TREMENDOUS SUCCESS.

The Cass City Fair Last Week the Best Held side of the amphitheater and judges' for Several Years.

The Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac close on Friday evening last proved trapeze performers, the "globeing the the most successful of any held for globe," the trained bears, acrobats, several years, if not since the organi zation of the association.

The weather from start to finish was everything that could be desired. There was no rain, not even a shower to lay the dust, which would have been welcome, and the temperature wss very mild.

The exhibits were good in every de partment, which goes to show that the interest in the Fair is not on the wane as some suppose. The horse stalls were well filled with fine specimens in the various classes. The cattle stalls were also well filled, with perhaps not as many Shorthorns as in other years, but a greater variety of breeds shown. Sheep and swine were shown in about the usual numbers and the specimens were fine throughout. The poultry tent was well filled with good birds, including many of the leading varieties, although the competition was not keen in many classes. The superinendent and exhibitors of poultry eemed to feel more than ever the need of a suitable poultry house and it is to be hoped that some arrangement may be made for its erection for another year.

In Agricultural and Floral Halls most of the departments were filled, although in potatoes, grains, plants and flowers the exhibits were far from being what they should be in quantity. Geo. Hunter, of Vassar, made a large display of aluminum ware, and there was a good display of cream separa tors, both in Agricultural Hall.

In Floral Hall, F. Lenzner and B. Sisson made a fine showing of planos and organs, which were used each forenoon in giving the free concerts by local talent. The Pontiac Music Co. also made an exhibit of phonographs, etc., and the Columbia Graphophones were shown by A. A. P. McDowell. H. P. Lee made a showing of furniture, and the ladies of the resbyterian Church offered for sale ine collection of souvenir shells. O. A. Stoll, the wholesale and retail florist, of Oxford, made an exhibit of plants and cut flowers, and was assisted by Mrs. Stoll in the distribution of a thousand carnations and roses with cards and small advertising mirrors. They sold many of the plants, a few being left at this office yet for sale.

The showing of fancy work was not extra large but the quality of the work was excellent. There was no school exhibit this year, but the drawings and paintings were quite numerous and gave evidence of considerable development along artistic lines. There was also considerable burnt work shown. bare and some steps should be taken to have a much better showing of flow ers and plants another year.

The dining hall was under tha management of David Gray and Mrs. E. well satisfied with the service given.

There were plenty of refreshment and lunch stands, pop corn and pea nut stalls, side shows, gaming tables, grape wagons, etc., etc.

The officials endeavored to shut off kinds of all gambling, but a gang of sharpers succeeded in working in their games for a short time on Thursday, through misrepresentation to the officers, and operated them long enough to separate a few "easy marks" from their hard-earned cash. The offenders were put off the ground on Thursday afternoon. There were a few others who worked gambling games on the sly, under cover of what appeared to be a fair game, their watchers and cappers taking care that they had warning of the approach of an officer or anyone who was likely to make trouble for them. We notice by our exchanges that the general tendency everywhere is to shut out such practices entirely, and our people should be willing to step right to the front and assist the officers in the prosecution of such offenders. We understand that those who play such games are just as liable

The special attractions furnished this year were both numerous and good. On Wednesday there was a ball game between the local team and people are finding out its value and a nine from Fairgrove, in which our boys won by a score of 12 to 3. Fairgrove put up Yelle and Buhl as a battery, while Duncanson and Graham did the battery work for our boys. New Angora Caps at A. A. Hitch- Cass City secured 13 hits while Fair-

THREE-MINUTE SPECIAL.

The attendance on Thursday thought to have been larger than on any day of any previous year. There was a continuous stream passing through the gates from shortly after nine o'clock in the forenoon until after two o'clock in the afternoon, so that the ticket sellers had their abilities thoroughly tested. The total receipts amounted to $2643.40, divided as

Echos of the Fair by an Exhibitor.

It would be far pleasanter for play ers and spectators and also safer if a wire fence was made from the back The center of Floral Hall was rather stop as far each way as 1st and 3rd base on the ball ground.

The Fair officers should take into consideration the need of a new poul try house with permanent coops and for the appearance and facilitating of Tanner and all who patronized it were judging have each variety together as near as possible.

While watching the working of numerous games on the ground it was noticable that most of the "suckers" who bit were old or middle aged—the younger boys not playing. It is singular how many are trying to get some thing for nothing. We saw several lose quite sums of money on a game where there was not a possible chance to win. They simply were giving the man their money.

We notice that prizes given are lower than many other fairs. Why could not this be remedied by enlarging the prize and then charging ten per cent entrance fee on all entries? There is no doubt but what the added amount in prizes would bring in more and better products if the premium was of value enough to be an object. Fifty cents added to each in poultry, twenty-five cents to agricultural and floral hall exhibits and about seventy-five cents to one dollar on stock would trance fee would not be much more expense to the society. to prosecution as the men who run time and tries the patience of the marshal and police. A good woven wire fence for a number of rods each stand might help.

While all the exhibitors in the poultry department were satisfied with the judging this season still would it not be better to have one who would be able to give an official score on birds, as quite often an exhibitor would like to have a score of his birds that are for sale or breeding. Birds are never scored at fall fairs, as it is impossible to get birds in condition at that time.

We heard of quite a number of articles that were not in the premium list entered in the agricultural hall and also some poultry and cattle that had no place in the list. This ought to be attended to at the meeting in January.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—The Peruna Drug Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of a widely known proprietary medicine, has brought suit in the Superior Court of the City of Chicago against the Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia, alleging that it has been damaged to the extent of $250,000 by a recent article in the Ladies' Home

The suit is based on a statement recently made in that journal that a testimonial as to the merit of the remedy manufactured by the plaintiff, alleged to have been given by Congressman George H. White of South Carolina, was fraudulent, denial from Mr. White that he ever gave such a testimonial also being printed.

The Peruna company declares that Congressman White did give the testimisunderstanding.

Matrimony vs. Female Labor. One objection to trained female la bor, says the Medical Press and Circulator, is that the service is liable to be disorganized by epidemics of matrimony among the employes. Nurses are by no means exempt from this weakness, and of late a disposition has shown itself in certain hospitals to discourage the admission of young women who are "engaged," on the ground that the fact of their future being thus mortgaged indisposes them to that self-abnegation and single minded devotion to duty which are held to constitute the stock in trade of those who propose to take up nursing as a profession. Some of the young women may prefer the independence of the single state, but the majority assuredly only await the opportunity to disqualify themselves for the nursing profession.

How They Told Time. Three boys were told to go and take the exact time by the town clock. The first came back and said: "It is 12 o'clock." He became in after life a bookseller. The second was more exact. He said it was three minutes after 12. He became a doctor. The third looked at the clock, found out how long it took him to walk back to the house, returned to the clock, then added the time of his walk to the time shown, and reported the result thus: "It is at this moment 12 hours, 10 minutes and 15 seconds." That boy came to distinction as Helmholtz, the scientist .- New York Tribune.

You Mave No Right to Suffer

From Constination, Bowel and Stomach Trouble

Q. What is the beginning of sickness?

A. Constipation.

A. Failure of the bowels to carry off the waste matter which lies in the alimentary canal where it decays and poisons the entire system. Eventually the results are death under the name of some other disease. Note the deaths from typhoid fever and appendicitis, stomach and bowel trouble at the present time.

Q. What causes Constipation?

A. Neglect to respond to the call of nature promptly. Lack of exercise. Excessive brain work. Mental emotion and improper dict. What are the results of neglected Consti-

A. Constipation causes more suffering than any other disease. It causes rheumatism, colds, revers, stomach, bowel, kidney, lung and heart troubles, etc. It is the one disease that starts all others. Indigestion, dyspepsia, diarrhea, loss of steep and strength are its symptoms—piles, appendicitis and fistula, are caused by Constipation. Its consequences are known to all physicians, but few sufferers realize their condition until it is too late. Women become confirmed invalids as a result of Constipation.

Q. Do physicians recognize this?

A. Yes. The first question your doctor asks you is "are you constipated?" That is the secret. Q. Can'it be cured?

A. Yès, with proper treatment. The common error is to resort to physics, such as pills, salts, minoral water, easter oil, injections, etc., every one of which is injurious. They weaken and increase the malady. You know this by your own experience.

A. Geta bottle of Mull's Grape Tonic at once.
Mull's Grape Tonic will positively cure Constipation and Stomach Trouble in the shortest space of time. No other remedy has before been known to cure Constipation positively and permanently. Q. What then should be done to cure it?

Q. What is Mull's Grape Tonic?

A. It is a Compound with 40 per cent of the juice of Concord Grapes. It exerts a peculiar strengthening, healing influence upon the intestines, so that they can do their work unaided. The process is gradual but sure. It is not a physic, but it cures Constipation, Dysentery, Stomach and Bowel Trouble. Having a rich, fruity grape flavor, it is pleasant to take. As a tonic it is unequalled, insuring the system against disease. It strengthens and builds up waste tissue.

AWFUL NEURALGIA

Mr. Porter Thought He Should Go Mad But Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Him.

"It seems like a miracle that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should have cured my neuralgia," said Mr. Porter. "They are certainly a marvelous medicine and I am always glad to recommend them. "For two years," he continued, "I had suffered almost unendurable pains in my head. They would start over my eyes and shoot upward most frequently, but they often spread over my face, and at times every part of my head and face would be full of agony. Sometimes the pains were so intense that I actually feared they would drive me mad. "My eyes ached constantly and there was always a burning sensation over my forehead, but the other pains varied, sometimes they were acute, and again they were dull and lingering. I could not sleep. My temper was irritable and I got no pleasure out of life. I tried remedy after remedy, but finding no help in any of them, I became a despairing man. Even when I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I had no great hope of a cure. "That was in December of 1903. To my surprise, a change in my condition ook place right away. The pains grew less intense and the acute attacks were further apart, as I kept on using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The improvement began with the first box, and when I had used six boxes I stopped. My cure was complete and has lasted ever since."

Mr. Charles H. Porter lives at Raymond, N. H. He is one of many grateful people who have found that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure diseases of the nerves that have stubbornly resisted every other remedy tried. Not only neuralgia, but sciatica, partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia yield to them. They are sold by all druggists, or may be obtained directly from the Dr Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

And many a tale is told
That makes a fellow to-day seem worse
Than the wonderful boy of old:
A regular nugget without alloy,
His master's pride and his parents' joy,
A big-brained, muscular, model boy,
A wonderful boy of gold.

He could jump as far as a kangaroo,
And run like a hunted hare;
Whatever he said was brave and true,
Whatever he did was fair.
The "sapping" that makes your senses swim,
And your hair stand up, and your eyes
grow dim,
Was a/kind of jolly good joke to him—
He did it with time to spare.

Whenever he bowled he gained a hat
By scattering wickets three;
He punished the bowling and kept his bat

As straight as a bat could be. Oh, the balls he slogged and the balls he snicked, And goals he saved and the goals he And the blustering bullies he fought and Were a marvelous sight to see!

And now he's a Judge in a tip-top wig,
A Colonel, or College Don,
This wonderful boy who started big
And never stopped getting on;
For no one ever could call a halt
To the boy who was born without a fault—
Though I take the tipical Though I take the tiniest grain of salt With the tale of the paragon.

But he kept a rule, if a thing seemed right—
I hope I may keep the same—
To go and do it with all his might
And hardly a thought of fame;
For it isn't the winning that makes a man,

But it's playing the game on the good old plan,
As hard and straight as a mortal can—
In fact it's playing the game.

THE BUMPER WHEAT CROP OF CANADA.

100 000,000 Bushels of Wheat from 4.000.000 Acres of Land.

In order to secure the attention of the reader to any special article that is brought before the public, it is often the custom to lead the reader on by the introduction of an interesting story until by one bold jump, he is introduced to the subject that it is desired shall be brought to his notice. This is not fair to the reader, and it is not the intention to do that in this possibilities for settlement. Could anything better be desired? Covering the entire country the same splendid reports are being received. The following dispatch was sent Thompson, Vice President of the > Ogilvie Milling Co., one of the most careful grain men in America: "Have just returned from covering several hundred miles of the crop district. I never saw anything like it in this country before. The average yield and quality far exceeds our earlier expectations. It is an immense crop. The weather is extremely favorable."

Up to three weeks ago it was Mr. Thompson's opinion that the crop would not reach general expectations. "F. W. Thompson sends another telegram from Winnipeg to-night, saying that his estimate of the wheat crop is now one hundred millions bushels. Before he went west he thought it would fall considerably

The moral of this story is that there should be no hesitation in making a decision if you wish to better your condition; or, if you have a family of boys that you wish to become settled on farms, it is a safe proposition to call upon the nearest authorized Canadian Government Agent, and get particulars as to most suitable districts and railway rates.

AGAINST THE PUBLIC INTEREST.

Overzealous Reformers Work for Law Against Proprietary Medicines.

"Schemes to diminish or destroy the sale of proprietary medicines are constantly being devised by interested parties. Every now and then some zealous reformer comes to the front with the demand for a law to require every package of proprietary medicine to be labeled with a printed statement of the 'formula,' showing just how it is manufactured. The millions of people who use proprietary medicines seem to be satisfied; but the man with a mania for regulating the affairs of other people or who has some personal interest to serve is the one who agitates the proposition. To a person who has never taken time to consider it, such a proposition may seem reasonable enough; yet it is in fact nothing more nor less than a scheme to compel the manufacturers to put their trade throughout the entire country at the mercy of every commercial pirate who might choose to flood the market with imitations of their goods. "Under such conditions the incentive for the original manufacturer to advertise his goods would be practically destroyed, for the money spent on advertising would inure mainly to the benefit of the pirates and imitators. Without advertising, the public would receive little information in regard to the medicine, and all future sales would be greatly impaired if not wholly destroyed. It is mainly hy judicious advertising that the knowledge of proprietary medicines is brought to the public. Nothing is more certain than that millions of peonle have found relief at a comparatively small expense by the use of some remedy first called to their notice through newspaper advertising. Why, then, should the manufacturer of a meritorious proprietary remedy be compelled by law to practically destroy his business as a condition of being allowed to carry it on? Yet that is exactly what these formula bills mean.-Exchange

SUFFERINGTHESUREPENALTY

Health Thus Lost Is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

More than likely you speak the same vords yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the fe-male organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, leucorrhœa.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result. The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Miss Kate McDonald, of Woodbridge, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "I think that a woman naturally dislikes to make her troubles known to the public, but restored health has meant so much to me that I cannot help from telling mine for the sake of other suffering women.

"For a long time I suffered untold agony with a uterine trouble and irregularities, which made me a physical wreck, and no one thought I would recover, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vexetable Compound has entirely cured me, and made me well and strong, and I feel it my duty to tell other suffering women what a splendid medicine it is."

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice-it is free and always helpful.

DANGER IN DELAY.

Kidney Diseases are too Dan gerous for People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills.

H. W Garrison, of 1121 Shiawassee street, Owosso, Mich., retired farmer, says: "For many years I suffered severely with my kidneys, the pains at times being frequently so severe I could scarcely get up or down from a chair. The kidney secretions were irregular, distressing and annoying. I had also spells of dizziness and had to hold onto something to keep from falling. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and procuring a box I used it. I felt benefited after a few doses. My wife was relieved of similar trouble by their use and we cannot speak in too high praise of this valuable Socialism is not a scheme or invention. It is the logical result of the operation of the economic laws.

Tariff tinkering cannot harm the trusts, because they can do away with nternational competition by making the J. K. Turner farm where Wesley the trusts international.

Anti-trust laws are useless and reactionary. If the big corporations are prevented from making open pools, all they have to do to get around the anti-trust law is to make secret pools. Freight rate legislation is futile Even if it lowered the freight rates, the trusts would simply put up their prices and rake in the extra dollars. There are more workers than jobs The workers compete for the jobs. The capitalists are therefore able to hire men for just enough wages to af ford them a bare subsistence. There is no remedy but Socialism. Labor saving machinery has immensely increased production. But the capitalists have reaped the benefit of the increase, because they own the industries. Socialism is the only

Capitalism is killing itself. It has constantly crowded people into the working class until now the census says that four-fifths of the gainfully occupied males are wage workers, and it is of course to their interest to destroy capitalism and introduce socialism, in order that they may secure the full value of their labor.

It is also to the interest of the average farmer to destroy capitalism and introduce Socialism. The trusts, the landlords and the loan companies pluck the farmer until he is little if my better off than a wage worker. The Socialist party is a rank and file party. Important questions with in it are settled by referendum vote of party. The members have the power to discharge any official at any time. The Socialist vote doubles about very two years.

Sanada's Two New Provinces.

Meanwhile, the prosperous development of Canada goes on at a rapid rate. This year has brought good crops and a great development of the grain and cattle interests of the Canadian Northwest. What has hitherto been unorganized territory lying between the provinces of Manitoba and British Columbia has now been given a changed status, and there have emerged from the temporary districts known as the Northwest Territories the two new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Each is of colossal limensions, and will become an im portant and notable self-governing ommonwealth of English-speaking men. Already Manitoba, with its thriving capital of Winnipeg, has reached the stage where it has become one of the well-favored portions of the earth. Alberta and Saskatchewan are of much greater area than Manitoba, and will probably in the near future outstrip the older province in population and wealth. Winnipeg has become a city of colleges and universi-

THE EQUALIZATION LAW NOT VALID, SAYS MR. BIRD.

THIS FACT WILL NOT HELP THE RAILROADS IN THEIR GREAT FIGHT.

SOME TROUBLES THE NEW TAX COMMISSION MUST WRES-TLE WITH.

The New Equalization Law. The new law instituting a three-man tax commission on Nov. 1 next, with powers to equalize assessments between the general and corporate properties of the state, will not hold water, according to the opinion of Attorney-General Bird, who says:

"I don't believe the constitutional amendment of 1900 gives the legislature power to confer equalizing powers on the state tax commission. The amendment to section 11, article 14. says: 'The legislature shall provide an uniform rule of taxation, for such property as shall be assessed by a state board of assessors, and the rate of taxation on such property shall be the rate which the state board of assessors shall ascertain and determine is the average rate levied upon other property upon which ad valorem

With the discovery by the grand ury that the monthly pay rolls of the Peoria, Ill., city schools contain hundreds of fictitious names, it now seems almost certain that the defalcations of Supt. #### STATE TAXES.

THE ENORMOUS INCREASE MADE: BY THE COMMISSION.

"Since the creation of the state tax commission in 1899 the local assessing: officers of Michigan have added to the rolls $607,475,822." Tax Commissioner Ira T. Sayre made that statement in jubilant tones at the Hotel Ste. Claire, Detroit, Weilnesday. The returns for the assessed valuation of the entire personalty and realty of Michigan for 1906 have just been compiled. They show the total assessed valuation of all real and personal property in Michigan to be $1,575,664,909. This is an increase in assessed property of $45,695,559 on the figures of 1904.

Tax Commissioner Sayre points out that the state tax is apportioned among the different counties on the basis of a total valuation in Michigan of $1,575,100,000, that being the figure fixed by the state board of equalization at its last meeting in 1901. "Since the creation of the tax commission," says Sayre, "the assessing officers themselves have thus shown that the total assessed valuation of the state is more than $500,000 in excess of the official figures of 1901.

"But the work is not all done. If the tax commission of the future can get all the property on the rolls, the total will easily reach $2,000,000,000. It will also be of interest to the taxpayer to note that if the expense budget had been kept down to the budgets of 1899 the tax rate would have shown a decrease of 40 per cent on the tax rate of six years ago."

The story printed all over the country a few days ago that Dr. John Alexander Dowie had been stricken with paralysis while en route to the new Zion city in Mexico made that eccentric star of the religious world furiously angry.

BY D. M. HENDERSON, J.P.

(Copyright, 1905, by Daily Story Pub. Co.) The apple of the Widow Stubb's eye was her boy Sam, a lean, freckled Perceiving this, Peter Blowsy and Silas Bliggs, captain and mate, respectively, of the "Salmouth Siren," vied with each other in making much of him. Over the bar of her tavern, "The Mariners' Rest," the widow remarked to the two that she was worried about Sam's health, whereupon the captain responded quickly that it was a shame to see such a bright, handsome face looking so peakish. The mate, outdone, energetically nodded his sympathy with this view. The captain, following up his advantage, recommended a certain tonic. Then the mate was seized by a great idea

'What this dear little feller needs is an ocean trip!" he said, impressive Ly. "I'll take him on our next un' Captain Blowsy willin', and I'll give him a father's care and bring him back with roses in his cheeks!'

"Delighted ter hev him!" the captain immediately responded, slapping his knee to show his appreciation of the plan, although he scowled darkly at his mate when that gentleman's back was towards him. Mrs. Stubbs after hesitating long, consented, and the many warm glances she bestowed upon Silas convinced him that he had made a ten-strike.

As was their custom, the rival suit ors met in the widow's parlor upon the Sunday evening following. Their vessel was to set sail the next morning, so each was anxious to unburden his heart to his hostess. When the clock's hands neared eleven, Silas, see ing that the captain had determined to sit him out, arose. With a malicious glance at his rival, he excused himself for not staying later. Since Samuelwhom he was to assume charge of that evening—was used to retiring early, he announced, he meant him while in his care to continue in the wise habit his good mother had taught him. As the wily mate had counted upon, the opportunity came while he was waiting at the door for the boy. Mrs. Stubbs was quite overcome when he stammered his petition, a condition which, while lamentable at the time, gave Silas blissful memories to carry with him, since during the moment of collapse the widow's plump form reposed in his arms. Recovering, she told Silas coyly that the memory of her dear Stubbs had not allowed her to contemplate a successor to him, but that she felt indeed honored at such an offer from such a person, and that she would try to see whether Stubbs place in her heart might not be shared by another. Silas, who had not expected a more favorable answer at that time, bade her adieu contentedly, feeling that the captain's persuasive powers could earn him no better answer than the one he secured, and that if he could retain possession of his trump card-Sam-he would have nothing to fear from the captain upon their return

Captain Blowsy.

The surly greeting he received from that gentleman the next morning went to confirm his belief.

The "Salmouth Siren" sailed, and after an uneventful voyage reached her destination and discharged her cargo. As they were about to weigh anchor for the return trip a boat rowed hastily out to the ship. rough-looking fellow came aboard and was ushered into the cabin. The curious Silas took his stand a few feet away from the open cabin skylight. The stranger was speaking. "My boat's off Blimley Cove!" were the first words Silas heard of phosphorous shone no longer. Then he staggered to the companionway and bawled for the mate. When, after an exasperating delay, Silas appeared, the skipper with an oath instructed him to set a straight course for Salmouth and went below. Two evenings later, shortly after his mate had gone ashore, Captain Blowsy entered his cabin, intending to don his shore clothes. He found upon the cabin table a huge bundle. Opening it curiously, he discovered a mass of unraveled hemp, fashioned into the shape of a woman's wig; a huge fishtail, made from two pieces of old canvas cut to the required shape and basted together, with an opening at its largest end large enough to admit a man's body, and a box of wet sulphur matches, labeled "The fosforous you seed!" With these articles was enclosed a note stating that the remainder of the "mermaid what looked after the 'Siren's' fortunes" could be found that evening at the "Mariner's Rest," where a full account of why and how she appeared could be heard. Silas had conquered; his discomfited rival sought liquid solace that evening in a strange tayern.

Silas, when Sam had been sent to bed, seeing that his highly-colored story of his rival's dastardly plot and its frustration had caused favoring winds, set sail for and reached the

"Butter is booming in Kurgan. Everybody who can get hold of a cow is either making butter himself or selling the milk to a dairy. And every drop of milk goes into the churn or into the separator. The children suffer. In the old days, when wheat was the staple product, each child had as much milk as it could drink. But now the fluid is too precious for domestic use, and the population live upon bread and tea. From hundreds of versts around butter comes pouring into Kurgan, and yet the exporters cannot get enough. The neasant arriving in town makes his first call at the office of the union. There he can see a list of the latest prices paid by each exporter. He naturally selects the highest, and then drives around to offer his butter. He will visit every firm in town before he will lower his price by a kopeck the pood. He demands cash payment and receives it. "Many of these peasants are men of comparative wealth. Several were pointed out to me as millionaires in rubles. The younger generation are displaying greater proclivities for spending than do their elders. They delight to drive smart and showy horses, and sometimes they will even pay a visit to Moscow and see life. The independence, intelligence and initiative of these Siberian peasants are doubtless due to the fact that they have never been private serfs. They were fixed upon the land, it is true, but the land was crown domain, and they could not be bought or sold. They never experienced the degrading and demoralizing domestic slavery to which the private seris were subjected."

Japanese Inflated Over Success. Travelers returning from Japan are generally of opinion that the mikado's subjects have become quite inflated over the result of their war with Russia. As one American puts it. "They are scratching their heads where the hat brim ought to be. A white man is a poor critter in their eyes. They seem to think that they can lick a German, an American or a Frenchman with the same ease which the white brethren, of the Russians in other countries so gleefully dilated upon in the beginning of the war."

When first followed the bird they are given to understand that saloons and race tracks may be frequented only at the peril of their positions. Every employee received a notice signed by Captain McCulloch as he appeared for his day's work. Similar notices were posted in the offices of the company and in the car barns.

Captain McCulloch's special notice follows:

If employees of this company choose t frequent saloons, either on or off duty, or attend the races or other gambling places, rooms or resorts, they are exercising a right which cannot be denied them, but they cannot remain in the service of the company.

"The primary object of the notice," said Captain McCulloch, "is to see that our men take the best care of the wives and children who are intrusted to their care each day.

"It has been my experience that the men who visit saloons and race tracks are not the proper men to care for the women and children who ride on street cars or handle other people's money. "The notice does not say that a visit to either of these places will mean instant dismissal. Latitude is given proper discretion. "I have simply told the men that in exercising this privilege they are doing a personal act, but that the company has the corresponding privilege of dispensing with their services if its own best interests and the best interests of its patrons seem to demand it."

"Every now and then," said a local haberdasher, "I fix up a window sign with a misspelled word or an er ror in grammar in it. Dozens of people drop in to tell me where it's wrong. Of course I act surprised and thank them. Then the chances are I sell them something." At a Kansas City theater there used to be an advertising curtain which bore the word "versus" spelled "verses." The word at tracted more comment than many of the acts did. It made people talk about the theater, and in the theatrical business to get the public to talking about things is the first step toward money making. So many people began to bother the house manager about the misspelled word, however, that he

"Weak Hearts." It is a harmful thing for any one to coddle his heart when there is no disease, and I think we (the medical profession) are far too instrumental in aiding and abetting this. We do far more good by pronouncing people sound, even if out of health, and thus sending them forth with renewed hope, than by keeping them in the chains of uncertainty and nervous dread, than which nothing can be more crushing to the utility of a life or more harmful to the chance of regaining health. I know of no symptoms of a "weak heart." Yet the use of the term leads either to a state of nervous dread from which recovery is most difficult or else to a life of luxurious idleness, which, 17th, 1869, she was united in marriage by the enervation it causes, is likely sooner or later to be precedent to the In the year 1880 she found the "Pearl end it would seek to avoid.-Dr. James

He Knew Too Much. A curious Malayan legend says that in olden times the waters surrounding Singapore were so infested with swordfish as to make it impossible for the fishermen to pursue their daily task. A boy advised the rajah to let down into the water freshly peeled stems of the banana plant, and, this being done, the fish imbedded their swords in the stems and were easily killed. The boy genius was considered a danger to the throne, and he was executed lest he grow up and become a conspirator.

Whistler's Idea of Hands.

Whistler, the artist, said: "I always use Irish models for hands, with their long, slender fingers and delightful articulations, the most beautiful hands in the world. I think Irish eyes are also the most beautiful. American girls' hands come next. English girls have red, coarse hands; the German girl has broad, flat hands, and the Spanish hand is full of blg veins."
