on here?" the lone castaway on the island asked. "Well," replied the captain, "didn't you send a note in a bottle saying you were here and down to your last coconut?"

Maybe She Meant It

She was a smart and pretty girl. She wrote the advertising for a large dry goods concern. Her mind used to run so much upon her business that one day, when she wrote her lover to meet her that night at home, she unconsciously added as a postscript: "Come early and avoid the rush."

WELL, ISN'T IT?

Mrs.—What time was it when you came in last night?
Mr.—It was a quarter of twelve.
Mrs.—It so happens I looked at the clock and it was three.
Mr.—Well, that's a quarter of twelve.

Repeat Performance

A concert was being held in a village schoolroom and it was Sandy's turn to give his bagpipe solo. When he had finished and applause had died down, a voice from the back shouted: "Give us 'Annie Laurie,' Sandy!"

"What!" asked Sandy, surprised and flattered, "Again?"

Beginning to Wonder

"D'you know, Mrs. Arris, I sometimes wonder if my husband's grown tired of me."
"Whatever makes you say that, Mrs. Higgs?"
"Well, 'e ain't been home for seven years."

TUSCOLA COUNTY HEALTH COMMITTEES TO CONTINUE

tional tax could be collected for its maintenance nor could there be a vote taken, but there could be petitions submitted to the board of supervisors expressing the wishes of the people.

While previous petitions were circulated and a very fine response was received, the petitions having asked for an increase in tax, caused them to be voided legally, but not morally because it was plainly evident by the number of signers that the people of the county were deeply interested in having health protection for the human as well as for the animal.

After general discussion it was the unanimous opinion of all present that the committee continue keeping before the people of the county the fact that citizens intended to proceed and did not intend giving up until definite action had been taken to assure the people of the county the health protection to which they are entitled.

The committee expresses full appreciation to board of supervisors for the consideration given, to all farmer clubs, civic clubs and others who gave time on their programs for discussion of health protection and it was their hope that all clubs will continue to give program time to the subject. The committee stands ready to supply any service to any club requesting and making known their wishes. Drop a card addressed to Tuscola County Health Committee, Caro, is all that is necessary.
