THREE TICKETS IN THE FIELD

Township Election Promises to Be Interesting.

A. A. MCKENZIE AS SUPERVISOR

On the Republican Ticket. Democratic Caucus Today and Prohibition on Monday.

Township election in Elkland promises to be as interesting as in former years, there being a promise of three tickets in the field. The republican caucus has already been held while the democrats will hold one this afternoon and the prohibitionists have a call for one Monday. Both of these caucuses will be held at the town hall at 2:00 p. m.

According to the call issued last week, a Republican caucus was held at the town hall Wednesday afternoon. It was well attended and much interest was manifested in the selection of the candidates. The ticket is led by A. A. McKenzie, who is well and favorably known and has an excellent record as supervisor of the township. Without a doubt, this ticket will be elected by a good majority.

The following officers were nominated:

Supervisor—A. A. McKenzie.
Clerk—H. F. Lenzner.
Treasurer—B. Benkelman.
School Inspector—Geo. Hall.
Highway Commissioner—John Marshall.
Justice of Peace—Geo. Predmore.
Member of the Board of Review—J. H. Striffler.
Constables—John Ensley, Chas. D. Striffler, Henry Ball and John Woolley.
Jas. Perkins was elected as a member of the township committee and the following gentlemen were chosen as delegates to the county convention: J. D. Brooker, Dr. D. P. Deming, Jas. Perkins, O. K. James, Dr. Wm. Morris, C. W. McKenzie, F. C. Lee, Geo. Hall, and G. A. Striffler.

J. H. Striffler presided as chairman of the caucus and A. D. Gillies was chosen secretary. The chair appointed Jas. Perkins and S. G. Benkelman as tellers.

WERE INDORSED BY MONTAGUE.

The Detroit Evening News of Tuesday contained the following interesting item concerning Chas. Montague, the bankrupt capitalist:

"When the Henry A. Newland Co., of Detroit was organized at the annual meeting in January and a new board of directors elected, it was discovered that the stock subscriptions of Frank L. Hyde and A. M. Seymour, directors and officers of the company, amounting to $11,250 each, had never been fully paid, and that instead the company had their notes for the amounts, indorsed by Charles Montague, the bankrupt Caro capitalist. Hyde testified before the referee that no mention was ever made to the directors of these notes, but that if they had taken the trouble to examine the books the items would have been found. The total amount now due, after deducting the payments made by Hyde and Seymour, is about $17,000, and the trustees of the Henry A. Newland Co. ask that it be made a valid claim against the bankrupt estate of Charles Montague, to share in the assets in the hands of the Union Trust Co., Montague's trustee. Montague admits the indorsement of the notes, which he says was for the purpose of enabling Hyde and Seymour to pay their stock subscriptions, but did not list them among his liabilities for the reason that he regards them as outlawed."

HAD A TIME OF HIS OWN.

Paul Haas, aged 19, received an invitation to a party at the house of Jacob Fink, in the country near Mayville. He announced that he wouldn't have time to attend, as he was going to have a time of his own. He evidently meant what he said, as it is charged that after he had imbibed freely he repaired to the Fink residence while the festivities were at their height, and commenced firing at the house with a shotgun at short range. The fifth shot went through the side of the building and some of the bullets struck Elsie Bowerman near the left temple and I. E. Huyerheim in the forehead. The screams of the woman evidently frightened Haas, as he left. George Stalker, grandfather of Miss Bowerman, entered a complaint against Haas, and he was brought before Justice Clark for examination which was continued until the 24th. While the wounds of Miss Bowerman and Mr. Huyerheim are painful, they are not serious, and they will be around again in a few days. Haas has always borne a good reputation save for the drink habit.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR RESIGNS.

Rev. S. P. Jackson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has tendered his resignation on account of ill-health. On Monday he will go to Vermont and take up a different occupation in hopes that it may benefit him. His resignation is quite a surprise to his congregation. He will occupy the pulpit next Sunday. The best wishes for a successful future go with Mr. Jackson and his estimable wife to their new field of duty.

FORDNEY IS IT.

Washington, March 21—Representative Fordney of Saginaw was selected as one of the 48 members of the republican congressional campaign committee which will conduct the campaign for the election of republican members of the fifty-ninth congress at a caucus of the members of the senate and house to be held in the hall of the house. The members chosen were selected by the state delegations in congress. A resolution was passed by the caucus empowering the next chairman of the committee to fill the vacancies. The states left unrepresented on this committee are Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas, Vermont and Arizona territory. About 75 members of the senate and house attended the caucus, which was presided over by Representative Hepburn of Iowa. The selection of members took less than an hour.

GEORGE S. RIKER DEAD

Came to Tuscola County in the Year of 1872.

Was a Resident of Cass City for Many Years and Built the First Elevator Here.

George S. Riker, an old and respected citizen of this village passed away Wednesday morning after a four weeks' illness. He was born in York State eighty years ago February 17, where he spent his younger days. Fifty-three years ago he was united in marriage at Clarkston to Miss Amanda Perry of Grand Blanc. He came to Tuscola in 1872 and has resided in this county ever since, having been a resident of Cass City for twenty years. He built the first elevator in Cass City and for a number of years conducted a thriving grain business until his failing health compelled him to retire from active life. He also followed the occupation of a miller and was one of the best known men in the village.

Besides his widow he leaves two children, John S. and Miss Alice, both of this place. He was a faithful member of the Baptist church of this place. The funeral services will be conducted this (Friday) afternoon at the family residence on Garfield avenue and Rev. Curria, an old friend of Mr. Riker, will officiate.

ODD FELLOWS' ANNIVERSARY.

Each year the Odd Fellow Lodges of this section of the state, under the organized title of the "Thumb Anniversary Association" hold an annual meeting on the anniversary of the order, and this year the meeting is to be held in Caro, the date being Tuesday, April 26.

The occasions are always made memorable by the large attendance, by the interest in the degree work, and the banquet which closes the occasion which will this year take the form of a free lunch from five to six o'clock.

The business meeting will be held at the court house at one o'clock, exemplification of Rebekah degree by Cass City lodge from one to three; exemplification of initiatory degree by the Cass City degree staff, from three to five.

In the evening there will be games and a social time at the Odd Fellow hall.—Tuscola County Advertiser.

Preparations are being made for a large attendance from Cass City and probably special arrangements will be made for the conveyance of those who attend.

MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD.

The school board held a special session last Tuesday evening. Among other business that of engaging teachers for the coming year occupied the attention of the board. Prof. Sinclair has been retained with an increased salary for another year. The professor has done excellent work during the present school year and the school board has expressed its appreciation in a substantial manner. From the present outlook several vacancies will soon occur among the grade teachers which will be filled by the board at their next regular meeting. The schools are in a prosperous condition and the members of the board are determined to keep up or even improve the present standard of the schools. The finances of the district are in excellent condition which enables the board to hire the best of talent in keeping with our growing educational interests.

PLANT A TREE THIS YEAR.

It is almost the season for shade tree and shrubbery planting and there is nothing which adds so much to the beauty of property as rows of handsome shade trees. It costs money to build good roads, but the planting of trees and shrubbery along the roadside costs only the effort on the part of the landowner. A row of maples or elms, or any of a half a dozen other reliable forest trees can be transplanted from the wood lot in the fall or spring and give only a small bit of attention to become valuable and attractive. Tree planting along the country roads is the easiest method of rural adornment, and also the cheapest. It is something to be encouraged. The farmer who plants the trees will leave landmarks which will serve to recall his memory long after the stone erected to his memory in the cemetery will have been grown over with moss.—Ex.

GREAT INTEREST IS MANIFESTED

At the Union Revival Meetings at the M. E. Church.

CHILDREN'S MEETING A SUCCESS

Rev. H. Sayles of Chicago in Charge. Men's Meeting Will Be Held Sunday Afternoon.

A series of union revival meetings have been in progress at the M. E. church this week, conducted by Rev. H. Sayles of Chicago. The opening meeting was held last Sunday evening and the church was filled to overflowing. Mr. Sayles uses a stereopticon during the song service which is conducted for half an hour each evening. The pictures are very good and are highly appreciated by all who attend. His methods of conducting revivals are systematic and his manner earnest.

On Tuesday afternoon a service for children was held in which the stereopticon played a prominent part. There were over 250 children present besides the older people. Another children's meeting will be held today. Services have been held each evening this week and large crowds have been in attendance. Great interest is being manifested and it is believed that Cass City is in the midst of one of the greatest revivals ever known in this vicinity.

A large chorus choir composed of people from all the churches in town furnishes plenty of good, enthusiastic singing, and Mr. Sayles' sermons are worth coming a long distance to hear. He will address the Evangelical Sunday school next Sunday morning and in the afternoon a men's meeting will be held in the M. E. church.

MERE MENTION.

Another railroad wreck occurred near Mayville Wednesday night when train No. 50 ran into the regular freight on the curve, wrecking and setting fire to two cars, but no one is reported injured.

A St. Clair man has invented a sugar beet pulper which it is claimed will pull three acres a day, thus saving the farmer $7 per acre. A stock company has been organized to manufacture the machine.

Yale has a lot of fast young people. During fire drill in the schools there the other day it took just ninety seconds for the scholars to pack up their books and get out of the building after the alarm was sounded.

Now that Ann's age has been thoroughly discussed an exchange springs this one: "A young woman goes up stairs at 7:45 to dress for the evening. She is 19 years old and weighs 102 pounds. State the wait of the man below."

Charles Perry, a wagonmaker, aged 70 years, died at Vassar Saturday after an illness of nearly five years. He had been confined to the house for three years with a complication of diseases and old age. He was born in Oswego, N. Y., and came to Tuscola county 33 years ago. He leaves no family.

A clever woman swindler has been making the Michigan towns taking subscriptions for a home paper and with every subscription it is understood that the subscriber is to get a set of dishes. She assesses every victim one dollar and three days afterward the aforesaid victim receives a receipt for the dollar signed "U. R. Dunagain."

D. E. Hubbell, editor of the Marquette Leader, has had a constant round of trouble since another Hubbell family moved to town. The other Hubbell gets all the prize pumpkins, cordwood and bushes that were meant for the editor, while the latter down trodden person must be content with telephone messages and unpaid bills that should go to the other Hubbell. The editor threatens a change.

Local tonsorialists have agreed upon an ironclad rule which puts an end to Sunday barbering so far as they are concerned. The new regulation went into effect the first of the week and hereafter hair and whiskers not presented for amputation before the glim is doused Saturday nights will have to continue to grow until the active operations of another secular day.—North Branch Gazette.

The large frame barn of A. J. Cook, a mile east of Valley Centre, was burned to the ground last Friday night. The fire broke out about 10 o'clock but was not discovered by the family till the whole structure was wrapped in flames. It was at first thought that the house which stands but a short distance from the barn, was also doomed, as the wind being from the north, fanned the cinders and flames toward the house. Neighbors seeing the fire hurried to the rescue, and by heroic efforts saved the other buildings.—Brown City Banner.

The Tuscola County Courier tells the following story of one of her citizens: "It is said that a certain Caro gentleman went to Detroit on Wednesday of last week and on the train scraped the acquaintance of an attractive lady. The said gentleman meant no harm, but the woman stuck to him and managed to keep him company as they walked up Jefferson avenue. At a certain point she managed to make a few slight hand passes and the Caroite found himself shy of a wallet containing sixty dollars. The woman fled but was pursued and finally dropped the pocket-book after extracting twenty dollars from it. She was later arrested."

COUNSEL TO THE BARDS.

Since mind's light shot across the Aegean Isles
And made plain Tempe a paradise of smiles;
Mong any people or in any clime
Have bards found rusty expectations a fitting
Theme for rhyme?
For months we stood on expectation's shore
For your harp's charge, but the fulfil breeze
Here
The same sharp music from your careless
Lips
As if you saw no more the stars, the sunset
Vales and pleasant lands.
Can trembling beam or rusty worn-out joint
Grown louder still when pierced by satire's Point?
If satire rules you, follow trodden ways—
Shoot not at basswood, but at those we praise!
To Scott's alone would I impute this blame:
Your sober muse but puts your light to Cease provoking them, hold to your pointed —jest—
Man's bards retained shall mark where his bones rest
Through future ages. Follow your proper lent
Lest that while stating you have reared shall fall ere life is spent.
Ah for the gift to guide the biased eye
From rolling junk to the distant purple sky!
To see the leafless branch and dream its May
And smell the perfume of the hawthorn
—spray
If this were mine, O life work well begun!
I'd throw my quill and close my eyes and dream of duty done.

School Notes

Henry Lacroix has re-entered school. Joe Clements visited the high school Friday. Miss Ora McKim acts as pianist this week. Harry Nolan is a new pupil in the first grade. Examinations are the principal factors this week. Everyone is looking forward to a good time next week. Russell Austin and Ethel Buchannan have entered the Kindergarten this week. Pearl Landon, Lucile Schenck and Herb Karr visited the high school Monday. There was no school in the grammar room this week owing to the illness of Miss Malam. Vida McConnell, Allen Ross, Ethel Karr and Charles Klump visited the high school Tuesday. Several in the arithmetic class are rejoicing over their marks this week. Did they get one hundred?

There was no school in Miss Beardsley's room Monday on account of a strong east wind keeping the temperature at sixty degrees. The most dangerous of the seasons, spring, is now here. Someone may ask why spring is dangerous. The reason is because the trees are leafing (leaving), the grass is shooting, the flowers have pistils and the bulrushes (are) out.

An exercise given to the rhetoric class was to translate in simple Saxon the following classical selection: "At a recent period in the annals of the human family there existed a diminutive feminine specimen of humanity, whose most conspicuous personal decoration was a capillary spiral appendage of minute dimensions. This descended perpendicularly upon her alabaster brow. At intervals when she was amiable inclined she produced upon her beholders the impression of being excessively agreeable, but when she abandoned herself to an unregenerate spirit, she exhibited such symptoms of depravity that her deportment became positively execrable." One of the exercises handled in read thus: "There was a little girl and she had a little curl hanging straight down upon her forehead; when she was good she was very good and when she was naughty she was horrid." Who, when listening to a child reciting the latter selection could imagine that it could be expressed in such elaborate terms?

S. S. HUNT BANQUET.

Several of the gentlemen friends of Spencer S. Hunt tendered him a banquet last evening at Gordon's Tavern, previous to his departure for Dundee, Oregon, his parental home. The following menu was served: Oysters, New York counts, pink and white cake, lady fingers, Manhattan sherbet, chocolate and mandarian, oranges, sliced ham, pickled tongue, chicken salad, rolls and stuffed olives, assorted cakes and wine, bon bons. Mr. Hill acted as toastmaster for the evening. C. W. McKenzie, F. C. Lee, H. Frutchey and N. P. Frost responded to toasts. After satisfying the inner man, the company retired to the hotel parlors where Landlord Kile, Frank Kile and Louis Usher entertained by singing several popular songs.

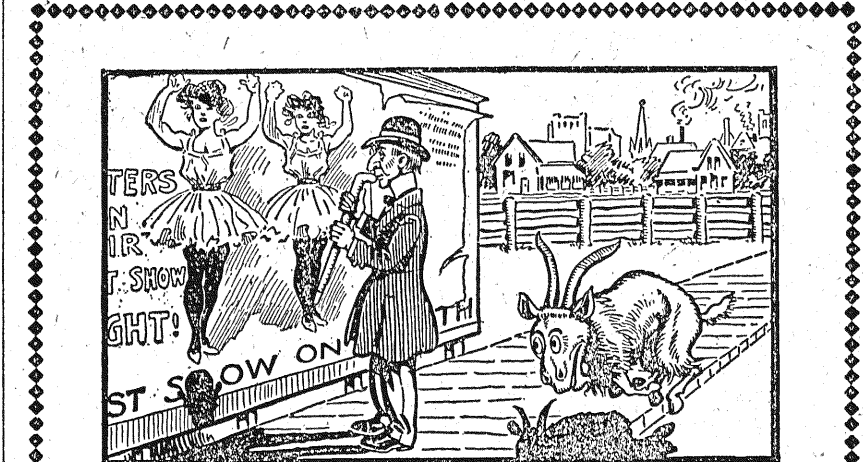

The following gentlemen were present: D. A. Striffler, N. P. Frost, T. Quinn, C. W. McKenzie, H. Frutchey, L. W. Usher, H. P. Lee, F. C. Lee, S. J. McKenzie, C. C. Collins, P. A. Schenck, W. C. Salgeon, A. Tindale and T. Hill.

A QUIET WEDDING.

A quiet wedding occurred Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fox of Wisner, when their daughter, Maude, was united in marriage to Guy Sansborn. Rev. S. Windrem of the M. P. church performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, after which a sumptuous wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Sansborn are well known in this vicinity and their many friends wish them ever happiness.
