Your Share in Scouting

Cass City, Michigan, Oct. 24, 1947

Last year at about this time, I made an appeal direct to you to support our local Scouting program by your donations to a Scout Fund drive. Then your response was every bit as whole hearted as I knew it would be. This year again Cass City will have no War Chest or Community Chest drive and again we are running a Scout drive.

Scouting is a program that the adults in a community sponsor for their youth. I need not tell you that Scouting is active here for most every week you can see so for yourselves. This program demands and gets many local leaders, both men and women, who give freely of their time for our youth.

Although there will be a canvass of the business places, there will be no house to house soliciting. If you would like to help, please leave your gift at either local bank. Won't you join your local Scouting program today?

High Awards Feature Wagon and Two Cars Family Circle of Eight Sisters Is Broken by Death of Mrs. Wald Gavel Club Views

With the death of Mrs. Theresa Wald in Elmwood Township on Oct. 15, a family circle of eight sisters who came to Gagetown in the "early eighties" was broken. They are the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Mall, who, with six of their daughters, came from Wilmot, Canada, on Dec. 21, 1883, to make their home in Michigan and settled on a farm 2½ miles south of Gagetown, now owned by Clayton O'Dell. Mrs. Josephine McDonald and Mrs. Mary Germain came the following spring. The mother, Mrs. Anna Catherine Mall, passed away in November, 1903, and the father, John Mall, in March,

The sisters all live in Gagetown with the exception of Mrs, Elizabeth Freeman who resides in Saginaw. Mrs. Mary Germain came back to Gagetown from Florida, Mrs. Catherine Oehring from Saginaw, and Mrs. Anna Armitage from Elstow, Sask., making the family circle complete.

11/2 pounds ground beef 1/2 cup uncooked rice 1 teaspoon salt tablespoon grated onion I can tomato soup 34 can water 2 tablespoons chopped onion

2 tablespoons chopped green pepper Mix meat, rice and seasonings. Shape into small balls and drop them into tomato soup to which the water, onion and green pepper have been added. Cook very slowly for 40 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce poured over them.

A few slivers of leftover meat are easily used in an attractive salad served in shells to make a substantial luncheon dish. Add eggs, cottage cheese and vegetables if you are some what shy of meat itself.

Here are two real economy dishes which you'll like for the cooler weather:

> Breaded Oxtails. (Serves 4)

2 oxtails 8 sprigs parsley, chopped

3 sprigs thyme I bay leaf

Salt and pepper Dash of cayenne 1 egg, beaten

1 cup sifted dry bread crumbs Wash extails and cut into 4-inch lengths. Cover with boiling water. Add parsley, thyme, bay leaves, salt, pepper and cayenne. Simmer tails until tender, about 2 to 3 hours. Let cool in stock. Drain meat, dip in egg and roll in crumbs. Fry in deep, hot fat (370 degrees) until

For cooked carrots, fleck them with chopped chives or parsley by adding the latter to the melted fat you use for seasoning.

Season chopped, freshly cooked spinach with crumbled bacon and a dash of nutmeg. Top with hardcooked egg white and yolk, separated and put through a sieve.

Scalloped or stewed tomatoes take on added color and flavor if you add a dash of herbs to them and also a suggestion of finely minced onion and chopped green pepper.

Economical Cuts Of Meat Are Tasty If Prepared Right

Leftover meats are creamed and served in patty shells on a platter generously heaped with vegetables-an economy note for your budget.

Budget-wise homemakers are taking a second look at their budgets this season, and most of them are keeping one eye on their purse strings, while the other eye is glued to prices. One item that is getting extra consideration is meat.

There's hardly such a thing as a budget cut of meat anymore, but naturally there are some that are less expensive than others. Breast of lamb is among those as well as some of the beef cuts including tongue; if you like pork, you'll have to be satisfied with a suggestion of the flavor. A roast is good economy if it is beef or lamb because you can count on two or three meals as well as sliced meat for sandwiches. If you plan on one roast per week-carefulcooked so as to avoid expensive shrinkage—then it's easy to use the economy items I've already mentioned to fill up the other days

> Liver-Rice Cakes. (Makes 10 cakes) pound sliced pork liver % cup shortening 1/2 small onion 13 cups cooked rice teaspoon salt ¼ teaspoon pepper 114 tablespoons milk

¼ cup milk Fry the liver in the 1/2 cup of shortening until nicely browned and let cool. Put the liver and onion through the food chopper. Add the rice, salt, pepper, egg, milk and mix well. Shape into small cakes and prown in ¼ cup of shortening until brown on both sides. Barbecued Lamb Breast. (Serves 4)

2 nounds breast of lamb 1 medium onion 34 cup chili sauce I teaspoon salt Pepper

¼ teaspoon red pepper 1 tablespoon vinegar 1 cup water

Cut lamb into 5 pieces. Season with salt and pepper. Place in a hot skillet with the fatty sides of the meat on the bottom so they will brown easily. Mix chili sauce. red pepper, vinegar and water and pour over lamb. Slice onion and place over meat. Cover. Simmer for 11/2 hours, then remove lid and cook for about 20 minutes or until most of the barbecue sauce is

Farm Earnings Reach New Peak

1947 Total Income Higher Than Any Similar Period In Country's History.

WASHINGTON-Trends so far in 1947 indicate the year may bring the highest annual farm earnings in history, according to officials who worked on the reports. They say the American farmer is taking in more money than ever before, despite mounting production costs.

In a survey prepared by the department of agriculture it was estinated that total cash receipts for farmers during the first eight months of 1947 reached 17.4 billion dollars—a 21 per cent gain over the same period of 1946, a record year.

Great Gross Income. Between January 1 and the end of lugust, the report showed, agriculure as an industry had a greater gross income than in any correpending period in history.

But the higher income is not all clear gain for the farmer, the report dded. His operating costs are continuing to increase. In 1946, the expenses of operating farms went up per cent. No estimate was made for 1947 expenses.

"The average farm operator realized a net income of $2,541 from agriculture and government payments in 1946," after the payment of taxes and other expenses, the report said. This was 19 per cent more than in 1915.

The farm payments program expired June 30 this year.

Farmer income skyrocketed this year because of continuing unprecedented demands for his products, the report showed.

Eating More Meat. The American consumer, for instance, is eating more meat per capita than he has since 1911. Also, e has more money.

Most of the farmers' income gain, he report observed, could be attributed to "an increase of 24 per cent in prices." One authority on livestock described the situation this way: Consumers, with more money than ever before, are demanding more meat. This has kept meat

Consequently, livestock products -which include meat, meat products, dairy and poultry —accounted for 10.8 billion dollars in farm income during the first eight months of 1947-an increase of 30 per cent over the 1946 period. The report said that wheat went into the market in "unprecedented volume" and at "unusually high

One authority said that the export demand was the primary factor in keeping wheat prices at top levels this year. He said European grain fields were wrecked by the war and Europe suffered from unfavorable growing conditions.

So the doctor dissolved a small penzedrine tablet—a pep pill—in half a glass of water. Into the solution he dropped a night-crawler, normally a lethargic, unemotional

Instantly, Apfelbach said, the worm was galvanized into action. Apfelbach impaled the worm, still thrashing, on a fishhook and cast it into the creek. A moment later, he said, he caught a five-pound bass. Since then, the doctor claims, he has caught lots of black bass.

Flood-Proof Fence Used in Australia Lays Flat While Drift

Wood and Water Pass A fence which bows before the onrush of flood waters and lies flat while water and drift-wood pass over is being used in Australia. The posts are 33 feet apart and two wooden droppers are placed be-tween the posts and another alongside each post. The posts are bored with holes 4 inches from the ground inches from the edge of the post, and another 3 inches from the edge. These posts are 6 feet long, 3 feet 6 inches above ground.

The droppers are bored 4 inches from the bottom and then 6 inches, 7 inches, 8 inches and 11 inches, allowing the top barbed wire to rest on the side of the dropper, to which it is tied through the hole with tie wire. The droppers are 3 feet 10 inches long. The bottom wire is reeved through the droppers and then through the posts. Each dropper near a post has a piece of wire passed around the top of the post, then around the dropper so that it will give way in flood time and allow the fence of droppers to collapse. The bottom wire, 4 inches from the ground, holds the fence to

After the flood has subsided, all that is necessary is to stand the fence of droppers upright again and attach it to the posts as before.

How to Prevent Date With Big Farm Fire

Thirty-five, hundred farmers who lived happily on their farms a year ago are dead, largely victims of their own carelessness. They decided to "live" with fire hazards and lost. With them went almost 100 million dollars in farm prop-

In one year 18,000 fires started in newspapers, magazines and other rubbish. Flammable liquids, improperly stored or handled, caused 26,000 fires. Electric cords and other defective electrical equipcaused 31,000 fires. Dirty stoves, lamps and lanterns caused 18,000 fires. Some 39,000 fires started on flammable wood shingle roofs. Dirty chimneys were responsible for 40,000 fires, and 50,000 fires originated in dirty and defective heating plants.

The cures suggest themselves. If the farmers will clean up the outbuildings, farm machinery, and the fields, and be careful with matches and smoking, there is little reason for worry about fire.

KNOW YOUR BREED Silver - Laced Wyandottes By W. J. DRYDEN

The Silver-Laced Wyandotte is believed to have come from crosses of Dark Brahmas, Silver Spangled Hamburgs and a French fowl named Brenda.

Standard weights are: Cock, 81/2 pounds, hens 6½ pounds, cockerels. 7½ pounds, pullets, 5½ pounds. The female is round in shape, the back gently sloping. An ideal market fowl, this type also can be bred for high egg production without sacrifice of standard requirements.

Cutting Protein Loss Will Slash Feed Cost

Dairymen can reduce the size of next winter's protein-feed bill considerably by saving a greater percentage of the protein in their home-grown forage crops, say dairy specialists of the USDA. One way to reduce the protein losses and thereby actually put more of the home-grown protein in the cows' manure next winter, is to make silage from forage crops instead of curing in the field for hay,

"On Wednesday night," explained the swami, "I go bowling."

Simpler Word

Mrs. Smith was reading a letter at breakfast. Suddenly she looked up suspiciously at her husband.

"George," she said, "I've just received a letter from mother saying she isn't accepting our invitation to come and stay, as we do not appear to want her. What does she mean by that? I told you to write and say that she was to come at her own convenience. You did write, didn't

"Er-yes," said George, "But I-I couldn't spell 'convenience,' so I made it 'risk'."

Quite a Baby! A deacon in the local church was going to the city, and agreed to purchase a new sign to be hung in front of the church. He lost the sheet of paper on which he had put the motto and dimensions, so he wired his wife:

"Send motto and dimensions." An hour later the telegraph operator was startled at the reply. The message read: "Unto Us a Child is Born, 6 feet long and 2 feet wide."

Not Too Sorry "I hope, dear." remarked moth-

"that when they sent you home, you were sorry Miss Pringle couldn't teach today."

"Oh, I was, mother," little Betty replied. And then, with a mischieyous twinkle in her eye, the youngster added: "But, mother, I couldn't help clapping my hands under my

A hunter was showing off his collection of trophies to a group of visitors. He was rapturously explaining how he acquired the various exhibits. "See that elephant?" he said. "I shot it in my pajamas." "My gosh," murmured the surprised young lady, "How did it get in there?"

Easy Way Out The after-dinner speaker had talked for 15 minutes but said nothing important. "After partaking of such a meal," he continued, "I feel if I had caten any more I would be unable to talk."

Tiny Car, Quarter Ounce, Speeds (3) Miles an Hour

PITTSBURGH.-A model automobile that weighs only a quarter of an ounce, and attains a speed of 131 miles an hour in about a second has been constructed by C. M. Lear, an engineer for Westinghouse Electric corporation at East Pittsburgh.

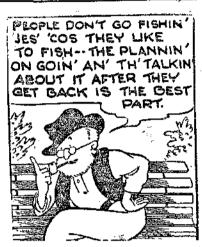

The diminutive machine does not use gasoline, he said. It derives its power from a metal capsule of carbon dioxide similar to that used in a siphon bottle.

The vehicle is a racing machine and competes at speed trials with other models built on corresponding lines over a 60foot "race track."

American Word

'Lumber" is truly an American word. Records of 1663 refer to 'lumber and other goods," which is believed to be the earliest official use of the word. The first American lumber mill was established in 1623 -years before the word "lumber" was first used.

Cities, Towns Erase Confusion of Names

Thousands Have Changed, Says Report of Survey.

WASHINGTON. - Meredith F. Burrill, director of the U.S. board of geographic names, has released survey on the work of the board in helping to simplify names and end the confusion of similar ones.

While there are still 12 Plainfields and six Philadelphias in the United States, Burrill said much progress has been made toward ending the 'names" confusion.

Many cities undoubtedly would have changed their names except for local pride and expense, Burrill

"Geographic names are not fully rational," he explained. "Citizens maintain the name of their town more out of emotion than reason sometimes.' Some names have become so firmly established that it is unlikely they ever will be changed, even if they are confusing, such as Virginia City in Nevada, Montana and Vir-

Among the thousands of place names that have been changed since the board was established in 1890 are a long list of towns and cities that have dropped the final "h" in "burgh" and the "ugh" in 'borough.''

Pittsburgh, Pa., is a major exception. All the other Pittsburgs in the postal guide-there are 10, including one Pittsburg Landing, Tenn .- have dropped the "h."

The board has urged citizens to drop the words "town" and "city" from the name of their communities. Those terms are particularly prevalent in the Midwest.

Many still retain the terms or change town to ton.

Incidentally, the term "city" eems to have no effect on the growth of a community. In fact, Burrill pointed out, only Oklahoma City and Kansas City have grown to be real cities.

Some "cities" have fewer than 1.000 persons. The board is not always interested in changing the name of a town. For instance it favors retaining names of Indian, Spanish and French origin.

Nor does it favor changing the name of a town to honor an individual unless he has achieved "great

New Product Keeps Potato Sproutless

Problem of Storage Now Aided by New Methods

The sprouting, shriveling and sogginess of potatoes when kept at room temperatures now can be prevented with use of barsprout. The treated potatoes remain firm, practically farm-fresh, and not only cook but also taste better. The product is equally effective on certain other root crops such as beets, carrots, turnips and rutabagas.

The active ingredient is methyl ester of naphthaleneacetic acid. When applied to the potatoes as a dust, it vaporizes and literally 'gets into their eyes," keeping them from sprouting. Feeding tests have shown that the chemical imparts no harmful effect. Tests have been conducted for the past five years at leading agricultural exper-

By this treatment the potatoes may be kept at ordinary room temperatures without sprouting and without formation of reducing sugar. Ordinarily potatoes are held below 45 degrees and shrink 5 per cent in weight, developing reducing sugars which affect color and taste.

KNOW YOUR BREED Percheron

The Percheron horse originated n La Perche, a province near Normandy, France, and was imported into this country in 1839. Readily gaining in popularity in America, it is still the most widely used draft breed in the country.

The Percheron is an unusually an easy keeper. He is clean-legged. black or dapple-grey and of marked tractability and intelligence.

Hot-Weather Care of Poultry Is Essential

Hot weather always brings problems of poultry management, but good practices will solve most of them successfully. Feed your flocks freely to keep up high egg production and to keep pullets growing rapidly. Have plenty of fresh water available for them at all times. Provide plenty of shade. Make use of good pastures, where possible, to help keep feed costs

Refugee Girls Find Happiness in Canada

Many of Them Are Employed In Rayon Spinning Mill.

ST. GEORGES, QUE .-- One hundred European girls, who were transported from displaced persons camps in Germany to this little French-speaking town in Quebec, seem happy in their work in a ray-on spinning mill here. Socially they stick pretty much to themselves.

Reaction to importation of the girls, who began work at 25 cents an hour, has been heard in Canada and elsewhere. Some labor leaders criticized the organizer of the scheme, Ludger Dionne, owner of the spinning mill and liberal member of parliament for Beauce, for the low wage being paid the girls. At the same time, criticism of the government, as having no uniform immigration policy, was beard.

Dionne, however, has said that the girls—flown here from Frankfort at a cost of about $500 each-were being lodged and fed at an unusually low rate of $6 a week. The girls, who are under a not too rigid twoyear contract recently received their first raise—to 30 cents an hour. All the girls are Roman Catholics and Polish except for a few Yugoslavs, two Russians and a Lithuanian. A few speak good English, an additional few can make themselves understood, while two speak passable French. The language difficulty was seen as the major reason they mix little with the people of this town of 10,000, which is about 65 miles south of Quebec city.

Anne Gaizutyte commented: "T have no time for boy friends. I like to stay home and read—I have so much to learn."

She is 22 and a former university chemistry student.

The girls, although lacking in industrial experience, are found to be "good workers and quick to learn." Dionne said they were not throwing other girls out of work-he could still take an additional 50 girls in his plant if he could get them.

There has been no great comment from other employers.

Although at first townsfolk weren't too keen about arrival of the group, Mayor Kenneth Pozer of St. Georges West said: "The girls are received here sympathetically—just as well as any family. They are well liked."

Submarine Spots Flier, Saves Him After Crash

NEW LONDON, CONN .-- Rising to the surface as soon as its periscope had shown a pilot, who and dropped into the sea, the submarine Finback rescued the flier and aided in the salvaging of his small plane,

The pilot, Godfrey J. Lapalme, was picked up on Long Island sound, about 10 miles south of Saybrook, and transported to the submarine base here, where his condition was reported as good.

The plane was hoisted aboard the auxiliary mine layer Spig. which had answered the submarine's radio giving the sircraft's position.

Contacts MINUTE

by Night By Art Taylor

"A GAIN tonight?" asked Kitty, trying to be light and casual and succeeding only in sounding strained and accusing.

"'Fraid I must," said Brace. He also tried to be casual but he sounded weary. And looked weary; too tightly drawn, Some burden of the spirit was beginning to break through his outer defenses. "I have to make contacts, you know, hon, and—"

"I know." Indeed, she did know it. She had listened to it at regular intervals for the past six weeks. It had sounded plausible at first, but contacts that had to be made every night for six weeks seemed slightly incredible. Brace didn't argue. He just said, Sorry, hon. I'm hoping it won't last much longer. I know it's tough on you, sitting here by yourself night after night."

"Think nothing of it," Kitty said brightly. "I adore being a business widow."

Brace moved over to where she sat, trying to decide whether he should tell her now or let the thing drift. He knew it couldn't go on like this much longer, but again he temporized and remained affent, merely squeezing her arm.

But tonight, Kitty was definitely off the beam and there was no response to the private signal. Probably Brace had expected none because he picked up his hat and left without another word. Kitty knew Brace was deceiving her but she didn't know why nor how.

From then on, life for Kitty became conjecture, trust, distrust and despair, MAYBE it was the war. It did strange things to men, everyone said. But Brace was the same old Brace when he came back. The first six months were practically idyllic and Brace and Bill had been so enthusiastic about this new business they had hatched out in spare moments out in the Pacific. And then the flood of strikes had inundated the country and swamped some businesses and washed others into stagnant backwaters. That was when Brace became worried and restless and began stepping out. Each night it was harder to take. This was a drop of $1,563,711,256 This night, she knew, was going to be very bad. The phone rang. That booming voice on the other end could belong to only one person. 'Uncle Edward!" she squealed in delight, "Where are you?" "At the leading hostelry. I just had to come see if you were still in existence. I'll give you and the boy friend just fifteen minutes to don the glad rags and we'll paint this burg a nice vermillion." Kitty said. "The boy friend is out, but give me ten minutes and I'll help you give it a double coat." She took him to the Chateau in the Pines. It was new and swanky and thirty miles away. It was too expensive for Brace and Bill so there was no danger of running into them. She was too proud to try to follow them, whatever they were up

And then she saw Brace and Bill. Very handsome and immaculate they were in their tails, too. The captain beckoned to Brace, Bill tried to step in front of him and take the call but Brace pulled him back, and with steady pace approached the table.

Kitty's heart turned over. Why the two crazy youngsters. Working night and day to keep their precious business from going on the rocks and too proud to let her know how they were doing it.

Without a sign of recognition, Brace spread the ornate menus in front of them. "The caviar is unusually good to-night, sir," he said; 'also the baked pheasant." "How about it, Kitten?" boomed

Uncle Edward. "It doesn't make a bit of difference, Uncle Edward," caroled Gordon Jones and Claude Welch, Kitty. "If this handsome young waiter should bring me fricasseed sawdust, it would taste like ambrosia and nectar." And slipping her hand up under the napkin draped so properly over was over Anadarko, 19 miles west, the handsome young waiter's arm,
