

Petitions for the Rural Agricultural School Circulated

Ask for Submission of Question of Reorganizing Districts in This Area

Petitions requesting the submission of the question of reorganizing nine school districts in this area into a rural agricultural school are being circulated and it is anticipated that the petitions signed by the necessary 50 per cent of the school electors will be ready to be placed into the hands of the commissioners of schools in the counties in which the various schools are located within two weeks.

The valuation of the combined nine districts is $1,952,080.00 as follows:

Name Dist. No.	Year	Valuation
Bird-Elkland 2	1946	$140,290
Winton-Elkland 2	1946	185,600
Wright-Elkland 4	1946	138,750
Paul-Novesta 2	1945	77,220
Quick-Novesta 2	1945	104,220
Brown-Novesta 2	1945	91,830
Heron-Grant 4	1945	94,525
Dickhout-Grant 6	1945	141,760
Cass City-Elkland 5	1946	1,165,425

The districts listed with Elkland No. 5 (Cass City) are contiguous (adjoining) and are signing petitions. After this procedure, the county school commissioner will cause an election to be held, designating the time and place for the same. At that time a budget will be prepared showing the estimated tax rate for the proposed new district. Officials of the Cass City district estimated that the rate will be approximately six mills for four years and operating costs will be seven and a half mills.

Petitions will be circulated in the Cass City district within the next two weeks.

School electors must be citizens of the United States and 21 years of age; must have been in the state six months and 20 days in present residence. They must be registered before signing petitions but do not have to own property to vote.

Flint Lady, 84, Danced at Wedding Reception of Grandson Here

On May 10, in St. Augustine's Church in Detroit, Miss Josephine Nowicki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Nowicki, of Cass City, became the bride of Mr. Don Kurzawski, of Detroit. At nine o'clock in the morning, Rev. S. J. Wienert, O. S. A., performed the wedding ceremony. The bride was given away by her father.

A graduate of Cass City High School, the bride looked lovely in a gown of white marquisette. Her finger-tip veil fell from a pearl clustered headband. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, tied with long white streamers.

Miss Rita Kurzawski, sister of the groom, and Miss Esther Lewka, niece of the bride, were her bridesmaid and maid of honor. They wore pink and blue gowns and carried spring bouquets which matched their gowns and headresses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Ralph Kurzawski, of Detroit.

After the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the Town Hall in Cass City. Guests came from Detroit, Flint, Cass City and Owendale. The groom's grandmother, who is 84 years old, came from Flint and danced at her grandson's wedding.

After a two weeks' honeymoon at Houghton Lake, the couple will make their home in Detroit where they are both employed.

SUGAR STAMP NO. 12 IS GOOD JUNE 1

The agriculture department has announced that sugar ration stamp No. 12 for individual consumers will become valid June 1 instead of July 1 as originally planned. It will allow purchase of 10 pounds.

The department said supplies from this stamp must last until October 31, when price and rationing controls will expire unless extended by Congress.

Consumers ration stamp No. 12 is the second to be designated as a 10-pound sugar stamp. The first was No. 11 which became valid on April 1.

The June 1 date was set for No. 12 in order to expedite movement of sugar into home pantries while railway transportation is available.

Officials said they expect a shortage of freight cars for sugar after the bumper winter wheat crop starts moving to market late next month.

Compensation for Veterans Afflicted with Malaria

Several Tuscola County veterans have requested the Red Cross and Veterans' Counseling Center personnel to assist them in retaining compensation payments for malaria from the Veterans' Administration during the past three weeks.

W. Emerson Scott advises veterans afflicted with wartime service-connected malaria to report to a physician every time a relapse of that condition occurs. Recent regulations handed down to the Veterans' Administration provide that a disability rating for malaria will be reduced to zero percent at the end of a year without a physical examination unless there is medical evidence to prove that the veteran suffered a relapse or recurrence within the 12-month period.

It is most important that the medical evidence include a blood smear, taken at the time of relapse, whenever possible. Veterans' Administration officials pointed out. It was added that the cost of treatment by a private physician for service-connected malaria may be defrayed by the Veterans' Administration, provided authority for treatment is requested from the Veterans' Administration at the time it is needed. Authority for treatment by a private physician must be procured first from the Veterans' Administration, before Veterans' Administration will defray cost.

The local Red Cross and Counseling Center personnel are prepared to assist veterans secure authorization for treatment.

The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Walter Leonard. White gladioli and palms made an attractive setting for the wedding service.

The bride chose for her wedding a powder blue dinner gown and pink headress and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and gardenias. She wore a pearl necklace and pearl earrings. Miss Gertrude Retherford, niece of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a coral dinner gown and carried a bouquet of blue iris and white stock. She wore a gardenia in her hair. Degree-days are based on an outdoor temperature of 65° degrees, at which it is assumed that an indoor temperature of 70 degrees will be maintained without artificial heat. When the average of the day's temperature falls below 65 degrees, every degree of the fall is termed a degree-day. Reich Women Held Slaves by Russians

20,000 Sick, Dying in Prison Camps, Say Clergy.

BAD SALZSCHLIERF, GERMANY. —German newspapers in the western occupation zones quoted German church welfare leaders as claiming that 20,000 sick and dying German women were "slaves" in Russian prison camps.

The women were captured female personnel of the German army and "deported" refugees, the newspapers said.

A Catholic official, who asked not to be quoted by name, said the women were treated "worse than slaves."

The assertions could not be checked with American or British army authorities, who said "the Russians never give us any information about prisoners."

Five emaciated German "WACs" released from Russian camps volunteered the statement that "hundreds" of women working in Soviet mines and blast furnaces were dying from disease and starvation.

They said German girls were treated "worse than the men" prisoners. However, they said the Russians "handled their own women as badly," and Russian girls worked with them in the mines.

The five admitted they were released by the Russians "because of our sickness."

American YMCA officials in Germany said the churchmen's claims agreed with what returning German prisoners of war reported. U. S. army headquarters said "the allegations may be true, but we have no idea. We estimate three million German prisoners of war are in Russia."

Plugged Nickels Save Life of Cab Driver

LOS ANGELES. — Clifford Brown, cab driver, nursed a bruised chest but counted himself pretty lucky.

A jittery gunman pointed a revolver at Brown's heart during a holdup and pulled the trigger.

The bullet struck several rolls of nickels and dimes tucked in Brown's pocket. While the cab driver collected his wits, the bandit collected the loose change and fled.

King Is 'Bringer of Rains' As Prolonged Drouth Ends

GRAHAMSTOWN, SOUTH AFRICA. —Weirdly clad natives shouted "The King is the bringer of rains" when King George VI and members of the royal family arrived just after the first showers in four months started falling. Nine thousand natives gathered in the market square as the royal party drove through.

Chief Vukile wore a neat brown suit for the occasion, with a brown fedora hat and saluted the King while his tribesmen shouted the rain slogan and "Father of Nations."

One native chief wore a gilded top hat salvaged from a Christmas masquerade ball. He wore pajama pants and a long military greatcoat, which he kept buttoned despite the blazing sunlight.

Women smoking corn cob pipes trudged about carrying their children papoose fashion, supported by a shawl drawn across their shoulders. Most of the women wore turbans and long full skirts. They waved their pipes at the King.

Experiment Shows Dimes Have Less Germs Than Other Coins

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — If you want to avoid bacteria—hang onto your dimes.

Germs like quarters and half dollars, get familiar with pennies and nickels but they abhor 10-cent pieces.

This was the startling news imparted from St. Xavier's academy in Providence, where two girl students—Jane McNamara and Marjorie Dellis—have been experimenting with a microscope to determine the relationship between bacteria and small change.

Mes and Macs All Tangled Up In Court Over Accident Case

PITTSFIELD, MASS. — Commissioner Paul D'Agostino of the industrial accident board felt out of place when he was asked to solve one case.

Thomas E. McCormack charged that he was injured while working for John McCormick. McCormack's first witness was his wife, Dr. T. Marion McCormack, and his attorney was his son, Dwight T. McCormack.

Representing the defendant was Atty. George R. McCormick.

False Teeth Needn't Wait, Dental Expert Declares

CHICAGO. — Nearly everyone whose teeth have been pulled can begin using false teeth immediately, it is reported in the Journal of the American Dental association.

Parasite Dodder May Be Killed by 2, 4-D

Selection of Clean
Seed Also Essential

By W. J. DRYDEN

Field dodder is an annual parasitic vine, growing on lespedeza, alfalfa, clover and various members of the dandelion family. It attaches itself to other plants and sends small growth into their tissue to absorb the sap.

As preventive is easier than the cure, it is essential that only seed free from dodder be planted. Spots in fields should be eliminated. This is possible by the use of 2,4-D weed killer. While the 2,4-D also will kill lespedeza and other plants in the sprayed areas, the loss usually will prove negligible as the dodder usually will be confined to small scattered areas.

The labor involved in cutting out dodder is excessive and it is almost impossible to remove all of the parasite by this method. Infested fields may be planted to grain or corn for several years. These crops are not attacked, but care should be taken that the dodder does not continue growing on weeds in the field.

SUPERIOR LETTUCE

Slobolt lettuce, developed by the USDA, is available for the first time to the gardener. Non-heading, long-standing Slobolt produces wrinkled, frilled, light green leaves. Plants are of moderate size.

If the plants are set 10 to 12 inches apart and only basal leaves used, Slobolt lettuce may be harvested over a period of several weeks. Slobolt makes a good fall crop from midsummer plantings. It produces usable leaves three weeks longer than many well-known commercial leaf lettuce varieties. It receives its name because it is slow to "bolt" seed stems in warm weather.

Herds and Flocks For Greater Profit

Even up the size of litters. A sow will take strange pigs before hers are two days old. Make changes when pigs are ready to suck. Sprinkle the strangers with a weak solution of stock dip.

Deck all lambs and castrate all buck lambs at one to three weeks. Combine the two operations—castrate first, then deck. Use a reliable disinfectant on wounds. Bloodless docking and castration can be done with instruments made especially for the purpose.

Dehorn calves when young (under 10 days) with a chemical dehorner that won't rub off on the udder or flanks of the cow. A chemical dehorner works best on young calves, and calves are easier to handle when young.

To help prevent damp litter in brooding and laying houses, mix hydrated lime in the litter at the rate of one pound to eight square feet of floor space. Hydrated lime, remember—not ground limestone.

Treat Egg Right to Keep in Cold Storage

Treating an egg right means storing it clean, covered and cold, say University of Nebraska specialists. Eggs when clean should be stored in a covered bowl or pan, away from strong-smelling foods. Without a cover, eggs lose moisture and are likely to absorb odors. When kept in a cold place, even for part of a day, they stay good longer. Stored at room temperatures, eggs may lose much quality in three days.

Greatly Improved Devices Are Pledged to Amputees.

CHICAGO. —Promise of greatly improved artificial limbs for the nation's 20,000 war veterans in need of them was given by Dr. Paul E. Klopsteg, director of research at Northwestern university technological institute. He also is chairman of the national research council's committee on artificial limbs.

Dr. Klopsteg said some of the best of the new devices are modeled after those found in use in Germany and studied by him and others during a tour for that purpose. These include:

A "suction leg," worn by more than 15,000 German veterans with legs amputated above the knee. This consists of an artificial limb with a suction valve at the bottom of the fitted socket so that a vacuum may be created and the artificial portion held in place without harness.

An artificial arm, in which "skin tunnels" are made in the muscles of the arm or shoulder stump, and ivory pegs inserted therein. These pegs can be moved by muscle manipulation and will animate mechanisms in the artificial arm.

An artificial hand so made that weights up to 20 pounds have been lifted with it.

Other new devices, Dr. Klopsteg said, include a set of artificial arms so fashioned that a person with both arms off above the elbow can fit them on without assistance, and an artificial forearm, developed by American research engineers, which has a wrist that will rotate in an arc of 180 degrees when the forearm itself is turned in an arc of only 70 degrees.

Dr. Klopsteg warned, however, that "no artificial limb will ever completely replace a real one," adding that some veterans whose hopes had been built too high were greatly disappointed.

He said further that the lost arm had posed more difficult problems than leg amputations, because of the impossibility of reproducing the complicated finger movements.

Dr. Klopsteg said there still remains the necessity of large scale production, and some administrative machinery for distributing the improved artificial limbs.

Couple Asks $75,000 For Lost Honeymoon

BALTIMORE, MD. — A young couple filed suit for $75,000, alleging that injuries incurred in an accident a few hours after their marriage deprived them of "the sacred and priceless incident of marriage, namely a honeymoon."

Mrs. Elizabeth Wiktorzak, 19, of Hamtramck, Mich., said her pelvis was broken and she suffered other injuries when an automobile in which she and her husband were riding collided with a car operated by Julius Cohen. She asked $50,000 damages.

Her husband, Wallace Wiktorzak, 22, asked $25,000 damages for facial injuries and loss of his bride's "society and consortium."

Northwestern University Is Starting Research in Physics

EVANSTON, ILL. — Northwestern university has started a three-year, $500,000 program of fundamental research in physics which university officials say may lead to new and improved communication devices.

The program, financed by the navy, will be directed by Professors Walter S. Huxford and Robert J. Cashman of Northwestern's physics department.

It is an extension of wartime research in which they developed a new invisible-ray telephone and many new types of photo-electric cells used in the phone and in various army and navy secret weapons.

Testing Stainless Steel
"Stainless" steel knives can be tested by putting two or three drops of malt vinegar on the blade and allowing it to dry. After washing in hot water, if no spot remains, the blade is really stainless.

Juice-Over Oven
If a fruit pie runs over in the oven, sprinkle salt on the spilled juice. It lessens smoking and simplifies cleaning once the oven is cooled.

Heating Rolls
Heating rolls in the top of a double boiler keeps them soft and fresh. It avoids the too-crusty effect which often results from oven reheating, and saves heating the oven unless you plan to bake.

One-fifth of all the lettuce produced commercially in the United States is grown in the Valley of the Sun, of which Phoenix, Ariz., is the hub.

Make, Plan Summer Clothing Before Warm Weather Comes

By Ertla Haley

HAVE you ever been caught short with your winter clothing still hugging tight to the closet walls when the sun turned on its warmest rays and sent you scattering to get out your cottons?

This has happened to most of us at one time or another, perhaps more frequently than we like to admit. When it actually gets too warm it's really too difficult to start going over the closets and hemming last year's dresses or even remodeling them, so let's work a little in advance of schedule and get some things ready for summer now.

The amount of work you actually have to do depends greatly on your own wardrobe needs. If you plan to spend a lot of time at the beach or in the garden, then you will want several outfits for these purposes.

On the other hand, if you work, you will want several cool, crisp dresses that will let you travel to and from work neatly, as well as keep you looking crisp on the job. All of us, whether we go out a lot or not, like to have several neat dresses for changing into during the evening. It's the wise woman who makes a shower a part of the daily routine when the weather tends to get her down. Then she changes into something cool as the second part of her morale building routine.

Use Utility Fabrics For Outdoor Wear

One of the main considerations of clothes for gardening or out-of-doors activity is sturdy fabrics. Another is complete washability, and this means everything from trimmings to buttons.

If you plan to do lots of gardening, then choose pinpoints or slacks made of denim, duck, or something as durable. There will be many mornings when you have rough work ahead, and you will want a fabric that will withstand wear.

Another important factor to consider for this type of casual wear is

Jumper Shorts

These new pedal pushers of celanese tropical cloth follow the jumper trend with straps of royal blue and kelly green. Manish shoulders and collar set the right tailoring note beautifully as a man's slacks. The one piece garment is designed by Margaret Newman.

work to making the new styles because there are no real sleeve problems and other details that are so time-consuming. However, remember that styling is important, and fit is absolutely essential if you would look your smartest.

When you select dresses for late afternoon or evening wear, you don't want to overlook the possibilities of the transparent fabrics. However, choose the slip with the same care as you do the outer garment as it is an integral part of the ensemble. Make the slip yourself if you are not certain of finding one that looks well underneath the garment.

Generally you'll find that the cooler dresses have very loose sleeves, or cap sleeves which are now so popular. Necklines, too, will help you keep cool if they are loose rather than high up and tight.

In working with the sheer fabrics, if you find them difficult for sewing, use tissue paper underneath while stitching and then tear this off when you have finished.

It is best not to try to make buttonholes for the buttons on very lightweight and sheer materials. If you feel that buttons are essential, sew the buttons on carefully, and then place snap fasteners on the dress for the closings. Do not select too heavy buttons as they tend to pull the dress out of place.

Be Smart

After their long wartime banishment, slacks are on their way back. Slacks, too, are acquiring new fashion touches such as extra long jackets for wear with long trousers or pedal pushers.

Belt-Making Tips

Use only pre-shrunk material for lining a belt; otherwise it will shrink and make the belt worthless after the garment is washed once.

Buckles should be fade-proof and rust-proof. Watch out for metal buckles which will not launder.

Unshaped belts should be put with the grain of the material or they will twist constantly after they are made.

Cut belts on the thread of the fabric, either lengthwise or crosswise so you will have a true cut and thus avoid future troubles with twisting belts.

Belts for cotton dresses should always have linings to give the belt body and prevent it from being rolled into an uncomfortable rope when worn.

She was born May 15, 1867, one of seven children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Richards, near New Haven, Macomb County, Mich. She was married to the late Joseph White Nov. 7, 1888. Together they pioneered their present farm, coming to Lamotte in April, 1896. Mr. White died July 17, 1917. Mrs. White relates that the present M-53 was but a log road, nearly covered with brush and wilderness.

There are three children, Mrs. Frank J. Brown, Snover; Marvin White, Hemans; and Jay White, at home; two granddaughters and eight great grandchildren.—Contributed.

FUNERAL FOR MRS. TLUCZEK HELD IN DETROIT

Mrs. Julie Tluczek, 54, wife of Ceymon Tluczek, died Saturday noon in Pleasant Home Hospital where she had been a patient for a week. The Tluczeks came to a farm east and south of Cass City two years ago from Detroit.

Julie Zelazna was born March 16, 1893, in Poland and in October, 1911, at Newark, New Jersey, was married to Ceymon Tluczek. They came to Detroit in 1935.

Surviving are her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Estelle VanNorman of Melvindale; four sons, John, Mitchell, Theodore and Louis, all of Detroit; and one grandchild.

There was a rosary service Sunday evening in the Little Funeral Home and requiem high mass at 10 a. m. Monday in St. Pancratius Church here. The remains were taken to Detroit where funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Wednesday in St. Stephen's Church. Burial was made in Holy Cross cemetery. In Detroit, the remains were taken to the home of her son, John Tluczek, at 7751 Wykes.

MOVE ON WHEELS

Farmers are the largest single group of motor vehicle owners. More than four million passenger cars are in use on farms. Farmers own 1,110,000 trucks, and in addition, hire another half-million to handle farm products and supplies. Thirty-four per cent of all trucks are used in agriculture.

REWORK BUTTENOLES

Rework raveled or weak buttonholes with a buttonhole stitch. Buttons should be sewed on with a strong thread. It isn't easy to match buttons on readymade garments, so fasten them on securely as a precautionary measure.

Girl's Broken Leg Leads to Discovery of Weapon Against Infection.

CHICAGO.—Discovery of a new germ-killer, named in honor of the seven-year-old girl whose broken leg led to its discovery, was announced in the Journal of the American Medical Association. So powerful is the new weapon against infection that out of 100 patients on whom it was tried, 82 were saved from surgery.

The new agent is called bacitracin. It was developed in New York from a germ found in the infected wound of Margaret Tracy, 7, who had suffered a compound leg fracture. The discoverers are Dr. Frank L. Meleney and Miss Dalbina Johnson of Columbia University college of medicine and New York's Presbyterian hospital. Their announcement comes after four years of research.

Treat Bolls, Sties.

Infected fingers, boils, carbuncles, sties and ulcers are among the infections aided by bacitracin. Its use either obviated surgery or speeded recovery after surgery. The article says that results were "so speedy they surprised both the patient and physician."

Among instances cited are those of a patient with "a large indurated (hardened) and inflamed abscess of the face, and another with a deep abscess of the chest wall."

After a single injection, the article declares, both patients felt so much better they didn't consider it necessary to return the following day for treatment. And on the third day, when they returned, the wounds were "quiescent."

"Treatment of several patients with sties," the report says, "required nothing more than bacitracin dropped in the eye."

Used as an Ointment.

Bacitracin, now made up in ointment form that melts at body temperature, is effective against many of the same organisms as penicillin. But 30 organisms were found which were resistant to penicillin and responded to bacitracin, while six were resistant to bacitracin and susceptible to penicillin. Some organisms were resistant to both.

Another article in the same issue reports that six physicians of George Washington university school of medicine used penicillin in the treatment of 86 scarlet fever cases and found it highly effective. "Penicillin," the article says, "brought a prompt fall in temperature, decreased toxicity and practically eliminated the danger of patients carrying the disease and infecting others."

Excellent results also were obtained in the same field by Drs. Archibald L. Hayne and Rowine Hayes Brown of the Municipal Contagious Diseases hospital, Chicago.

Undulant Fever

Brucellosis, commonly known as "Bang's disease," attacks hogs as well as cattle. When humans contract the disease through milk or meat from infected animals, it is known as undulant fever. Undulant fever caused by eating infected pork is much more virulent than the disease resulting from drinking milk from infected cows.

Apple Waffle

For variety in flavor and texture, finely chopped apples may be added to a standard waffle batter. Add in the proportion of two cups of apples to each two cups of flour.

Pigs in China
China has 35 per cent as many cattle as this country, 35 per cent as many sheep and its hog population exceeds ours by 25 per cent. Pork is the favorite meat but is usually found only on the tables of the wealthy families. Mutton is widely used in some parts of China. Pork and other meats must be sold shortly after slaughter because of lack of refrigeration.

Creole Has Varied Meaning
The word, Creole, does not necessarily imply a person of mixed blood nor does it show distinction of color. The meaning has local variations, applying to descendants of non-aboriginal races born and settled in the West Indies, various parts of the United States, and in certain places settled by the Spanish, Portuguese and English.

Men Wear Mantillas
It's the men who wear mantillas in Guatemala! Tourists to this colorful country marvel at the Indian's native tribal costumes which consist of brilliantly colored jackets, knee pants and an unusual head-dress which looks like a woman's mantilla. They wear bright beads around their necks and arms, too.

Estimating Board Feet
You can estimate the number of board feet in a 16-foot log quite closely by subtracting four from the diameter at the top end of the log and squaring the number obtained. For instance, take a 16 foot log measuring 24 inches. After subtracting 4, the remainder 20 is squared and the answer is 400, which is the number of board feet in the log. Other lengths are judged proportionately. An 8 foot log would contain half as many board feet as a 16 foot log, and a 12 foot would contain three-fourths as many.

Cooking Game
As wild meat is naturally drier and tougher than domestic meat, the general rule is to cook game for a longer time at a lower temperature than other meats. While domestic meat is not usually cooked in a covered pan, this method is often better for wild meat. The covered roaster is best for long, slow, moist cooking.

THE FINEST MEAL I EVER COOKED!

That's what Jim said after the first meal on our new electric range. And he's right. Postwar electric ranges are a vast improvement over older models. Ovens are better insulated. Heating units are more efficient. That means less time for cooking . . . less cost to operate.

You save extra time, too, with the automatic control that starts and stops your range by itself. Why, you can go shopping all day and have supper already cooking when you return. And there's no heating up the kitchen . . . no soot or smoke to bother about.

These easy-to-use electric ranges are in stock right now at your local dealer's. Be sure to see them soon.

Speech Is Same; Sense Differs

When Yank Converses With Briton He's Up Against Bilingual Confusion.

LONDON. — Although Britons and Americans speak the same language they don't mean the same thing by it. This colloquy between an American and his middle-aged hostess is typical of the confusion that frequently results.

The guest, wanting to be useful in the kitchen of a country home, volunteered his services.

Accepting with thanks, the woman said: "You might fetch me that bathtub of apples from the hall."

"Bathtub? You mean from the bathroom?"

"Of course not. I mean from the hall."

"Do you take baths in the hall?" the American asked.

Very Odd, What?

"What an odd notion! We don't 'take baths' there. For that matter, we don't 'take' them anywhere. We simply keep the bathtub in the hall when it is not being used."

More than somewhat confused, the American went gallantly into the hall and came back with the tub of apples, his face glowing with the light of understanding.

"I get it now," he said. "I didn't know that you meant a wash-tub."

"I don't mean a wash-tub. A wash-tub is made of wood and has tin bands around it. This is different. Can't you tell by the shape?"

The light faded. The man asked: "Then what do you use in the bathroom?"

"The bath, naturally."

"But that's what you do there—take a bath, that is. What I'm trying to get at is, what do you do in it?"

"You bath in a bath. How complicated you make it seem."

Bath or Bathe.

"I really would like to get it straight," the American said patiently.

"The way I've always known it, you either take a bath, or bathe. In a bathtub, which is a white shiny thing you find in most bathrooms. You don't move a bathtub around. In the country, of course, you sometimes don't have a modern bathtub, so you use a kind of wash-tub. And this thing with apples in it looks like a wash-tub to me."

"I'd never bath in a wash-tub," the hostess exclaimed.

"That's the other point to be cleared up. Do you mean 'bathe'?"

"No, I don't. That's what you do in the sea, or in a river, or in a pool or something such as that."

"You swim there," he suggested. Asperity having crept into her rejoinder, matters were left that way.

An ex-G.I. living in England thought it was indelicate for a lady to talk about a "slop-basin" at the dinner table.

He was only moderately relieved when he was informed the description fitted a bowl in which to dump tea dregs.

Shorten Farm Day

One of the best ways to cut down the length of the farm working day is to cut a minute or two off the time for each daily chore. Planning the farm work and the arrangement of chores may shorten the workday by a total of an hour or more.

Check on Mice

To check on the presence of mice in orchards, farmers often drop 18-inch squares of roofing paper in the orchards, some feet from the trunk of any tree, and about one square for each tree. Examination will show whether mice are working or nesting under the roofing.

Bread Makes the Pudding!

(See Recipes Below)

Don't Waste Bread!

Most of us don't think it matters one way or the other whether we throw away a stale slice of bread, but, if each family were to save a slice of bread every day, the amount would feed many millions of hungry families who are less fortunate.

Small families, particularly find that the average loaf of bread dries rather quickly, and there are several slices within the week that are regarded as unfit for sandwiches. But there are literally thousands of uses for such bread.

Why not start on a personal campaign of your own just to see how much you can save by using every scrap of bread well? Spread the word to your friends and neighbors, and let's see if we can't really save food, which is the equivalent of putting dollars and cents in your pocketbook?

Here are ways to use those leftover pieces of bread with meats and vegetables. They stretch these other foods as well as make the dish more savory, which will be of interest to the palate as well as the purse.

Tangy Cheese Dish.

(Serves 8)
5 cups toasted 1/2-inch bread cubes
3/4 pound American cheese, grated
3 eggs, beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
2 1/2 cups milk
Alternate layers of cheese and toast cubes in a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Combine beaten eggs, salt, paprika, mustard and milk. Pour liquid mixture over bread and cheese in casserole. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 35 minutes.

Meat Souffle.

(Serves 6)
2 cups ground cooked meat
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
4 egg yolks, beaten
2 tablespoons shortening
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 1/4 cups milk, scalded
3 cups bread cubes
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Combine meat, salt, pepper and beaten egg yolks. Melt shortening in a small skillet, add onion and cook five minutes. Pour scalded milk over bread cubes. Combine meat mixture with bread and milk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole and set in a pan of water. Bake in a moderate oven for one hour.

Red Tomato Surprise.
(Serves 8)
2 3-ounce packages of cream cheese
2 tablespoons milk
Soak dry bread crumbs in milk to soften. Add salt, cinnamon and soda to bread crumb mixture. Blend thoroughly. Add beaten eggs and apple; mix well. Drop by tablespoon onto a hot greased griddle. Turn over and brown on both sides. Serve with syrup, honey or apple sauce.

Now that so many fresh fruits are in season, you'll certainly want to make good use of them. Fruits combine well with bread crumbs and give a nourishing finale to the lighter meals we are accustomed to eating in warmer weather. Here's a lovely dessert dressed up to fit a queen's table:

Baked Fresh Peach Macaroon.
(Makes 6)
6 medium fresh peaches
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
1/4 cup white corn syrup
1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 cups coarse dry bread crumbs
Dip peaches in hot water to remove skin. Slowly combine beaten egg white and corn syrup, heating until blended. Add sifted brown sugar and bread crumbs. Cover peach with macaroon mixture. Place on a greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 25 minutes.

Danish Apple Cake.
(Serves 8)
1 quart applesauce
2 cups toasted bread crumbs
3 egg yolks, beaten
1/4 cup melted butter or substitute
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 cup sugar
3 egg whites
6 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Combine applesauce, toasted bread crumbs, beaten egg yolks, butter, cinnamon and sugar. Bake in a greased two quart casserole in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. Remove from oven. Beat egg whites until stiff, add sugar gradually continuing to beat until mixture stands in peaks. Add vanilla. Top apple cake with meringue and return to oven for 15 minutes or until meringue browns.

It's a duty to see that no fat goes to waste. Here are quick tips: Every bit of fat left from cooking may be saved and used again unless it has scorched or is too strong in flavor.

Farmers Toil to Cure Soil Waste

Stabilizing the Farm Land Is Vital to Our National Welfare, Says Expert.

WASHINGTON. — With its ambitious 1947 program aimed at almost doubling its 1946 accomplishments, the soil conservation service admittedly has laid out a big job for itself. But on the basis of past achievements, coupled with the growing restiveness of farmers toward soil waste that literally washes dollars out of their pockets, the program appears feasible, experts say.

Progress in the first six months of the fiscal year also would indicate the goal was not too high. According to H. H. Bennett, chief of the SCS and the nation's outstanding preacher on the evils of soil erosion for the last 40 years, the higher goals this year are essential. "The work of stabilizing our farm land is vital to the national welfare," he declared, "and must move ahead with even greater speed, for it has been too long retarded."

Has Shown Results.

Bennett hits the chord that has perhaps struck most tunelessly on the ear of the farmer debating the question of undertaking soil conservation:

"Where it has been practiced," Bennett said, "soil conservation farming has resulted in at least a 20 per cent increase in production per acre, as an average. It has meant increased income to the farmer and savings in seed, fertilizer, labor and power. It has accounted for a high degree of land protection, even under the pressure of intensified wartime production." He estimated that the cost of not having a scientific program would average one million dollars a year.

Bennett declared that American farmers, falling in line with conservation practices made possible by congressional appropriation, "are turning the tide; we are winning the fight against the greatest common enemy to productive land—uncontrolled soil erosion."

He aims to put more than 30 million additional acres of farm land under conservation surveillance by June 30. That compares with new coverage to 16 million acres of land in fiscal year 1946.

Total Acreage Rising.

If his new program is realized it will bring to a total of 115 million acres the farm and ranch land in the United States which has been blanketed by complete soil and water conservation of all kinds since the program got under way in earnest in 1933.

Just how far the program has progressed in the first six months is shown by these figures: On July 1, 1946, of this current fiscal year there were 1,637 soil-conservation districts, embracing approximately 863 million acres, under conservation. By December 15, the number of districts has risen to 1,750 and slightly more than one billion acres.

The growth of districts means that more farmers and farms are brought closer to the technicians, who are available to assist them in their problems. The utopian aim, of course, is to have every acre of every district under control. Work is carried on now almost entirely through the district program.

This year around $41,300,000 has been made available for soil control in the seven regions of the country. In 1948 it is expected that the appropriation will go up to $43,221,500.

Bennett, in his zeal to save fertility of the soil, has compared the average American farm to a "patient beset with a complication of diseases, many of which are beyond the powers of home doctoring or even a general practitioner."

Builder Uses Psychology as Means of 'Inflating' Tires

AKRON, OHIO.—Psychology has been used successfully by a building contractor to combat "inflation." The contractor, having trouble with punctures in the pneumatic tires of his wheelbarrows, called in a B. F. Goodrich Rubber company field engineer, who suggested replacing them with zero pressure tires—a type which contains air space but does not have an inflated inner tube.

However, the laborers complained that the wheelbarrows were much harder to push without the pneumatic tires. Knowing this was just imagination, the contractor had dummy valves put through the rim holes to make the tires look pneumatic, and then returned the barrows to the job.

Next day, one by one, his employees came to tell him that the pushing was much easier again, as they "knew it would be," they said, with inflated tires.

Motor Glider Sets Three Altitude, Distance Records

BARTSTOW, CALIF.—A two-place, 957-pound motor glider set three world records on a flight here from Victorville, Calif., its pilots claimed. William G. Brigleb and Richard V. Lyon of the Soaring Association of California said they used two gallons of gasoline in a 24 horsepower motor to cruise at 55 miles an hour. They claimed an altitude record of 7,200 feet and a distance record of 37 miles in 47 minutes.

Weed Killing Demonstration

On Wednesday, May 23, the Tuscola County Road Commission will be host to the road commissions and drain commissions from all the adjoining counties in a roadside weeding demonstration, sponsored jointly by the County Road Commission, the Telford Equipment Company of Lansing and the Michigan Chemical Company of St. Louis.

The demonstration will be given to show the use of weed killing chemicals for destroying brush and noxious weeds along the roadsides and along highway and drainage ditches.

The demonstration should be of interest to farmers and others, as well as highway officials and drain commissioners, and all are invited to meet at the county garage in Vassar at 1:00 p. m. A tour will be made on some of the neighboring roads near Vassar. On some of these roads the weed killer has already been used and some of the results can be seen as well as methods of application.

Freshen Buttons

Tarnished gilt buttons and costume jewelry, as well as picture frames, may be freshened by using a small bottle of gilt paint and a small brush for applying. The color may be softened by mixing a little rouge with the paint in a saucer and blending well. Try out your color on another article until the shade is just what you want.

Bull Calves

Bull calves intended for market should be castrated before they are four months old, as castration after four months may result in "staggy" steers.

SAND VALLEY SCHOOL CLOSED FRIDAY

The Sand Valley school closed Friday, May 16, with a potluck dinner after which the men and boys enjoyed a ball game.

About thirty were present and watched the children receive their report cards, diplomas and certificates of award. Six children received certificates for being neither tardy nor absent during the entire school term. They were Glendora Churchill, Amy Churchill, Glen Churchill, Jr., and Constance Bartle. Glen Churchill, six years of age, and Constance Bartle, six years of age, have been in school every day for the two years they have been enrolled.

Later in the afternoon they enjoyed ice cream and cake and then left for their homes to begin to enjoy the vacation which to them had seemed so long in coming.

Mrs. S. W. Blades, the teacher, will return next September to begin her sixth year as teacher in the school.
