F. F. A. Boys Tour the College Barns

The F. F. A. boys and Edwin Baur went to East Lansing October 1 to tour the college barns and visit the John Bean Manufacturing Company.

In the forenoon, the group went through the dairy, sheep, beef and swine barns. The dairy experimental barn was quite interesting as different animals are being fed different feeds to determine the relative value of feeds.

In the afternoon, they visited the John Bean Manufacturing Company. Here they make many different types of sprayers for spraying orchards, cattle, whitewashing, killing weeds, etc. They also manufacture a potato harvester which is quite a labor saver. A new type hay maker was observed. The hay maker first cuts the hay and then it passes between two heavy steel rollers that crush the stems allowing the hay to dry much faster. Hay cut with this hay maker in the morning will be raked two hours later, and is ready for hauling in or baling about six hours after it is cut. The weather must be favorable in order to cut and bale the same day.

All of the students enjoyed going through the plant and watching the assembly of the different kinds of machines.

President Truman Urges Strict Food Conservation Drive

Advises No Meat on Tuesdays, No Poultry or Eggs on Thursdays

In a radio address Sunday night, President Truman launched the strictest food conservation drive in American peacetime history when he made an appeal to the public to observe two days of self denial each week to help feed hungry Europe.

Unless all Americans cooperate, President Truman said, they may endanger any hope of salvaging peace from the present chaotic world situation. He earnestly urged the public to:

1. Use no meat on Tuesdays.
2. Use no poultry or eggs on Thursdays.
3. Save a slice of bread every day.
4. Cooperate with public eating places which were asked to serve bread and butter only on request.

Truman also lashed out angrily at grain speculators—gamblers he called them—and said they were largely responsible for high food prices. And he warned that if the exchanges refuse to hike margin requirements, the government may take action.

At the same time, he thanked distillers for their voluntary offer to reduce the use of grain. But he said what really is needed is a 60-day shutdown of the entire industry.

Primarily, Truman said, every individual American must join in the grim campaign to save an extra 100,000,000 bushels of wheat between now and next July. This would enable this country to export about 570,000,000 bushels of grain.

Parents of crippled children who have recently moved into Tuscola County, who, if they wish their children to be examined should either drop a card or phone C. L. Bougher at Caro for an appointment. All cases not notified should either call by phone or drop a card to Mr. Bougher for an appointment. Milk Production Shows Still More Decrease in Sept.

Grover Laurie's Holstein Was High Cow in DHIA Report with 1935 lbs. Milk

The Dairy Herd Improvement Association's report for September shows the average milk per cow was 684 pounds and the average butterfat per cow was 26.4 pounds, according to figures of the D. H. I. A. Tuscola No. 3 of which Kenneth L. Baur is tester. The August average of milk was 754 pounds.

A five year old registered Holstein cow owned by Grover Laurie was high cow in September with 1935 pounds of milk, netting her 77.4 pounds of butterfat.

The total number of cows on test in September was 456. There were 30 herds with an average of 15.2 cows per herd. The total number of 50-pounds butterfat producing cows was 20. This is 16 below last month.

The association's average return per dollar spent for the month was $2.66 and the average cost to produce a pound of butterfat was 38 cents, while the average feed cost per 100 pounds of milk was $1.45. The average price per 100 pounds of milk was $3.40 per 100 for 3.5 milk.

The herd of Charles Seddan of Kingston finished its testing year with a 356.2 pound butterfat herd average. Continued from page 9.

Progressive Dinner Delightful Occasion

A progressive dinner party provided a novel social event on Monday evening for twenty-four young people of the Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church.

The first (off the record, or unofficial) stop was at the home of Edward Goding, Jr., retiring president, where olives were served as a joke-appetizer. The autos, laden with hungry adolescents and pastor, arrived at the home of Don and Marjorie Karr at 6:45 p. m., where hot cream of tomato soup only seemed to stimulate appetites; instead of taking off the edge. Of course some who walked, or was it those who arrived late, had "seconds".

Speculations were rife as to where next Sally Colbert and Marjorie went. Concluded on page 6.

Sebewaing and Cass City Play Tie Game

Cass City High School's band and football squad journeyed to Sebewaing Friday and participated in the evening's program when the Sebewaing's school lighted football field was dedicated.

Sebewaing and Cass City played a 6 to 6 tie football game that evening. The first half was scoreless. In the third period, Cass City made the first touchdown after recovering a Sebewaing fumble on the Sebewaing 25 yard line. A series of plays advanced the ball to the five yard line from which point Prieskorn passed to Karr for a touchdown.

Sebewaing came back to tie the score in the fourth period when Eastlick broke loose for 38 yards to Cass City's 20 yard line. A few plays later, Oeschger crashed over from the eight yard line. The game was fairly even. Sebewaing made six first downs and Cass City five. Parsch played well at center for the local team. Gil Schwaderer was proficient in signal calls and blocked well and Prieskorn completed three out of five passes.

The score: Cass City 0 0 6 0=6 Sebewaing 0 0 0 6=6

The flag raising at 7:45 p. m. will be conducted by the Legion color guard while the matted bands play "The Star Spangled Banner." The invocation will be given by Rev. Arnold Olsen and the dedicatory address will be delivered by Village President Frederick Pinney.

This short dedicatory service will be followed immediately by the Caro-Cass City game.

MacPhail Retires as President of the Yankee Team

Directly following the winning of the world championship by the New York Yankees who defeated Brooklyn, President "Larry" MacPhail announced his retirement as president of the Yankees. He gave "poor health" as the reason for that action. He said his retirement was effective immediately.

Leland MacPhail is a native of Cass City. His father was C. W. MacPhail, pioneer banker of Cass City. "Larry" attended the University of Michigan and was in the banking business in Grand Rapids before entering professional baseball.

MacPhail is the only man in baseball to serve as executive head of three major league organizations and the only man who has headed pennant-winning clubs in both leagues.

Entering baseball in 1931 when he purchased the Columbus club of the American Association, MacPhail served as president of the team from 1931 to 1934. He headed Cincinnati from 1934 to 1937 and moved to Brooklyn in 1937. He resigned at the close of the 1942 season to enter the Army, where he served as a colonel. In association with Del E. Webb and Dan Topping, MacPhail purchased the Yankees in 1945 for $2,900,000.

Decrease Reported In Army Enlistments

High Intelligence Standards Result in Decline.

WASHINGTON.—Eighty thousand men are needed monthly to bring the army up to normal strength. It was disclosed by the war department. New fall enlistments are running 25 per cent short of the number required for bare replacement of discharges, an officer said. War department figures show that enlistments for the first seven months of 1947 averaged 22,822 a month. The army estimates that 80,000 new recruits a month are needed to keep strength at present levels, with still larger enlistments necessary to build up to the 1,070,000 men authorized force.

Officials said the army could double its enlistments immediately if it could afford to scrap its new high standards for admission. In one month, the army rejected approximately half of the men who applied for enlistments—in the majority of cases for failure to pass intelligence tests.

The army made its "entrance exam" considerably tougher at the beginning of this year, because experience had proved that men of higher intelligence were needed to hold down the many technical jobs in the postwar service.

Before the passing grade was raised, 22 out of every 100 prospective volunteers failed to pass the test. In a recent month, the average was up to 85 failures out of 100 applicants.

In addition, 10 per cent of the men who appeared at recruiting offices couldn't pass the physical examinations, and a small percentage was rejected for what the army calls "moral disqualifications."

High war department officers are firm in their determination not to lower the army's standards in order to make up recruiting deficits.

"We tried it once two years ago," a spokesman said. "We threw open the ranks to almost anyone but idiots, and the result was nothing but trouble. We just can't use dullards in the army now."

Diver Comes Up With Teeth Adrift in River

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILL.—Walter Ford, whose false teeth popped out and sank in 30 feet of water when he gasped for air on reaching the surface after an underwater swim, paid a professional diver $75 to retrieve them.

Ford arranged for Charles Delps to dive for the teeth, valued by their owner at $150. He agreed to pay $15 if the dive was unsuccessful, $75 if it was successful.

Delps donned a shallow water mask and dived into the Mississippi river backwater. After a 10-minute search he broke surface with Ford's set of uppers. "The water was so cold down there I heard the teeth chattering," he said.

Thirsty Industries Face Shortage of Pure Water

PHILADELPHIA.—Add current shortages: A growing scarcity of clean water for America's increasingly thirsty industries.

The reason for this seeming paradox comes from Richard H. DeMott, vice president of SKF Industries, Inc., who says that the shortage is the result of a 20-year lag in production of high-speed water-pumping and purification facilities. An estimated three billion dollars must be spent by government and industry for new equipment to avert a "drouth" of unpolluted water, he declares.

"On many important rivers and streams water becomes polluted relatively high upstream and is used and reused so frequently that present limited purification facilities cannot cope with the task," DeMott says.

U. S. industry "drinks" approximately 21 billion gallons of this basic element a day—equivalent to twice the flow of the Hudson river. Paper manufacturers consume the greatest volume of water, DeMott explains, accounting for three billion gallons a day. Other large users include oil refineries, chemical plants and food processors.

"Continuing demands for larger pumps and other equipment that will increase pump capacity, indicate that industry is seriously concerned about additional water supplies for the immediate future," DeMott says.

Paralyzed Girl Prizes Eighth Grade Diploma

O'NEILL, NEB.—Like thousands of other boys and girls all over the country, Donna Mae Fuhrer felt a little bit more grown up after receiving her eighth grade diploma.

But hers was an extra special one, representing unusual courage and the loving cooperation of teachers at the little rural school near her home. Also unlike others, her diploma was accompanied by a letter of congratulation from Gov. Val Peterson.

Commencement exercises were held at Donna Mae's bedside. She never has been able to attend school and the teachers spent their spare time tutoring her. She has been paralyzed since infancy.

Oldest Living Thing
In Sequoia National park are thousands of giant Sequoias of which several hundred are more than 10 feet in diameter and 300 feet in height, while some have base diameters between 25 and 37 feet. The age of the Big Tree is difficult to realize. It is beyond comparison with the oldest living thing. Several of the trees were vigorous youngsters before the pyramids were built in Egypt and before Babylon was at its zenith. Thousands were flourishing trees when Christ was born in Bethlehem. Hundreds were lusty youngsters through all the ages of Greek art and Roman wars.

Soap of Indians
South American Indians tell a story of the discovery of soap bark. Some evidence has been discovered in ruins of the early civilization of South America that they knew of and used soap bark. It is possible that this soap was a sort of ointment, probably perfumed, as the oiling soap used by Cleopatra, which was perfumed oil used instead of a cleansing agent.

Snover Bride Wore White Satin Gown

A background of palms and candelabra provided the setting for a very lovely wedding on Saturday evening, Oct. 4, at seven o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hirsch, of Snover, when their daughter, Marjorie, became the bride of Mr. Robert Bruce Wheeler, also of Snover.

The double ring ceremony was performed in the presence of 75 relatives and friends by the Rev. George A. Marshall, pastor of the Pinnebog Methodist Church.

Miss Jean O'Rourke, before the ceremony, sang "Because" and "Always." The Wedding March from Lohengrin was played by Miss Jean Hess.

Traditional white satin fashioned the wedding gown, worn by the bride, with a finger-tip marquise-veiled. She carried a bridal bouquet of white gladioluses.

The maid of honor, Miss Marilyn Loney, Snover, wore a canary yellow gown fashioned on colonial lines. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations and pink roses.

The gowns of the bridesmaids were also fashioned in colonial style with Miss Marian Krizman, Decker, dressed in light blue and carrying blue carnations and pink roses, and Miss Patricia Brown, Snover, in a dusty rose gown and carrying a bouquet of blue carnations.

Robert was attended by Bruce McRae, Cass City; Russell Hillaker, Snover; and Horace Croft, Ubly.

Both mothers of the bridal couple wore gowns of teal blue and black accessories with corsages of gardenias.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given the couple in the Shabbona town hall.

After a two weeks' trip through northern Michigan, the couple will reside at Snover.

For her wedding, the bride chose an aqua crepe dress, trimmed with silver sequins, with which she wore black accessories. Her corsage was of white gardenias and red American Beauty roses.

The bride's attendant, Mrs. Norman R. Crawford, of Dearborn, wore a rose taffeta dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses and white and yellow bebe chrysanthemums.

Mr. Norman R. Crawford of Dearborn, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Emery wore a forest green crepe dress with navy and black accessories, and a corsage of rosebuds and bebe chrysanthemums.

Immediately after their marriage, a reception was held at the Caro Gun Club for 150 friends and relatives.

Mrs. Crawford is a graduate of the Caro High School, class of '47, and is presently employed with the B. C. D. Equipment Co.

Mr. Crawford is a graduate of Cass City High School, Class of '37, and served with the Army Air Corps for over four years, with 20 months' service overseas.

Out-of-town guests were from Detroit, Birmingham, Pontiac, Lapeer and Prudenville.

Newlyweds Are on Trip to Montana

A quiet wedding was solemnized Friday, Oct. 3, at one o'clock, at the Lutheran parsonage in Pigeon by the Rev. A. W. Hueschen, when Miss Shirley Hoppy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hoppy, of Pigeon, became the bride of Frank H. McComb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McComb, of Cass City.

The bride chose for her wedding, a gown of white slipper satin, with long train, sweetheart neckline, and long pointed sleeves and buttoned at the back with tiny buttons to the waist line. Her lace fingertip veil was crowned with a tiara of seed pearls and she carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses and white bebe chrysanthemums, tied with white satin ribbon, ending in long streamers.

Her sister, Miss Joyce Hoppy, acted as bridesmaid and was gowned in a yellow faille formal with bustle effect overskirt, cap sleeves and sweetheart neckline, with matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white bebe chrysanthemums, tied with a yellow satin ribbon bow.

Keith McComb, cousin of the groom, was best man.

After the ceremony, the happy couple left on a three weeks' honeymoon trip to Montana. They will reside in Pigeon on their return.

Quick Breads Take Little Mixing Time
(See recipes below.)

Tempting Breads

There is no aroma more appetizing-provoking than that tantalizing one which comes from the oven in which bread is baking. And what is more of a treat than eating the bread itself?

Piping hot muffins add interest to the simplest supper; hot coffee cake is a delight to both early and late risers, while thick and thin slices alike—as long as they are of home-made bread—make superb sandwiches for school lunches or late snacks.

Many homemakers don't bother to make homemade bread because they think it is a time-consuming procedure. Actually, it's far simpler than mixing a cake or even cooking a vegetable, and the pleasure of it is so great, it's more than worth the little effort.

Orange Oatmeal bread is good when sliced thin for sandwiches. Moist and tender, it keeps its flavor easily and slices readily. The flavor actually improves when the bread is kept for a day before being cut.

Orange Oatmeal Bread.

- (Makes 4-by-7-inch loaf)
- 1/2 cup evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1 cup quick-cooking oats
- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 2 tablespoons shortening, melted

Mix milk, orange juice and grated peel and add to oats. Let this mixture stand for an hour. Sift flour, salt, baking powder, soda and sugar. Add chopped nuts. Beat egg into oatmeal mixture. Add molasses and beat thoroughly. Stir in melted shortening. Add flour mixture and stir just to blend. Pour into a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for about 50 minutes, or until done.

Pecan Wheat Muffins.

- (Makes 12 to 16 muffins)
- 1 cup sifted whole wheat flour
- 1/2 cup sifted white flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup water
- 3 tablespoons melted shortening
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans

Sift first four ingredients twice, returning bran in sifter to sifted mixture. Beat egg, add brown sugar, milk and water. Stir until mixture is dissolved, then add shortening. Stir liquid quickly into dry ingredients. With the last few stirs, add chopped nuts. Pour batter immediately into greased muffin tins. Bake in a hot (400-degree) oven about 20 minutes.

LYNN SAYS:
Flavor's the Thing in Sandwiches

For a tasty as well as a nourishing sandwich, spread sliced luncheon meat with cream cheese mixed with chives. This tastes very special on rye bread.

For a well-seasoned sandwich spread that you can keep in the refrigerator, cream butter and mix with one of the following: sweet pickle relish, horseradish, onion juice or mustard.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Barbecued Lamb Breast
- Green Lima Beans
- Pan-Fried Potatoes
- Spinach-Carrot Salad
- Cornbread
- Beverage *Swedish Pancakes
- *Recipe given.

Raised Luncheon Muffins.

- (Makes 1 dozen 3-inch muffins)
- 1 package yeast, compressed
- 1/4 cup lukewarm water
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 eggs
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup melted shortening
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
- 2 1/2 cups flour, sifted

Crumble yeast into lukewarm water to soften. Scald milk. Cool. Beat eggs in mixing bowl. Add sugar, salt, shortening and orange rind. Mix well. Add cooled milk and 1 cup flour. Beat smooth. Add softened yeast. Mix well. Add remaining flour. Beat 2 minutes. Fill greased muffin pans half full. Let rise in warm place until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in a moderate (375-degree) oven for 18 to 20 minutes.

Date and Pecan Ring is an attractive as well as novel bread.

Date and Pecan Ring.

- Dates, halved
- Pecans, halved
- Honey
- 1 cup sifted white flour
- 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 cup unsifted whole wheat flour
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup pitted dates, chopped
- 1/2 cup pecans, coarsely chopped
- 1 1/2 cups rich milk
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 tablespoons shortening, melted

Grease an 8-inch ring mold thoroughly. To prepare decorative topping, alternate halves of dates and pecans on bottom of mold and drizzle with honey. In a mixing bowl, sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Add whole wheat flour, brown sugar, dates, nuts, and mix thoroughly. Combine milk and vinegar. Add shortening, then add beaten eggs. Stir in dry ingredients. Mix just until flour disappears. Pour into prepared ring mold and bake in a hot (425-degree) oven for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees) and continue baking for 20 to 25 minutes.

Swedish Pancakes With Berry Sauce.

- (Serves 4)
- 1 cup sifted enriched flour
- 1/4 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon melted shortening
- Sweetened berries or jam

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Combine egg, milk and melted shortening. Mix well. Add to flour mixture. Mix smooth. Using 2 tablespoons of batter for each cake, bake on hot griddle or skillet. Spread each cake with butter, then with berries or jam.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

For a different egg salad, add a few capers to the chopped egg and a few herbs to the dressing used for moistening the mixture.

Leftover weiners can be chopped or ground with pickle relish to be used as sandwich filling. Add a bit of mayonnaise or sandwich spread, if desired.

When you can't slice cooked tongue any longer, cut off the meaty pieces and mix with chopped hard-cooked egg and boiled dressing for a very good sandwich filler.

RESCUE

Mrs. Rose Crandell of Stanwood, who has been visiting at the home of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Maharg, the past two weeks, returned to her home this week end.

Ernest Roberts of Pontiac has been spending some time at his farm here, building a new home and staying at the home of his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Creguer and children of Filion were dinner guests Sunday at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Quinn, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ashmore and children of Tawas City were Saturday evening and Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. Ashmore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ashmore, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Maharg and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maharg and son, Larry, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Whipple at Millington.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quinn, Jr., and mother, Mrs. Thomas Quinn, Sr., were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mrs. Josephine Mosseau in Bad Axe.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley E. Mellendorf and children were Sunday dinner guests at the Levi Helwig home near Cass City.

Mrs. Caroline Zemke of Royal Oak was a Saturday guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry Mellendorf, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacCallum and children and nephew, Billy MacCallum, were in Bad Axe Sunday afternoon.

Benjamin McAlpine was in Marlette on business Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Moore and daughters, Donna and Diane, were Sunday visitors at the Willard Elliott home.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris E. Mellendorf and daughter, Ariene, and Mrs. DeEtte J. Mellendorf were in Bad Axe Sunday afternoon and also called to see Mrs. Norris E. Mellendorf's grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Mosseau, in that city.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Grant church met in the church basement on Thursday of this week.

Jack and Nelson Pay and Donald MacCallum are employed in Pontiac. They spent the week end at their homes here.

Jorie Karr had arranged to stop, and what would be served. Mrs. Cameron Wallace was not surprised when a quarter of a hundred hungry folks came bursting in at 7:19 p. m. A delicious fruit salad and wafers quickly and enjoyably disappeared.

Where next? Only the chauffeurs seemed to know. The stop was at the church where the main course was served by Mrs. James Colbert, Mrs. Otto Prieskorn, Mrs. Arthur Kettlewell and Mrs. Harry Little. The tables were attractively arranged with flowers and autumn leaves. Most folks were too busy to notice, or admire them—at first.

It seemed unnecessary to go farther insofar as appetites were concerned, but the gang tagged along, following the leader, James Wallace, president-elect, this time on foot. The group invaded the Parrott Dairy Bar, where Mrs. Walter Mann was in waiting with "Mann"-sized "Golding" cakes, cut and ready, which along with scoops of ice cream, climaxed the progressive dinner. The youth are now well fortified to begin and seriously cooperate with President Truman's food conservation plan.

Rev. Mr. Vender reports, "I saw only one-half a piece of cake left on one plate. Some of the Fellowship Group came to the dinner directly from football practice. What a preparation for a progressive dinner! However, putting on storm windows, as I did, had a similar effect as football."

The stroll back to the church was more leisurely and contented-like. Games were played from 8:30 to 9:00 p. m. The evening closed with a brief talk by the president, and "Yeh Mothers! Thank you! Thank you! Thank you!" The Junior Hi members as guests, were thus introduced into Westminster Fellowship, and twenty-four young people now know what a progressive dinner is, and they all pronounced it "tops".

The society meets on Sunday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 p. m. Don Karr is the Sunday evening leader, October 12. The topic is "My Faith and the Bible". Rev. M. R. Vender is the adult sponsor.

Trees Tell the Time

Since 200 B. C. successive generations of American trees have kept an accurate record of the weather in the United States. Variations in width of the tree's annual rings indicate the weather for each year. The name "lumber" is derived from "lombard," the name of a money lender or banker. So trees tell time as well as being bankers.

CHOLERA IS WORST PERIL TO PIG CROP

Hog cholera, again this year, is the greatest threat to plans for a bumper pig crop. The deadly virus of this No. 1 swine killer lurks in every section of the country, ready to cut down unprotected swine herds.

A wobbly gait is one sign of cholera.

Losses have run as high as 20 to 60 million dollars a year. Cholera occurs year after year, in spite of the fact that it is a totally preventable disease. If all farmers had their pigs vaccinated against cholera, around weaning time, losses could be reduced almost to zero.

Cholera strikes without warning, and it kills swiftly. The virus is so potent that a single fly, going from one farm to another, can carry enough virus to start an outbreak. And a whole herd may die within a few days from this highly-contagious and treacherous disease.

Hog owners should watch for such symptoms as failure to eat, weakness of the legs, a tendency to burrow under bedding, scours, or unexplained death of pigs. Any of these suspicious signs calls for immediate investigation by a veterinarian, because a day's delay can mean disastrous losses. A dependable diagnosis is essential, too, because hog cholera so closely resembles several other swine diseases.

Prevention, however, is the only sure way to combat this deadly enemy of swine, and prevention means vaccination of all pigs around weaning time. Immune hogs bring better prices and can be fed to maximum weight without risk of cholera losses.

Soil May Build or Weaken Our Bodies
Value of Food Depends On Mineral Fertility

"We are what we eat" and "what we eat depends on the soil that produces it," declares Dr. William A. Albrecht, University of Missouri.

"Human health troubles often come from poor nutrition which weakens the body. With its defenses down the body is less able to resist the attacks of bacteria and other forces."

"Foods from some soils provide only fuel for energy, other soils support crops that carry something 'extra'—body building materials. Where rainfall is high and where virgin forests once covered the land, plants are barely able to put together any more than fuel foods for themselves and animals. Properly managed with lime, fertilizers and legumes, these soils can be built to put into crops these body building values.

"On the more fertile soils of the hard wheat belt, the former buffalo prairies, where the rainfall is less, plants are able to synthesize much more than just fuel. Because of the mineral fertility left in the soil foods grown here contain body building, bone making values.

"Neglecting to put fertility such as barnyard manure, green manures, lime, and other fertilizers back into soils to balance crop removal pushes crops on these soils toward 'fuel only' crops. These 'fuel only' crops mean poorer growth and lower health values. The declining fertility of our soils is a decline in the health of our soils, of our plants and of ourselves."

Insoluble Grit Aids Chicken's Digestion

Some insoluble grit, usually granite or river gravel, will be eaten by hens if it is available. It assists the gizzard in grinding grains and coarse feeds that might cause impaction of the digestive tract. Fine ground feed can be digested satisfactorily without grit being available. Oyster shell and limestone rock particles sometimes are used as grit but the digestive juices break these down rapidly and thus make an excess of calcium available. Grit commonly is kept before hens at all times, although some producers prefer to feed it at intervals of 10 days to two weeks.

Rid Worms in Sheep With Phenothiazine

To control stomach and other roundworms of sheep, treat each animal individually with phenothiazine just ahead of the pasture season and keep phenothiazine-salt mixture in a covered trough before sheep on pasture.

Put a fence of corrugated paper (about 12 inches high) around the chick brooder to keep chicks from straying away and getting chilled. Move it back a little each day or so to give more room. Use it until chicks start jumping over.

To save time and hard work castrating and vaccinating pigs, make a rack like the one shown. Put the pig on its back in the V-shaped trough and, if you have no helper, use a strap to hold it.

Dipping sheep should wait until after shearing cuts have healed.

Erosion Danger Present In Nearly Every Month

The erosion hazard not only is with us always, but also it comes at any season, almost every month of the year. It is so serious that soil losses of 10 tons or more to the acre in a single month are not at all uncommon. Highest soil loss experienced for a single month in Mississippi was 62,378 pounds per acre. The loss must be combated by terracing, ground cover and conservation.

Kathleen Norris Says:

The Old-Fashioned Mother

Bell Syndicate—WNU Features.

"The children escape from home on every possible opportunity; drug store dates, movies, riding about in somebody's car, dancing, country club—anywhere and everywhere but home."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

THE wonderful thing about the old-fashioned mother was that she made home wonderful. She might be fat or thin, pale or rosy, socially gifted or plain, but her object in life was to make home comfortable, make us all glad to get there, let us know with every action of her life that she loved us.

Many mothers were fine cooks, whose pie crust, fried chicken, strawberry shortcake called forth shouts of approval. It was a real joy to these lovely women when asparagus and corn and blackberries appeared in the market—how Dad and the children liked them! A wet winter night, to them, meant a challenge to create coziness and warmth; lamps lighted, a fire blazing, good smells of dinner permeating the comfortable old living room.

The fastidious little daughter found her bureau always full of freshly ironed ruffles and trills; the book-hungry boy discovered new volumes beside his bed, the smaller children were helped with homework, comforted in the thousand crises of their lives. And for the older folk, the visiting aunt, the grandmother, Mother had special thought; Grandma's chair and Grandma's lamp were sacred; when Aunt Margaret came we must remember to have orange cake.

The claims of Father, however, came before all of these, and the children knew that it was his house, that he was important, that things were run as he liked them. In this considerate atmosphere they grew up to be considerate themselves; sisters did things for brothers, brothers for sisters. There was a general attitude of cooperation and help in the old-fashioned home.

Of course, all fathers were not good and loving providers, all mothers were not thoughtful and tender women. But the general run of them was that way: conscientious, affectionate, intelligent, home-loving and book-loving, the sort of persons who made America the heaven of plain folk.

Modern Comforts Doom Homes.
Nowadays there are fewer of those real homes; the trend of science and invention is against them. Soft, even furnace heat, plentiful light, lessened household jobs of canning and cooking, fire-making and sweeping, washing and baking, have taken the very center of the household away. Where the girls used to stay home and help, they now are off on jobs. Where amusements were home-made, about the evening lamp, they now are scattered far and wide. The children escape from home on every possible opportunity, drugstore, dates, movies, riding about in somebody's car, dancing, country club—anywhere and everywhere but home.

And Mother, consequently, isn't the cook she used to be. Dinner used to be important, it used to be an end, not a means to some other end, not just a hurried pause on the way to freedom. It was worth Mother's while to please everyone. Now a stop at the bakery and the purchase of a few cans does just as well; the office girl is dieting, the boy is off to his sweetheart, and the children had whole creamy pints of milkshake at 4 o'clock. Dad will eat anything.

Of course, this short-cut substituting for home life is wasteful and harmful. We can't go back. But I think a good many homekeeping women have made a serious mistake in not preserving the spirit of

THE HOME-MAKERS

We can't go back, but we could try to recapture some of the gracious living of the past, says Miss Norris in today's article. Many changes, some good, some bad, have altered the old concept of the home from a comfortable haven to a mere place to stay when there is no place better to go.

In cities especially, "home" has lost much of its old meaning. Canned foods, furnace heating, vacuum cleaners and washers have lessened or eliminated most of the old chores that used to keep most everyone in the family busy. While much drudgery has disappeared, the sense of cooperative effort and companionship also has departed. The tug of outside interests—jobs, school activities, social life in dance halls, bowling alleys, drug stores, anywhere but at home—has wrecked the old family spirit, Miss Norris contends.

The old-fashioned mother who made home the joyous, cozy place it was, has practically disappeared, laments Miss Norris. With her passing went a lot of the joy and stability of American life.

the old ways, even though the letter is so wholly changed. It is all-important to hold families together, to make home a place to which everyone loves to come, even though our dependence upon each other seems so much less than it used to be.

Everyone Needs Home Ties.

It really isn't less. Children, young persons, and above all, Dad, all need home ties. They make our past; they knit tight our future; they are the only safeguards we ever will know.

Living near me a few years ago was a rather poor family. Poor by American standards, that is; Dad and the oldest girl worked, but there were four younger children and an old grandmother. The combined income came to about $350 a month.

On this they all had a royal time. They were not reactionary; Ma liked the radio and movies, everyone talked politics, there were memberships in libraries, there were a gas stove, a washing-machine, a telephone and two collapsing yet efficient cars in the family.

They used to have summer suppers in the garden, and, walking by, I would see them sitting in the dusk, absorbed, laughing, delaying the pleasant meal to the last possible minute. In winter the simple low-ceiled sitting-room was filled with firelight, lamplight, books, big chairs. As the children grew up, they made dates, of course. They went away into their own homes. But they always came back, with the sons and daughters-in-law, and the babies. The mother of that family possessed some secret for happy living; they didn't miss anything else in modern interest or entertainment, but they had home, too.

A safe, happy home, in which he is beloved, is the right of every American child. Don't be surprised if the child who is robbed of it goes pretty far off the track.

Must Pay Own Fare

War brides who have refused army-arranged transportation must pay their own passage to the United States to join their husbands, the war department has announced.

Only those brides who already have signified their intention of doing so may be brought to this country through army facilities.

The army said the program to transport about 1,280 war brides and children remaining in Great Britain was moving slowly.

Many mothers were fine cooks...

Source of Gelatine
Gelatine is obtained from various animal substances, such as skin ligaments and bones of animals, by treatment with boiling water. It is commonly obtained when making soup where considerable bone is used. While it is a protein, it is not a complete one.

Rug Moth Protection
Rugs that are in constant use are not likely to be bothered by moths. But watch out for the parts that go under heavy and seldom-moved furniture, the moths are likely to make plenty of inroads in spots like that before you know they're at work. The best protection for these spots under heavy furniture is to move the furniture often and keep that part of the rug vacuumed and sprayed regularly with a good moth spray.

Great Blue Heron
Earliest record of a banded bird is that of a heron, believed to be a Great Blue heron, captured in Germany in 1710. The metal bands on its leg had been placed there in Turkey several years before. These herons of great patients have a length of 42 to 50 inches and stand four feet high. Great Blue herons are widely distributed in the Americas, from the Arctic regions southward into the northern parts of South America.

Women Doctors
Less than five per cent of the doctors in the United States are women.

Secrecy Veils Great Ore Hunt
Diggers Are Seeking Lodes Of Precious Uranium on Every Continent.

LONDON.—Surrounded with secrecy, scientists are engaged in the greatest mineral hunt since the California gold rush of '48.

On every continent, not excluding the frozen Antarctic and congealed subcontinent of Greenland, 20th century rock hunters are seeking the greatest lodes of all time—deposits of uranium and thorium—the mere possession of which may assure a nation's place in the sun of the foreseeable future.

Already Canada is in a strategic position in regard to North America.

Settled areas of Europe, Asia and America, as well as the wilderness, are being probed for the all-important ores. The radioactivity searcher of today has the advantage over the old-time gold hunter in that he doesn't have to see the ore to know the mineral is present.

From airplanes flying at 2,000 feet or higher, "Geiger counters," or mechanical devices which record radioactivity, can tell whether beneath the innocent-appearing surface below there will be found uranium or its priceless cousins.

May Try Ocean.
With Geiger counters it eventually may be possible to prospect the floors of the oceans themselves. For the first time, then, there may be reason for trying to stake out an area of open ocean for a single nation.

What are the minerals which are being sought so avidly?
Foremost is uranium, the substance from which the first atomic bomb dropped on Japan was made.

From uranium comes plutonium, of which was made the bomb that dropped on Nagasaki. Uranium comes from pitchblende and the yellow mineral carnotite, usually found in sandstone.

Thorium is the most common of the "rare earths," and it is found on every continent, but usually not in paying quantities. It was used commonly to make mantles for gas lamps.

It is found most commonly with monazite, a common mineral in India and Australia.

Plenty Available.
Uranium is not an uncommon mineral. It is more common than cadmium, bismuth, silver, mercury or iodine, and is about 1,000 times more prevalent than gold.

The British physicist, M. L. Oliphant, on a recent tour of Australia, said the known deposits of uranium were enough to supply current power needs for 100 years.

Oliphant predicted that by the time uranium gave out, other elements, probably including nitrogen, would be used.

The largest known deposit of uranium is in the Belgian Congo, an enormously rich African colony.

The second richest site is at Great Bear lake in the Northwest territory of Canada. In this day of transpolar strategy, Great Bear lake, on which the atomic safety of the United Nations depends, is in an uncomfortable position.

It would find itself in a potential combat zone with an initial trans-Arctic assault.

Find Wreck of 13 Planes; Fixes Fate of 40 Yanks
MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA.—A special unit of the Royal Australian air force is reported to have found the wreckage of 13 lost U. S. warplanes in a two-year 36,000-square-mile search of Dutch New Guinea.

K. M. Rundle, squadron leader, said he and seven crewmen of a Catalina flying boat also discovered the remains of one Dutch, six Australian and 70 Japanese planes.

They established the fate of 40 Americans and seven Australians. No crewman of any of the lost planes had turned up alive since shortly after the end of the war.

One U. S. plane was reached after a 22-hour canoe journey. Bodies of the crew, still in the plane, were buried.

Little Girl Mails Kitten She Found to Grandmother
ALTIQUIPPA, PA.—A little girl knew she would not be allowed to keep the kitten she found.

She was sure her grandmother would like to have it.

That's why borough police found a kitten in the mailbox in front of a hotel when they investigated to see what made those noises. Even a very little girl knows that when you want to mail something, you have to put it in the mailbox.

Auto Accident Death Trend Shows Slight Drop in U. S.
CHICAGO.—Death still rides the nation's highways, but he isn't traveling quite as fast as he once did, the semi-annual report of National Safety council showed.

At the half-year mark, 1947's death toll stood at 14,480. This was 9 per cent below the 15,890 chalked up at this time last year.

The improvement was made in the face of a travel upswing estimated at 11 per cent.

Different Attitude
Dobbins was discussing his relations with a new acquaintance. "Now you take my wife," he remarked, "she has a twin sister, so much like her you'd never be able to tell them apart."
"I suppose though," rejoined the other, "that it is easy for you."
Dobbins sighed.
"Well, yes," he grudgingly admitted, "but it wouldn't be if my wife showed the same respect for me that her sister does."

Mule Doctor
A member of the Missouri state legislature was being needed constantly by a colleague. The member waited with great patience for the day that he could strike back. The colleague arose one day from the floor and addressed the legislator.
"Sir," he said, "the news has just come to me that you are a veterinarian. Is that true?"
"Yes," drawled the legislator. "Are you ill?"

Orukter Amphiboles
The first steam-propelled vehicle in the United States was invented by Oliver Evans in 1804 and bore the Quaker name Orukter Amphibolos. Philadelphians were awed by this snorting scow as it roared down the street, plunged into the Delaware river and then churned slowly away. The army perfected its first amphibious landing craft 187 years later.
