FARM AND GARDEN

MANGE IN CATTLE.

Small Dipping Plant For Ordinary Farm Use.

Of the various dipping plants in use there are the small dipping plant, which is inexpensive and suitable for use by a community of farmers, and the larger dipping plant, with swimming tank, such as would be needed if large numbers of range cattle are to be treated. A suitable plant for a community of farmers has been built for $150, while a swimming tank will cost $350.

A plant which seems to be an admirable example of the smaller kind was built, with the exception of the tank, by farmers. A thrashing engine was used for heating purposes by connecting a 1 1/4 inch pipe to the whistle intake, the whistle being removed and the pipe joined to the union. The plant has a capacity of 200 head per day. Its cost, without engine or labor, excepting the labor to build the tank or vat, was $150. One person can easily lower the cage when loaded by taking a hitch around a post, and it may be raised, as shown in the illustration, either with engine or horses.

A plant of this capacity will answer very well in a community where various owners have bunches of cattle ranging from 80 to 100 head or less. Its chief advantage over the swimming tank is cheapness in construction because of its size.

In communities where mange exists or even where numbers of small herds are infected with lice a plant of this character might be constructed and used with profit to the cattlemen. Specifications of material for this plant, as well as further information in regard to dipping plants and scabies in cattle, occur in farmer's bulletin No. 152, by Dr. R. W. Hickman.

Handy on the Corn Wagon.

The illustration and description of a scoop board for unloading corn and other things has been presented by a correspondent in Ohio Farmer as follows: When in position, the hind end of the device is elevated several inches so that the ears of corn will not roll down under foot. It can be taken along to the field for the purpose of throwing in sorted corn or can be left at the crib. It can be taken off by merely lifting up the hind end so as to let the block on the end of the side bar pass under the cleat of its front end and then pull it back and it will slide out as easily as an end gate. There are no chains to loosen or hooks to unhook. It needs no blacksmith work. Any farmer can make one to fit his own wagon. It is very convenient in cornhusking times; far superior to a board set in the wagon bed to start to scoop on.

SCOOP BOARD FOR WAGON.

Cowpeas at the North.

If cowpeas are planted this far north about the 1st of June, the early varieties will be right to turn hogs on the last half of August and will furnish the right food at this time to finish on new corn, and the ground may be seeded with winter wheat afterward without any preparation, if a disk drill be used, or rye may be seeded for a green winter cover crop and turned under for spring crop, especially potatoes. For beginners I would advise: Get seed that will mature in your latitude, or farther north; drill fifteen pounds per acre in rows thirty to thirty-six inches apart, and cultivate clean until vines interfere. A few years' trial with cowpeas will suggest many ways to utilize them to good advantage on every farm.—E. F. D., Leesburg, Ind.

Cuttings and Grafts.

It is a good idea to cut timber and fencing stuff in August. It dries out quickly and becomes hard.

August is a first rate month to destroy bushes and briars of all kinds.

It is a good time to lay drains and dig ditches.

Spraying is still in order. Cut all the seed bearing plants in the asparagus beds before the seeds begin to fall.

Bordeaux mixture is the best remedy for late potato blight.

Pinch back the new shoots of blackberries.

Scrape the rough bark from the young fruit trees.

A dry time in August is the time to kill weeds.

August sown rye makes good fall pasture.

Sow late peas and lettuce.

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS COLLEGE

SAGINAW, MICHIGAN

Views of a few of the departments of the most elegantly and completely equipped business college in Michigan. When you attend the International Business College, remember that you will there receive not only the very best training that it is possible for any school in America to give you, but the advantage of becoming familiar with all kinds of office appliances. This is the only school in America, with one exception, that furnishes its commercial students with fine roll-top office desks. Our offices are as elegant as any bank.

E. I. FISH, Sec.

Not a Graduate Nor a Competent Student Unemployed.

The International Business College places scores of young people in lucrative positions each year. Business men know that when they employ a graduate of this college they will not be disappointed, for our students are thoroughly trained in every department of business; consequently, we have scores of demands for competent help that we can not supply. No need of anyone being out of employment. Take a course in the International Business College and your success will be assured.

A MARVELLOUS GROWTH

Six years ago the International Business College of Saginaw had an attendance of less than twenty students. Last year the registration far exceeded three hundred. Does this not convince you of the increasing popularity of the college. The very best young people that the country affords are students of the International. The best are coming here, because they can here receive the best training.

BUSINESS, NOT JUST BOOKKEEPING.

The International of Saginaw teaches business as it is practiced by business men. We don't care what text books say, we look to business men for their methods. Students of the International are better trained than the students of other colleges; consequently they are receiving higher salaries. Don't be fooled by cheap tuition. The best course is none too good for you. You will find it the most profitable.

Intermediate Department.

NO IDLE BOAST.

The teachers are the very best that money will hire. If you wish the pictures of the heads of the various departments, we will send them to you. If it is dollars you want, obtain a course that will command the dollars. A business man will not employ you, unless you are of value to him. Attend the best equipped school, presided over by the most competent instructors, and receive the most practical and most useful and most remunerative education obtainable, and go from the institution one of the best trained, ready to fill any of the best positions.

Business Practice and Banking.

Shorthand Department.

OFFICE TRAINING AS WELL AS SHORTHAND.

Our shorthand course comprises everything that is necessary in order to make you a competent stenographer. Not just shorthand, but a thorough training in every phase and department of office work. The typewriters are all new and of the latest and most improved designs. If you attend the international you will be successful. If you attend some other college, your future will be covered with clouds of uncertainty.
